ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or by reason of the necessities of the vessel, or for such other reasons as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board the vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel shall the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (which inspection at all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deport such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b). Every fine as aliens seamen did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or fine he may be reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport alien seaman by such vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue expense to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the llata required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been tendered, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by section 30 of said Act of May 26, 1924, has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival llata containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the master of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival; to llata containing as much of such information as may be required by such officer, and subscribed by the master, and to answer such questions as may be put by such officer touching the right of any such alien to enter the United States, which information shall be recorded, all cases in which the vessel shall depart from one port of the United States to another port of the United States before reaching a foreign port, and in such cases the master shall be required to deliver such llata to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, but the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel shall not be relieved of any duty imposed by this section by reason of the performance of such duty by another.

The llata described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The llat of changes of alien members of the crew (Form 598) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a nonkmown "nonkmown," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of North America, adjacent islands, Panama, or Cuba, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention for the welfare of the vessel, or for such time as may be necessary to enable the master to comply with any requirement of law in connection with the departure of the vessel and the shipping of a crew, or pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor in the case of such alien seaman, or pending his removal, if ordered, but no such alien seaman shall be granted a permit to land temporarily as a member of the crew of any vessel unless in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor the public interest will not be prejudiced thereby.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if ordered by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines referred to in section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said act, shall have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board the vessel. The list of members of the crew (Form 632) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of members of the crew of alien seamen shall not be required to be inspected on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ... of the ....., do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place named per present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from application B, rule 7, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

..... Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this ..... day of ..... 19..

..... Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the Immigration Inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or changes of alien members of crews (Form 588) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is in a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival there a list containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on board the vessel, the nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman employed, the capacity in which each alien is employed, the date and place of his last entry into the United States, whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, how long he has resided therein, whether he has been connected with any criminal institution or institution for the care of the insane or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is in possession of money and how much, whether he is coming to the United States to join a relative, and if so, what relative, and whether he intends to become a citizen of the United States, and such other information regarding the history, character, and identity of such alien seaman as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the Secretary of Commerce. Such list shall be delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival before such vessel shall be admitted to entry, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer authorized to grant clearance papers until the master has delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the list of alien members of the crew required by this section to be delivered, or has satisfied the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that the list could not be delivered before the vessel left the last foreign port from which she departed, by reason of the fact that the crew of such vessel was shipped after the vessel left such port, and has delivered such list to the immigration officer in charge at the first port of arrival in the United States at which the vessel shall thereafter touch. Any master who refuses or neglects to deliver such list, or who refuses to permit any immigration officer to board such vessel for the purpose of examining the crew or any member thereof, or who refuses to detain any alien member of the crew when ordered so to do by such immigration officer, or who refuses to deliver to such immigration officer any such alien member of the crew when ordered so to do by such immigration officer, or who refuses to make the report and furnish the information required by this section in regard to the alien members of the crew, or who refuses to pay the tax imposed by this section, or who refuses to detain any such alien member of the crew when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum as the collector of customs may require, but not more than sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the conveyance employed by the master on which he arrived in the United States from a foreign port or place contiguous thereto, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel or a member, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to deliver such list, or to secure the detention of such alien seaman, or to pay the tax imposed by this section.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative unit prescribed by said section or to such prescribed by section 35 of said act remain open served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of any regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board the vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or to deliver to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $30 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination thereof by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the conveyance employed by the master on which he arrived in the United States from a foreign port or place contiguous thereto, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel or a member, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to deliver such list, or to secure the detention of such alien seaman, or to pay the tax imposed by this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or alien immigrants required to be delivered at the port or place of landing from any foreign vessel shall be made on the manifest.

Sec. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to which there is a head tax imposed by section 1 of the Act of February 20, 1907, there shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all aliens on board such vessel, whether destined to the United States or to some foreign country, which list or manifest shall state the full name, age, sex, and occupation of each alien, the country of which he is a citizen or subject, the country to which he belongs, the final destination of each alien who is not a citizen or subject of the United States, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether the transportation is paid in whole or in part by any person or corporation, whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long ago, whether he has a relative or friend in the United States, and if so, what relative or friend, and in what place, whether he is in possession of $50 in money, whether he is going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend and where, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or an institution for the care of the insane or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law or of all organized government, whether he is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining or teaching such disbelief in or opposition to organized government, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously made contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what the nature and conditions of such contract or agreement are, whether he has been deported and if so, how many times and the cause for each deportation, whether he is coming in pursuance of the request of any person or persons, company, partnership, or corporation in the United States to assist in the establishment of any trade, profession, or other occupation, whether he is coming with the intention to become a permanent resident of the United States, whether he is a skilled laborer or a member of any profession, and if so, what profession, whether he is married or single, the age, sex, nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each alien, whether he is a citizen of the United States, whether he has a ticket through to the place to which he is destined, the name and address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came, the name and complete address of the friend or relative in the United States to which he is going, whether he has been assisted to come by any society or individual, and if so, what society or individual, whether he has been in receipt of charity, and if so, what charity, whether he is coming as a result of any offer of employment, and if so, what employment, whether he has a ticket for passage to the place to which he is destined, whether he has been in the United States previously, and if so, when and how long he remained, whether he intends to return to the country whence he came, whether he has been in jail or prison, and if so, what for, whether he is a professional beggar, whether he is a person of good health, mentally and physically, and any additional information required by the Secretary of Labor relative to the right of any alien to enter the United States.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to deliver on board such vessel, upon arrival at the port of arrival from any foreign port or place, or upon departure from any port in the United States to any other port in the United States, a complete list or manifest of the persons on board such vessel, or any part thereof, in the manner and containing the information required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival from foreign ports, or by the immigration officer at the port of departure, as the case may be, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Fines shall be taken as liens against the vessel upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which the arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be sent reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or cause delivery of the outbound manifest by the immigration officer at the port of departure, and such vessel shall not depart from the United States until such fine is paid or a bond sufficient to cover such fine, or if a bond sufficient to cover such fine has been given, has been approved by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been fully paid, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to final prescribed by section 35 of said act hereof, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position which each alien seaman employed on board any alien vessel in the ninety-day period next preceding the date of arrival at the port of entry, and where and where they were respectively paid in the ninety-day period next preceding the date of arrival at the port of entry, and the intended future destination of each alien seaman who will be discharged in the port of arrival: or lists containing no names of such aliens shall be delivered in the port of arrival. Such lists shall be prepared in accordance with the instructions of the Secretary of Labor and shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before any such vessel shall be granted clearance papers. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall knowingly include therein the name of any alien employee who was not employed on board such vessel at the time of the departure of such vessel from a foreign port, or who shall knowingly or willfully report or cause to be reported the name of any alien employee who was employed on board such vessel at the time of the departure of such vessel from a foreign port as one not employed on board such vessel at the time of the departure of such vessel from a foreign port, or who shall knowingly or willfully report or cause to be reported the name of any alien employee who was employed on board such vessel at the time of the departure of such vessel from a foreign port as one not employed on board such vessel at the time of the departure of such vessel from a foreign port, or who shall knowingly or willfully report or cause to be reported the destination of any such alien employee to be other than the actual intended destination of such alien at the time of the departure of such vessel from a foreign port, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall not be liable to the penalties imposed by this section if he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he had no reasonable means of knowing the facts with respect to which the false statement was made or the information was withheld.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative has been received by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said act has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness of such alien seaman, or for the necessary detention of the sick or injured seaman, or pending the removal of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 28. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Front fines on alien seamen did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find after deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

I, [illegible] of the [illegible] do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from said port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 13 and 28, Act of May 26, 1924, as may appear below.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Recording to separate manifests numbering and the so-called contract class, whose alien head tax is liable to technical advance, and those whose alien do not bear head tax initials. The names of all members of a family shall appear, when the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Number on list).—Numbers should be entered in regular order, beginning with 1 each day.

Column 2 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 3 (Married or single).—The entry should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 4 (Age).—The entry should be the age at last birthday: as, for example: child, one year; child, 11 months; child, 11 days; person, 21 years; person, 65 years.

Column 5 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation: as, for example: laborer, farmer, clerk, servant, mason, carpenter, painter, tailor, shoemaker, baker, merchant, manufacturer, engineer, physician, surgeon, musician, author, actor, actress, dancer, clergyman, lawyer, teacher, student, scientist, etc. Do not use such indefinite designations as: laborer, worker, farmer, or other indefinite designations.

A distinction should be made between terms like laborer, clerk, and the like, and those which denote a trade or profession: as, for example: carpenter, mason, painter, tailor, shoemaker, printer, engraver, machinist, etc.

A laborer is one employed at general farm or other work, but who does not operate a farm.

Column 6 (Nationality).—Give the country to which each alien claims allegiance. Care should be taken to distinguish between persons born in Austria-Hungary, Russia, Turkey, and other countries in which persons of different races live under the same government. Thus, a native of Austria-Hungary may be a Hungarian, Austrian, Croatian, Slovak, Slovenian, Ruthenian, Polish, Jewish, or Bohemian, and should be described accordingly. Persons born in Canada should be described as Canadian, Canada (French), Canada (English), Canada (Indian), etc., according to the facts in each case. Persons born in Newfoundland should be described as Newfoundland, not English, Scotch, or Irish, unless they were born in England, Scotland, or Ireland. Persons born in Scotland should be described as Scotch, not British or English. Persons born in Ireland should be described as Irish, not British or English. Persons born in India should be described as East Indian, British India, or India, not Hindu, Hindoo, or Indian. Persons born in China should be described as Chinese, not Mongolian. Persons born in Turkey in Asia should be described as Turkish, Armenian, Syrian, Arabian, Kurdish, Turkish Hebrew, or Palestinian, according to the statements made. Persons born in Africa should be described as Egyptian, Abyssinian, Liberian, Morocco, Tripolitan, Zanzibar, Madagascan, Cape Colony, Natal, Transvaal, Orange River Colony, Rhodesian, Algerian, Tunisian, Senegambian, Nigerian, Kru, Portuguese East Africa, Portuguese West Africa, or native, as the case may be. Persons born in Australia should be described as Australian, New Zealand, Tasmanian, Fijian, or native, as the case may be. Persons born in the Philippine Islands should be described as Filipino, Philippine, Manila, Luzon, Visayan, Mindanao, Moro, Negrito, Igorrote, Tinguian, Bontoc Igorrote, Kalinga, Apayao, Ilongot, Mangyan, Tagbanua, Paragua, Batan, Sulu, Samal, Balabac, Tagakaolo, Kalagan, Kalamian Tagbanua, Cuyunon, Abai, Sebuano, Hiligaynon, Ilocano, Pangasinan, Cagayan, Zambal, Abaknon, Tingian, Isinai, Ibanag, Itawis, Bataan, Negrito, Ibilao, Midungao, Maguindanao, Maranao, Kalibugan, Tirurai, Bukidnon, Kiangan, Ifugao, Amganad, Isneg, Magahat, Arta, Tboli, Bagobo, Klata, Dulangan-Manobo, Tagacaolo, Kuwaray, Bilan, Sanguil, Ilianen, Mandaya, Mansaka, Balangingi, Libtad, Kinakaran, Subanun, Cotabato, Jolo, Tausug, Molbog, Palawan, Cuyonon, Calamian Tagbanua, Kagayanen, Sonsorol, Ngulu, Tobian, Merir, Pulo Anna, Sonsorol-Ngulu, Tobian-Merir, Pulo Anna, Koh, Aromdong, Palaw'an, Tagbanua, as the case may be. Persons born in the Hawaiian Islands should be described as Hawaiian, Part Hawaiian, Chinese, Japanese, Portuguese, Spanish, Porto Rican, Negro, Scotch, English, German, Russian, Filipino, Polish, Korean, or other, as the case may be. Persons born in the Island of Guam should be described as Guamanian or Chamorro. Persons born in Samoa should be described as Samoan, Part Samoan, or Tutuilan, as the case may be. Persons born in the Canal Zone should be described as Canal Zone, Panaman, Negro, West Indian, European, Asiatic, or other, as the case may be. Persons born in the Island of Porto Rico should be described as Porto Rican, Spanish, Negro, or other, as the case may be. Care should be taken to record the race or people and not the country of temporary residence. Thus, natives of Germany, Austria-Hungary, France, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Russia, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Turkey, India, Syria, Arabia, China, Japan, Mexico, Cuba, West Indies, Central America, South America, Europe, Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Samoa, Canada, Newfoundland, Guam, Panama, Canal Zone, Porto Rico, and other countries should not be described as Americans, Canadians, Cubans, Mexicans, Panamans, Canal Zone Americans, Porto Ricans, or Philippine Islanders, unless they have become naturalized citizens of the United States, Canada, Cuba, Mexico, Panama, Canal Zone, Porto Rico, or Philippine Islands, respectively.

Column 7 (Last permanent residence).—Give the country in which each alien has his last permanent residence. Do not use the word "America," "United States," "U. S.," "U. S. A.," or "New York" in this column. Use the name of the country, island, province, or state. Do not use the name of a city or town.

Column 8 (Name and complete address of nearest relative or friend in country whence alien came).—Give the name and complete address of the husband, wife, father, mother, grandparent, child, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, cousin, nephew, or niece of such alien. If no such relative lives, give name and address of friend in country whence alien came. Give name and address of relative or friend in country to which alien is going, if such country is other than last above mentioned.

Column 9 (Final destination).—The purpose is that the country to which the alien is destined may be definitely known. Do not use such indefinite terms as "Europe," "Asia," "Africa," "America," "New York," "Pennsylvania," "Philadelphia," "Chicago," "Pittsburgh," "Boston," "Cleveland," "Detroit," "Cincinnati," "Buffalo," "Rochester," "Syracuse," "Albany," "Troy," "Utica," "Schenectady," "Niagara Falls," "Scranton," "Wilkes-Barre," "Reading," "Harrisburg," "Erie," "Allentown," "Bethlehem," "Easton," "Lancaster," "Altoona," "Johnstown," "Pittsburgh," "Allegheny," "Homestead," "Braddock," "Duquesne," "McKeesport," "Wilmerding," "Pittsburg," "Pittsburgh," "Pittsburgh," "Pittsburgh

LIST OF RACES OR PEOPLES

"Race or people" is to be determined by the stock from which aliens spring and the language they speak. The original stock or blood shall be the basis of the classification, the mother tongue to be used only to assist in determining the original stock.

I, Kosaburo Sakakura, surgeon of the M.S. "HEIAN MARU" sailing thereon, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly swear that I have had 33 years experience as a Physician and Surgeon, and that I am entitled to practice as such by and under the authority of THE JAPANESE IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT, and that I have made a personal examination of each of the aliens named herein, and that the foregoing Lists or Manifest Sheets, 4 in number, accurately to the best of my knowledge and belief, are full, correct, and true in all particulars, relative to the mental and physical condition of each alien.

SURGEON

at SEATTLE

(Signature and title of immigrant inspector or other officer authorized to administer oaths)

NOTE.—If a witness calls with the vessel, the affidavit of verification shall be executed before an immigrant inspector at port of arrival, and such circumstance shall then appear.

If no surgeon sails with the vessel, the affidavit of verification shall be executed at the port of departure before some officer authorized to administer oaths.

LIST OR MANIFEST OF ALIEN PASSENGERS FOR THE UNITED

ALL ALIENS arriving at a port of continental United States from a foreign port or a port of the insular possessions of the United States, and all aliens arriving at a port of said insular possessions from a foreign port, a port of continental United States or another insular possession thereof, must fill out and sign Lists or Manifests at the time and place and in the manner hereinafter prescribed. Each list or manifest must be filled out by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel or aircraft bringing the aliens, or by the authorized agent of such master, agent, owner, or consignee. Each list or manifest must be filed with the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival at the time of the inspection of the aliens. Each list or manifest must be signed by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel or aircraft bringing the aliens, or by the authorized agent of such master, agent, owner, or consignee, and must be sworn to before the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival. Each list or manifest must be filled out by typewriter or by pen and ink, and must be complete before the inspection of any of the aliens commences. Each list or manifest must be prepared on the printed forms supplied by the Immigration and Naturalization Service, and must contain the information called for by the headings of the several columns. Each list or manifest must contain the names of all aliens, including children, even though they be infants in arms. Each list or manifest must be numbered consecutively, beginning with the number 1 for the first alien named in each list or manifest. Each list or manifest must be kept free from erasures, interlineations, and blots. Each list or manifest must be closed with the last name on the last page, and the words "Last name on this list" must be written immediately following the last name. If no aliens are to be listed, the words "No aliens to be listed" must be written on the first page of the list.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Records of separate manifests immigrants and nonimmigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924: and also records of passengers who do not pass such initials. The names of all members of the so-called contract class, whose every stage pass the initials of technical advisers, and whose movements are also do not pass such initials. The names of all members of all nonpera to a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet upon the first travel in the same class: but if they travel in different classes, appropriate close references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 3 (Married or single).—The symbol should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 4 (Occupation of employ).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation of each alien arriving, as, for example: Cotton, carpenter, agriculturist, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, planter, bookkeeper, wool botcher, wool thrower, etc., but not simply as engineer, botcher, wool sorter, or other indefinite designations.

A distinction should be made between farmers and farm laborers, respectively as to whether the former owns the farm he operates or is employed by another to manage it, and whether the latter works on a farm for the farm owner or operates it.

A farmer laborer is one who works on a farm for the farm owner who operates it.

Strikeout the words not applicable.

Seamanship compulsory should make this distinction on the manifest, and correction should be made. If an alien is unable to read or write, insert "read" or "write," as the case may be.

Column 5 (Nationality).—The entry should state the nationality of the alien, as English, Scotch, Irish, German, French, Spanish, Italian (Northern or Southern), Russian (Finn or Hebrew), Polish, Portuguese, Swedish, Norwegian, Danish, Dutch, Flemish, Belgian, Swiss, Turkish, Armenian (Syrian), Greek, Bulgarian, Servian, Roumanian, Japanese, Chinese, Hindu, Korean, Philippine (Filipino), Mexican, West Indian (Cuban, Haitian, Dominican, Jamaican, Porto Rican, Virgin Islander, Barbadian, etc.), Central American (Guatemalan, Honduran, Salvadorian, Nicaraguan, Costa Rican, Panaman), South American (Colombian, Venezuelan, Peruvian, Ecuadorian, Bolivian, Chilean, Brazilian, Uruguayan, Argentinian), Australian, New Zealander, Pacific Islander, West Indian, Asiatic Indian, Egyptian, Abyssinian (Ethiopian), Liberian, South African Union, or other African, according to the country of which the alien claims nationality, whether native, naturalized, or citizen by derivation. Distinctions as to race or people are given in the following table:

COUNTRY	RACE OR PEOPLE
Russia	Russian, Finn, Hebrew, Polish, Lithuanian, Esthonian, Lett, Georgian
France	French, Basque, Breton, Alsatian, Provençal
Spain	Spanish, Basque, Catalonian, Andalusian, Castilian, Gallician
Portugal	Portuguese
Italy	Italian (Northern or Southern), Hebrew
Greece	Greek
Scandinavian Peninsula	Norwegian, Swedish, Finn, Lapp
Other countries	Of the race or people to which they belong

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject, country to just determine residence, and country of birth.

"France" should under the head of country does not mean "French," by race or people, and similarly "French" should under the head of race or people does not mean "France," by country. An Irish, German, or Hebrew alien by race might properly come from any one of many countries, including France, Switzerland, or any other country. If the alien claims nationality by reason of birth in a country to which he does not owe allegiance, the country of birth should be entered.

CUBA

The term "Cuban" refers to the Cuban people (not Negroes).

WEST INDIAN

"West Indian" refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Cuban or Negroes.

BRITISH AMERICAN

"British American" refers to the people of Central and South America of British descent.

"Negro" refers to the African (black) imported commercially from Cape of other climate of the West Indies, North or South America, Europe, or Africa. Any alien mixture of blood of the African (black) should be classified under this heading.

Column 11 (Place of birth).—The State, province, or district of birth should be shown in addition to the city or town.

Column 12 (Last permanent residence).—Every alien should state the country in which he had his last permanent residence. If he does not declare a permanent residence in the country where born, enter "Same."

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according to separate manifests immigrants and non-immigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924: and also according to separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called tourist class, whose names need not be included in a technical manifest, and those whose names do not need such initials. The manner in which information is to be given in the manifest under the various headings is explained in the following instructions. Each person must be listed in the manifest under the proper letter of the alphabet according to the surname of the alien, whether traveling in the same class: and if they travel in different classes, appropriate entries should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Number of order.)—Consecutive numbers should be entered in this column, beginning with 1 for the first person listed on each sheet and continuing in order.

Column 2 (Last name first, then the given name or initials.)—Enter surname (family name) of each alien, followed by the given name or initials. Titles, such as Mr., Mrs., Miss, Dr., Rev., Prof., Baron, Count, Countess, Lord, Lady, Sir, etc., should be omitted. Initials should be followed by periods. Examples: Smith, Mary A.; Brown, Wm. H.; Jones, Thos. J., Rev.; Robinson, Jno., Jr.; Taylor, Jas. W., M.D.; Wood, Richard, Prof.; Thompson, Chas. H., Mrs.; Williams, Sarah E., Miss; Jackson, Geo. R., Count; Smith, Mary, Countess; Brown, Jno., Baron; Jones, Thos., Sir; Robinson, Jas., Lord; Taylor, Richard, Lady.

Column 4 (Age.)—The words in this column should be extended in every case to the full number of years. Thus a child one year old should be entered 1 year, not 1 yrs.

Column 6 (Married or single.)—The entry should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 7 (Calling or occupation.)—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien person, as: Farmer, laborer, servant, clerk, miner, engineer, carpenter, mason, painter, tailor, seamstress, milliner, dressmaker, merchant, peddler, shoemaker, baker, butcher, cook, waiter, etc., but not vague terms, such as laborer, worker, manufacturer, dealer, agent, or clerk, unless followed by a specification of the line of business.

A distinction should be made between primary terms and terms indicating only the degree of skill, as follows:

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the farm owner otherwise.

A gardener is one who cultivates flowers, fruits, or vegetables commercially or as a means of livelihood, and not merely for pleasure.

A laborer is one who performs unskilled manual labor of any kind, usually requiring no technical training or experience.

Column 8 (Able to read and write.)—The entries in this column should indicate whether the following questions are answered in the affirmative or negative: "Can this person read?" "Can this person write?" If the answer to either question is in the affirmative, the word "Yes" should be entered in the proper column; if in the negative, the word "No" should be entered.

Column 9 (Race or people.)—See list of races entitled on back of this sheet.

The entry should show the race to which an alien belongs, as Irish, English, Scottish, German, French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch, Flemish, Swedish, Norwegian, Danish, Russian, Finnish, Polish, Bohemian, Slovak, Moravian, Croatian, Servian, Bulgarian, Dalmatian, Greek, Lithuanian, Magyar, Roumanian, Hebrew, Syrian, Turkish, Armenian, Japanese, Chinese, Hindu, East Indian, Korean, Filipino, Mexican, Cuban, West Indian, Scandinavian, Negro, Indian, Ethiopian, Australian, New Zealander, Pacific Islander, Arabian, Egyptian, Abyssinian, Liberian, Moorish, Berber, Basque, Welsh, Scotch, Manx, Cornish, Icelandic, Canadian (French), Canadian (other), Cuban, Porto Rican, Haitian, Santo Domingan, Jamaican, Barbadian, Trinidadian, Guianese, Brazilian, Chilean, Colombian, Costa Rican, Guatemalan, Honduran, Nicaraguan, Panamanian, Salvadorian, Venezuelan, Uruguayan, Paraguayan, Peruvian, Ecuadorian, Bolivian, Turanian, Kirghiz, Afghan, Kurd, Arab, Persian, Siamese, Burmese, Malay, Polynesian, Samoan, Tahitian, Maori, Australian, Tasmanian, Algerian, Tunis

AFFIDAVIT TO ACCOMPANY PETITION

I, Yoshitsune Sakakura, surgeon of the M.S. "HAIAN MARU." sailing therewith, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly declare that I have had 22 years experience as a Physician and Surgeon, and that I am entitled to practice as such by and under the authority of THE JAPANESE IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT and that I have made a personal examination of each of the aliens named herein, and that the foregoing Lists or Manifest Sheets, numbered 1 to 1, accordingly to the best of my knowledge and belief, are full, correct, and true in all particulars, relative to the mental and physical condition of such aliens.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Recording on separate manifests immigrants and nonimmigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also recording on separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and those who are not. Aliens who are not literate in the English language and those who have been previously admitted to the United States and who are returning from a temporary visit abroad should not be recorded on the same manifest sheet when they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Head-tax status).—Nonimmigrants should be entered in this column. The space is for use of Government officials only.

Column 2 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 3 (Married or single).—The entry should be M (married), S (single), Wd (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 4 (Age).—The entry should be expressed in years of age. Infants under one year of age should be entered "1/12" if under one month old, "2/12" if one month old and under two months old, etc.

Column 5 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as, for example: Chief engineer, mechanical engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, farmer, laborer, agriculturist, stock raiser, laborer, coal miner, woolen factory operative, cotton factory operative, clerk, etc., but not vaguely as laborer, servant, housework, or without occupation.

A distinction should be made between terms that mean importer, exporter, dealer, and merchant, as follows:

A laborer is one who works on a farm for the man who operates it.

Secondary occupations should make the distinction on the manifest, but correct designations should be made, if necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of the alien arriving.

Column 6 (Able to read and write).—Write opposite the individual's name the following descriptions: "Read and write language [or] if he can read in a language other than English but cannot write it, then in addition to the above he should be marked "R." If he cannot read or write any language, then he should be marked "N." In transcribing this question from the manifest to the immigrant's identification card, the wording to be used is given in the following question from the immigrant's card:

Column 7 (Nationality).—Question 7 should be answered to show the nationality of which citizen or subject, country to which last permanent residence, and country of birth, as follows:

The entry should be made as nearly as possible as follows:

Column 10 (Race or people).—See list 10 among 20 pack of this sheet.

The entry should be made as nearly as possible in accordance with the country of which citizen or subject, country to which last permanently resident, and country of birth. For instance, "French" should be used to describe a person born in this country, but "French" should not be used to describe a person born in Canada, although the latter may be a citizen of France. Similarly "English" should be used to describe persons born in England, Scotland, or Wales, but "British" should not be used to describe persons born in Canada, although the latter may be a citizen of England, Scotland, or Wales. Specific nationality should be given, as "Canadian (French)," "Canadian (English)," "Irish Free State," "Irish," "Scotch," "Welsh," "Cornish," "Manx," "Australian," "New Zealand," "Tasmanian," "Polynesian," "Hawaiian," "Cuban," "Porto Rican," "Mexican," "Central American," "South American," "West Indian," "Arabian," "Persian," "Afghan," "Hindu," "Chinese," "Japanese," "Korean," "Siamese," "Burmese," "Malay," "Filipino," "Indian (Hindu, Hindoo)," "Egyptian," "Palestinian," "Syrian," "Armenian," "Greek," "Russian," "Finnish," "Lithuanian," "Polish," "Turkish," "Croatian," "Servian," "Dalmatian," "Carpathian Russian," "Bohemian," "Moravian," "Slovak," "Hungarian," "Rumanian," "Portuguese," "German," "French," "Dutch," "Flemish," "Belgian," "Swiss," "Italian," "Spanish," "Canadian," "Scandinavian," "Norwegian," "Swedish," "Danish," "Icelandic," "Liberian," "Negro," "Mulatto," "Albino," "Jugo-Slavian," "Montenegrin," "Slovenian," "Ruthenian," "Basque," "Maltese," "Moorish," "Berber," "Kabyle," "Georgian," "Algerian," "Tunisian," "Egyptian," "Abyssinian," "Liberian," "Angolese," "Kru," "Fanti," "Ashanti," "Moshi," "Zulu," "Bantu," "Barotse," "Matabele," "Portuguese East African," "Rhodesian," "Transvaal," "Kaffir," "Hottentot," "Bushman," "Australian," "Tasmanian," "New Zealander," "Maori," "Tahitian," "Hawaiian," "Samoan," "Fijian," "Melanesian," "Micronesian," "Philippine," "Javanese," "Sumatran," "Siamese," "Burmese," "Malay," "Chinese," "Japanese," "Korean," "Aleut," "Eskimo," "Indian," "Mexican," "Central American," "South American," "West Indian," "Arabian," "Persian," "Afghan," "Hindu

AFFIDAVIT TO ACCOMPANY

I, Joseph Paul Mason, surgeon of the U.S.S. "HELAN MARU," sailing thereon, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly declare, that I have had 22 years' experience as a Physician and Surgeon, and that I am entitled to practice as such by and under the authority of THE JAPANESE IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT, and that I have made a personal examination of each of the aliens named hereon, and that the foregoing Lists to Manifest Sheets, 68 in number, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, are full, correct, and true in all particulars, relative to the mental and physical condition of such aliens.

Sworn to before me this 17th day of June, 1914, at SEATTLE

NOTE.—If unable to sign the oath, the alien must be asked on the manifest paper the affidavit is executed.

If an alien under the age of 16 years is accompanied by a parent, guardian, or friend, the affidavit may be executed before the inspector at the port of departure by the person having the child in charge, and the fact noted on the manifest.

LIST OR MANIFEST OF ALIEN PASSENGERS FOR THE UNITED

ALL ALIENS arriving at a port of entry into the United States from a foreign port or a port in the non-contiguous territory of the United States, or at a port in such territory from a foreign port or a port in any other non-contiguous territory of the United States, or at a port in such territory from a port in the United States, must be listed on this manifest, whether they are destined to the United States or not. Aliens in transit through the United States must be listed on a separate manifest.

Name—Each and every passenger must be set down. Whether a person who resides in or who is merely passing through the country is a subject of the Government of the United States or of any other country, he must be entered. Write the name of wife, children, servants, etc., as well as of the head of the family. Do not omit infants.

Age—Write the age of every person, and if under one year, state whether in months or days.

Sex—Write "male" or "female."

Married or single—Write "married" or "single" as the case may be.

Calling or occupation—Write the occupation of every person, whether male or female, over 10 years of age. If a child, write "child." If without occupation, write "none." Do not use indefinite terms, such as "laborer," "clerk," "manufacturer," or "dealer," unless followed by a definite statement of the particular kind of labor performed, such as "cotton-mill laborer," "shoe clerk," "cloth manufacturer," or "coal dealer."

Nationality (Country to which he belongs)—Write the country to which each person belongs, whether native or naturalized. Do not write "American" unless the person is a citizen of the United States.

Last permanent residence (Country and town)—Write the country and town in which each person has had a permanent home for one year or more immediately preceding embarkation for the United States. Do not write "America" or "United States" unless the person has had a permanent home in the United States for one year or more immediately preceding embarkation for the United States.

Intending permanent residence in U.S.A.—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be, to show whether each person intends to become a permanent resident of the United States.

Ever been in U.S.A. before—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be, to show whether each person has ever been in the United States before.

Ever been refused admission to U.S.A.—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be, to show whether each person has ever been refused admission to the United States.

Ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be, to show whether each person has ever been in prison or in an almshouse or has been supported by charity.

Polygamist—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be, to show whether each person is a polygamist, that is, has more than one wife.

Anarchist—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be, to show whether each person is an anarchist.

Coming for any immoral purpose—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be, to show whether each person is coming to the United States for any immoral purpose.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Recording or separate manifests immediately and additionally, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1891: but also recording those aliens traveling in the third class but re-called foreign class, whose alien past the initial of reception entirely, but those who are not part such initial. The names of all members of a family shall appear one after the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class: but if they travel in different classes, appropriate entries should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Family name).—Surname of each alien to be entered in full in this column. The surname is the name at birth of the father or husband, the father's name of the legal guardian of minor children, or the husband's name of a married woman.

Column 2 (Given names).—The given names in full should be entered. If none (none).

Column 3 (Married or single).—The word married should be entered as (m), single as (s), widowed as (w), or divorced as (d).

Column 4 (Age).—The years in full should be entered. If under one year, the number of months should be given.

Column 5 (Sex).—The given should be entered. M (male) or F (female).

Column 6 (Color of race).—The color should be entered as white, black, mulatto, Chinese, Japanese, Hindu, East Indian, Korean, Filipino, Indian, Negro, Polynesian, or other appropriate designation.

Column 7 (Calling or occupation).—The given should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession to which each alien belongs, as for example: Clerk, carpenter, cook, dressmaker, engineer, farmer, fisherman, housewife, laborer, lawyer, machinist, miner, merchant, painter, physician, sailor, seamstress, servant, shoemaker, stonemason, tailor, tailoress, teacher, tinner, weaver, wheelwright, or other definite designation.

A dwelling should be made between females, not imported, or intended to remain permanently in the United States.

A female imported or one who comes for the purpose of prostitution or for any other immoral purpose.

A person who is coming in pursuance of a previous contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States.

A person who has been deported, unless such person may lawfully come during the period within one year after deportation.

Persons likely to become a public charge.

Persons who have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who admit the commission of such crime, unless they have been pardoned or have undergone the punishment imposed.

Polygamists, or persons who practice polygamy or believe in or advocate the practice of polygamy.

Anarchists, or persons who believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or the assassination of public officials.

Persons coming to perform any act prejudicial to the public interest or dangerous to the public safety.

Persons likely to become a charge upon the public funds.

Persons who have come into the United States in violation of any law regulating immigration.

Persons who are not admissible under any existing law or treaty.

Column 8 (Able to read or write).—Write read if the alien can read any language, or write if he can write any language, but if he can neither read nor write write no.

Column 9 (Nationality).—Give the country of which the alien is a native or citizen or subject.

Column 10 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet.

Special attention should be paid to the classification between race and the country of which alien is a native or citizen or subject. For instance, a native of England may belong to the Anglo-Saxon race, but a citizen of Ireland may belong to the Celtic race, and a native of Germany may belong to the Hebrew race. Under no circumstances should the general term "French" appearing under that head be used to race or people such as "French Canadian," "French Negro," "French Hebrew," "French Bohemian," and similarly IMPORTANT NOTICE.—1. Great care should be taken not to place on this list the name of any passenger who was not born in the United States or who has not taken out final naturalization papers.

2. Where one or more members of a family are aliens, the names of all such members should be recorded next after the alien naturalized. Suitable notation may be made next such names opposite the names of those members who claim citizenship.

3. Failure to observe the terms of this notice may result in delay to passengers at the port of arrival.

4. Lies on this form only United States citizens or citizens of an insular possession of the United States.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers disembark for the United States. Recording or separate manifests immediately and mechanically, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924: data also recording or separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called tourist class, whose every need for the initiate of reclassified sphere; and those whose every need do not need such initiate. The names of all members of a family shall appear next after each other that they travel in the same class: and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 2 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 3 (Married or single).—The word should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed) or D (divorced).

Column 4 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as for example: clerk, mason, carpenter, seamstress, tailor, shoemaker, farmer, laborer, etc., but not simply as "engineer," "driver," "manufacturer," or other indefinite designations.

A distinction should be made between primary terms and terms importing, regardless of the amount of money owned, as follows:

A farmer is one who works on a farm for the man who operates it.

Steamship companies should make this distinction on the manifests, but correction should be made by the Inspector if necessary, by inspection during the personal examination of alien arriving.

Column 5 (Age).—Age last birthday. [o] passengers [o] it examines it [illegible] under [illegible] one year should be stated. If a child is under [illegible] to state at what fraction of a year.

Column 6 (Nationality).—Designation of country to which the alien is a citizen or subject.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject, country of last permanent residence, and country of birth, because to aliens of certain races, as for instance, "French," "African," "Spanish," "Portuguese," "Italian," "Irish," "Scotch," "English," "German," or Hebrew alien yet race might prevent them from being admitted to the United States, while people of another race or people does not. An "African" or "Negro" alien may be a citizen of the United States, or a subject of Great Britain, France, Germany, Switzerland, or any other country. In alien connection the following classifications should be carefully observed:

GUAM

The term "Guam" refers to the Guam people (not Negros).

NEW INDIAN

"West Indian" refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Cuban or Negro.

PANAMA CANALIAN

"Panama Canalian" refers to the people of Central and South American or Spanish descent.

CUBAN

"Negro" refers to the African (black) whether coming from Cuba or other islands of the West Indies. North or South American, Europe or Africa. Any alien with admixture of blood of the African (black) should be classified under the heading

Column 12 (Last document).—Enter number of document presented.—Enter letter "Q" if the alien is a quota immigrant, or "NQ" if a non-quota immigrant. Also, if applicable, to designate whether a "W" or "V" visa was issued, and if so, the number and date of issue of the visa. Also, if Reentry Permit; and the date and place of last admission into the United States, as a section 4 (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i), (j), (k), (l), (m), (n), (o), (p), (q), (r), (s), AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ______________ MASTER of the M.S. "HEIAN MARU", from KOBE, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly SWEAR that I have caused the surgeon of said vessel sailing therewith, or the surgeon employed by the owners thereof, to make a physical and mental examination of each and all of the aliens named in the foregoing Lists or Manifest Sheets, 1 in number, and that from the report of said surgeon and from my own investigation, I believe that no one of said aliens is of any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States by laws regulating immigration, and that also, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, the information in said Lists or Manifests concerning each of said aliens named therein is correct and true in every respect.

MASTER ______________ Officer.

Immigrant Inspector.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, recording on separate manifests immigrants and nonimmigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also recording on separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called tourist class, whose visas bear the initials of Technical Advisers, and those whose visas do not bear such initials. The names of all members of a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 4 (Age).—The answer in this column should be expressed in years or months, the latter applying only to those under 1 year of age.

Column 6 (Married or single).—The answer should be M (married), S (single), Wd (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 7 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arrival, as, for example: Civil engineer, stationary engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, brass polisher, steel polisher, iron molder, wood turner, etc., and not simply as engineer, polisher, molder, turner, or other indefinite designations.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the man who operates it.

Steamship companies should make this distinction on the manifests, and corrections should be made, if necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of alien arrivals.

Column 8 (Able to read and write).—This column is subdivided and contains the following question: "Read what language [or, if exemption is claimed, upon what ground]." In answering this question the language or dialect the alien is able to read should be stated. If alien is unable to read and claims exemption from the reading requirement, the ground for such exemption should be given.

Column 9 (Nationality).—Question 9 should be construed to mean the country of which alien is a citizen or subject.

Column 10 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet. The entry should show the race or people as given in said list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject, country of last permanent residence, and country of birth, and manifests should be carefully revised by inspectors in this regard. For instance, "France" appearing under the head of country does not mean "French" by race or people, and, similarly "French" appearing under the head of race or people does not mean "France" by country. An Irish, German, or Hebrew alien by race might properly come under the heading of England, Switzerland, or any other country. In this connection the following distinctions should be especially observed:

CUBAN

The term "Cuban" refers to the Cuban people (not Negroes).

WEST INDIAN

"West Indian" refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Cubans or Negroes.

SPANISH AMERICAN

"Spanish American" refers to the people of Central and South America of Spanish descent.

AFRICAN (BLACK)

"African (black)" refers to the African Negro, whether coming from Cuba or other islands of the West Indies, North or South America, Europe, or Africa. Any alien with admixture of blood of the African Negro should be classified under this heading.

ITALIAN (NORTH)

The people who are native to the basin of the River Po in northern Italy (i. e., compartments of Piedmont, Lombardy, Venetia, and Emelia) and their descendants, whether residing in Italy, Switzerland, Austria, or any other country, should be classed as "Italian (north)." Most of these people speak a Gallic dialect of the Italian language.

ITALIAN (SOUTH)

The people who are native to that portion of Italy south of the basin of the River Po (i. e., compartments of Liguria, Tuscany, the Marches, Umbria, Rome, the Abruzzi and Molise, Campania, Apulia, Basilicata, Calabria, Sicily, and Sardinia) and their descendants should be classed as "Italian (south)."

Column 12 (Serial number of document presented).—Prefix serial number of document with abbreviation "QIV," "NQIV," "PV," or "RP," as appropriate, to designate whether it is Quota Immigration Visa, Nonquota Immigration Visa, Passport Visa, or Reentry Permit; and also state section of the Immigration Act of 1924 involved, as Section 4 (a).

Column 13.—This question has reference to the place and date of issue of the document described in column 12, and is self-explanatory.

Column 14 (Verifications of landing, etc.).—Steamship lines should make no entries in this column. The space is for use of Government officials only.

Column 15 (Last permanent residence).—Actual or an intended residence of one year shall constitute permanent residence. The last country in which alien resided with the intention of remaining one year or more shall be the last permanent residence regardless of length of actual residence therein. The entries in column 15 should show the country, city or town, state, province, or district of last permanent residence. It is important for statistical purposes that steamship companies accurately show country of last permanent residence independent of country of temporary residence, country of birth, nationality, or race.

Country of last permanent residence of aliens who are permanent residents of the United States and are returning from a visit abroad should be recorded "United States."

Column 17 (Name and complete address of nearest relative or friend in country whence alien came).—The entry should give name, exact relationship, and complete address of such relative. If no such relative living, give name and address of friend. If no such relative or friend living in country whence alien came, give name and address of relative or friend in country of which citizen or subject, if such country is other than that whence alien came. Address should include street and number.

Column 18 (Final destination).—The answer to this question shall show the intended future permanent residence. An intended residence of one year shall constitute permanent residence. The entry should show definitely the place (city or town) of intended future permanent residence, if within the United States; country, if outside the United States, and port of intended departure.

Column 19 (Whether having a ticket to such final destination).—The answer should be either Yes (ticket) or No (no ticket).

Column 20 (By whom was passage paid).—The entry should show definitely by whom passage was paid, as self; husband, father, brother, or other relative; friend; steamship company, etc.

Column 21 (Whether in possession of $50, and if less, how much).—The answer should give in each case (individual or family) the exact amount of money shown. Money brought by the head of a family should not be divided among the several members of the family.

Column 22 (Whether ever before in the United States; and if so, when, where, and date of last departure).—The entries should show whether or not (Yes or No) in the United States before; and if so, the year (or period of years) and place, as, 1894-1897, Philadelphia. Where in the United States more than once previously, indicate last residence only, and give exact or approximate date of last departure from the United States.

Column 23 (Whether going to join relative or friend).—The answer should show whether going to join either a relative or friend, with name and complete address; and if a relative, the exact relationship.

Columns 24 to 36.—These questions are self-explanatory and the answers, like all others on the sheet, are subject to revision by inspection officers in the examination of aliens. However, in answering question 30, if alien has been excluded and deported within one year, and in answering 31, if alien has been ordered deported under warrant at any time, authority in the Secretary of Labor to reapply for admission should be shown.

AFFIDAVIT OF SURGEON

I, Joseph Lane Hazlett, surgeon of the U.S.S. "HEIAN MARU", sailing therewith, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly SWEAR that I have had 22 years experience as a Physician and Surgeon, and that I am entitled to practice as such by and under the authority of THE JAPANESE IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT, and that I have made a personal examination of each of the aliens named herein, and that the foregoing Lists or "Manifest Facts," 2 in number, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, are full, correct, and true in all particulars, relative to the mental and physical condition of such aliens.

NOTE.—Each adult is deemed to be in possession of $50 unless he proves the contrary. Any person who is likely to become a public charge, or who has come for any immoral purpose, is to be detained for special inquiry.

Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any person who is not entitled to admission, or who assists any such person to land in the United States secretly and unlawfully, is liable to a fine of $1,000 for each such person, and to imprisonment for one year.

Any person who aids any alien to enter the United States in violation of the law is liable to a fine of $2,000 and to imprisonment for five years.

Any person who knowingly conceals, harbours, or shields from detection, or attempts to conceal, harbour, or shield from detection, any such alien in any place, including any building or any means of transportation, is liable to a fine of $2,000 and to imprisonment for five years.

Any person who encourages or induces any alien to come to, enter, or reside in the United States, knowing or having reason to believe that the presence, entry, or residence of such alien in the United States is in violation of law, is liable to a fine of $2,000 and to imprisonment for five years.

Any person who, having been arrested and deported, or excluded and deported, at any time thereafter enters or attempts to enter the United States, or is found at any time in the United States, unless he shall have received the consent of the Secretary of Labour to reapply for admission, is liable to a fine of $1,000 and to imprisonment for two years.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according to separate manifests immigrants and nonimmigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924: and also according to separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and those so-called contract class, whose usual post the initials of technical adviser, and those whose usual post the initials. The names of all members of a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class: but if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 2 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 3 (Married or single).—The terms should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed) or D (divorced).

Column 4 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as, for example: CIVIL engineer, mechanically engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, mine laborer, coal heaver, stoker, fireman, boat builder, cabinet maker, etc., and not simply as engineer, laborer, worker, farmer, or other indefinite designations.

A distinction should be made between farmers and farm laborers, designating the former as the amount of money owned, as follows:

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the man who operates it.

Steamship companies should make this distinction on the manifests, and correction should be made, if necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of alien arriving.

Column 5 (Nationality).—Give name of country to which each alien owes allegiance, as Canada, not England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Germany, Russia, Poland, Turkey in Europe, Turkey in Asia, Arabia, Africa, China, Japan, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Uruguay, Venezuela, Peru, Portugal, Spain, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Iceland, Syria, Palestine, Greece, Servia, Montenegro, Albania, Bulgaria, Roumania, Hungary, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Jugo-Slavia, Armenia, Australia, New Zealand, Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Canal Zone, Cuba, Mexico, Newfoundland, Labrador, Miquelon, St. Pierre, Greenland, Iceland, Faroe Islands, Bermuda, Bahama Islands, Barbados, Jamaica, Trinidad, Tobago, Windward Islands, Leeward Islands, Dutch West Indies, Danish West Indies, Haiti, Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Honduras, Salvador, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Panama, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Chile, Argentina, Paraguay, Uruguay, Brazil, Venezuela, Dutch Guiana, British Guiana, French Guiana, Liberia, Egypt, Arabia, Persia, Afghanistan, Beluchistan, Turkestan, Siberia, Manchuria, Mongolia, Tibet, China, Japan, Korea, Siam, Burma, Straits Settlements, Malay States, Sumatra, Java, Borneo, Celebes, Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, Africa, Canada

AFFIDAVIT TO ACCEDON

I, Yoshitsugu Sakakibara, surgeon of the M.S. "HEIAN MARU" sailing therewith, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly swear, that I have had 22 years' experience as a Physician and Surgeon, and that I am entitled to practice as such by and under the authority of THE JAPANESE IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT, and that I have made a personal examination of each of the aliens named herein, and that the foregoing Lists or Manifest Sheets, 2 in number, accurately to the best of my knowledge and belief, are full, correct, and true in all particulars, relative to the mental and physical condition of each alien.

Sworn to before me this 27th day of June, 1924, at SEATTLE

Signature and title of immigration inspector or other officer authorized to administer oaths

NOTE.—If a witness signs with mark (cross), date affidavit of verification shall be executed before an immigrant inspector at port of arrival, and any changes that may occasion to route in the condition of any of the aliens must be noted on the manifest before the affidavit is executed.

If no surgeon signs with the cross, the affidavit of verification shall be executed at the port of debarkation before some officer authorized to administer oaths.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according to separate manifests immigrants and non-immigrants, as defined by the immigration Act of 1924; and also according to separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called tourist class, whose sixty days' leave from the initial of reception expires, and those whose stays do not pass such initials. The names of all members of a family shall appear, when the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 2 (Age).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 3 (Married or single).—The terms should be M (married), S (single), Wd (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 4 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arrival, as, for example: Civil engineer, mechanical engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, planer boilermaker, model boilermaker, iron molder, wood turner, etc., but not simply as engineer, boilermaker, molder, farmer, or other indefinite designations.

A farm laborer is one employed on the farm of another.

Steamship companies should make this distinction on the manifests, and correction should be made, if necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of alien arrivals.

Column 5 (Able to read and write).—Each person 14 years of age and over should be entered as able to read or unable to read, as the case may be. It will be presumed that each alien arriving from any foreign country can read unless the contrary is stated.

Column 6 (Nationality).—Country should be entered to indicate the nationality of which citizen or subject each alien claims to be.

Column 7 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet.

The entry should be made in every case.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject, country of last permanent residence, and country to which they belong. For instance, a native of Scotland should be certainly entered by inspectors in this terms. For instance, "France" appearing under the head of country does not mean "France" by race or people, and similarly "French" appearing under the head of race or people does not mean "France" by country. An Irish, German, or Hebrew alien by race may be a citizen of England, Switzerland, or any other country. In this connection the following instructions should be especially observed:

CUBA

WEST INDIAN

"West Indian" refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Cuban or Negroes.

CENTRAL AMERICAN

"NEGRO"

"Negro" refers to the African (black) element coming from Cape of other parts of the West Indies, North or South America, Europe, or Africa. Any alien of mixed admixture of blood of the African (black) should be classified under this heading.

Column 8 (Last residence).—Country to which alien has last resided.

Column 9 (Port).—The name of the port in the United States at which the alien intends to land.

Column 10 (Final destination).—Enter the name of the city or town.

Column 12 (Name and complete address of nearest relative or friend).—Every alien should be questioned with reference to the name and address of relative or friend in the country whence he came. This column should be filled in with the name and address of such relative or friend. It is not sufficient to enter "Father," "Husband," "Brother," or "Friend." The name of the wife, husband, brother, or friend should be given in full, with the complete address, including street and number, if possible. Immigration officials will frequently require additional information of this character.

Column 13 (Person in United States to whom joining).—Enter the name and complete address of the person in the United States to whom the alien is coming. This column should be filled in with the name and address of the husband, father, brother, friend, or other relative in the United States to whom the alien is coming.

Column 14 (Relationship).—Enter the relationship, if any, between the person entered in column 13 and the alien.

Column 15 (Ever in U. S.).—Answer "Yes" or "No" as to whether the alien has ever been in the United States before.

Column 16 (Where).—If answer to column 15 is "Yes," state when and where.

Column 17 (Length of last visit).—If answer to column 15 is "Yes," state length of last visit.

Column 18 (Length of intended stay).—Every alien should be questioned with reference to the length of intended stay in the United States. The answer to this question should be entered in this column. Admission should not be refused because the alien intends to remain for a definite period of time, but if the alien intends to remain permanently or indefinitely he should be so recorded.

Column 19 (Purpose of coming).—Answer should be entered to indicate whether the alien is coming as a visitor, for business, for pleasure, to study, to join relatives, or for other purpose.

Column 20 (Have you $50 or more?).—Answer should be entered to indicate whether the alien has in his possession $50 or more in money.

Column 21 (Married person).—Answer should be entered to indicate whether the alien is married or single.

Column 22 (Ever in prison).—Answer should be entered to indicate whether the alien has ever been in prison or in an almshouse or asylum for the support of the poor.

Column 23 (Health, mental and physical).—Any mental or physical defect noted by the inspector should be entered in this column.

Column 24 (Deformed or crippled).—Any deformity or crippled condition noted by the inspector should be entered in this column.

Column 25 (Height).—Height should be entered in feet and inches.

Column 26 (Complexion).—Complexion should be entered as light or dark.

Column 28 (Color of eyes).—Color of eyes should be entered as blue, gray, green, brown, black, hazel, or unknown.

Column 29 (Marks of identification).—Any visible scars, marks, or other distinguishing characteristics should be noted in this column.

Column 30 (Whether deported before).—Answer should be entered to indicate whether the alien has been deported before.

Column 31 (Whether have a ticket to final destination).—The terms should be entered as either "Yes" (tickets) or "No" (no tickets).

Column 32 (By whom were passage paid; in cash; prepaid, [after], [other], or other relatives; friends; [other]; etc.).—The terms should be entered to indicate whether the alien has paid his own passage money in cash, or whether it has been paid by relatives or friends in the United States, and if so, by whom.

Column 33 (Whether in possession of $20 and if less, how much).—The terms should be entered to indicate whether the alien has in his possession $20 or more in money, and if less, how much.

Column 34 (Whether ever before in the United States; and if so, when, where, and how long ago; and whether have a relative there; and if so, where, and what relationship).—The entries should be entered to indicate whether or not (Yes or No) the alien has been previously in the United States before; and if so, when and where; and whether he has relatives there; and if so, where, and what relationship.

Column 35 (Whether going to join relative or friend).—The terms should be entered to indicate whether the alien is going to join relatives or friends, and if so, where, and complete address; and whether he has a relative, and exact relationship.

Column 36 (Whether going to join [other] relative or friend, and if not, where, and complete address; and whether he has a relative, and exact relationship).—The terms should be entered to indicate whether the alien is going to join relatives or friends, and if so, where, and complete address; and whether he has a relative, and exact relationship.

Column 37 (Whether going to join [other] relative or friend, and if not, where, and complete address; and whether he has a relative, and exact relationship).—The terms should be entered to indicate whether the alien is going to join relatives or friends, and if so, where, and complete address; and whether he has a relative, and exact relationship.

Column 38 to 39.—These columns are self-explanatory and the terms, like all others on the sheet, are subject to revision by inspection officers in the examination of aliens.

Column 40 (Remarks).—However, in the entire direction 30 ft alien has been closed, entered under separate number, minimum of one year, but not exceeding 18 ft alien in steerage at any time, application for the Secretary of Labor to readmit alien deported.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, recording on separate manifests immigrants and nonimmigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also recording on separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called tourist class, whose visas bear the initials of technical advisers, and those whose visas do not bear such initials. The names of all members of a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 4 (Age).—The answer in this column should be expressed in years or months, the latter applying only to those under 1 year of age.

Column 5 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 6 (Married or single).—The answer should be M (married), S (single), Wd (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 7 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arrival, as, for example: Civil engineer, stationary engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, brass polisher, steel polisher, iron molder, wood turner, etc., and not simply as engineer, polisher, molder, turner, or other indefinite designations.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the man who operates it.

Steamship companies should make this distinction on the manifests, and corrections should be made, if necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of alien arrivals.

Column 8 (Able to read and write).—This column is subdivided and contains the following questions: "Read what language [or, if exemption is claimed, upon what ground]." In answering this question the language or dialect the alien is able to read should be stated. If alien is unable to read and claims exemption from the reading requirement, the ground for such exemption should be given.

Column 9 (Nationality).—Question 9 should be construed to mean the country of which alien is a citizen or subject.

Column 10 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet. The entry should show the race or people as given in said list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject, country of last permanent residence, and country of birth, and manifests should be carefully revised by inspectors in this regard. For instance, "France" appearing under the head of country does not mean "French" by race or people, and, similarly "French" appearing under the head of race or people does not mean "France" by country. An Irish, German, or Hebrew alien by race might properly come under the heading of England, Switzerland, or any other country. In this connection the following distinctions should be especially observed:

CUBAN

The term "Cuban" refers to the Cuban people (not Negroes).

WEST INDIAN

"West Indian" refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Cubans or Negroes.

SPANISH AMERICAN

NEGRO

"Negro" refers to the African (black), whether coming from Cuba or other islands of the West Indies, North or South America, Europe, or Africa. Any alien with admixture of blood of the African (black) should be classified under this heading.

Column 11 (Place of birth).—The State, province, or district of birth should be shown in addition to the city or town.

Column 12 (Serial number of document presented).—Prefix serial number of document with abbreviation "QIV", "NQIV", "PV", or "RP", as appropriate, to designate whether it is Quota Immigration Visa, Nonquota Immigration Visa, Passport Visa, or Reentry Permit; and also state section of the Immigration Act of 1924 involved, as section 4 (a).

Column 13.—This question has reference to the place and date of issue of the document described in column 12, and is self-explanatory.

Column 15 (Last permanent residence).—Actual or an intended residence of 1 year shall constitute permanent residence. The last country in which alien resided with the intention of remaining 1 year or more shall be the last permanent residence regardless of length of actual residence therein. The entries in column 15 should show the country, city or town, State, province, or district of last permanent residence. It is important for statistical purposes that steamship companies accurately show country of last permanent residence independent of country of temporary residence, country of birth, nationality, or race.

Country of last permanent residence of aliens who are permanent residents of the United States and are returning from a visit abroad should be recorded "United States."

Column 17 (Name and complete address of nearest relative or friend in country whence alien came).—The entry should give name, exact relationship, and complete address of such relative. If no such relative living, give name and address of friend. If no such relative or friend living in country whence alien came, give name and address of relative or friend in country of which citizen or subject, if such country is other than that whence alien came. Address should include street and number.

Column 18 (Final destination).—The answer to this question shall show the intended future permanent residence. An intended residence of 1 year shall constitute permanent residence. The entry should show definitely the place (city or town) of intended future permanent residence, if within the United States; country, if outside the United States, and port of intended departure.

Column 19 (Whether having a ticket to such final destination).—The answer should be either Yes (ticket) or No (no ticket).

Column 20 (By whom was passage paid).—The entry should show definitely by whom passage was paid, as self; husband, father, brother, or other relative; friend; steamship company, etc.

Column 21 (Whether in possession of $50, and if less, how much).—The answer should give in each case (individual or family) the exact amount of money shown. Money brought by the head of a family should not be divided among the several members of the family.

Column 22 (Whether ever before in the United States; and if so, when, where, and date of last departure).—The entries should show whether or not (Yes or No) in the United States before; and if so, the year (or period of years) and place, as, 1894-1897, Philadelphia. Where in the United States more than once previously, indicate last residence only, and give exact or approximate date of last departure from the United States.

Column 23 (Whether going to join relative or friend).—The answer should show whether going to join either a relative or friend, with name and complete address; and if a relative, the exact relationship.

Columns 24 to 36.—These questions are self-explanatory and the answers, like all others on the sheet, are subject to revision by inspection officers in the examination of aliens. However, in answering question 30, if alien has been excluded and deported within 1 year, and in answering 31, if alien has been ordered deported under warrant at any time, authority in the Secretary of Labor to reapply for admission should be shown.

LIST OF RACES OR PEOPLES

"Race or people" is to be determined by the stock from which aliens spring and the language they speak. The original stock or blood shall be the basis of the classification, the mother tongue to be used only to assist in determining the original stock.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port in which passengers embark for the United States, according to separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and those in the first and second classes, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; but also according to separate manifests those aliens traveling in the first and second classes, and those in the third class, and those who are in no part of the so-called tourist class, whose alien head tax the initials of reception agents, and those who are in no part of such initials. The names of all members of a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate entries as to class shall be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Number on list).—Each passenger must be assigned a number, beginning with 1 in each case, and the consecutive numbering must be carried forward on all sheets used for the same group of passengers.

Column 3 (Given name in full).—Enter the given name in full (not initials) of each passenger.

Column 4 (Age).—Enter the age of each passenger at his last birthday before sailing. Infants under 1 year old should be entered as "under 1."

Column 5 (Sex).—Enter "M" for male or "F" for female.

Column 6 (Married or single).—Enter "M" for married, "S" for single, "W" for widowed, or "D" for divorced.

Column 7 (Calling or occupation).—Enter the trade, profession, or occupation of each person one year of age or over, whether actually employed or not. Persons having no occupation, trade, or profession to which they contribute should be entered as having "no occupation." Do not enter such terms as "laborer," "farmer," "merchant," "manufacturer," "engineer," "clerk," "housewife," "housework," "none," "student," "child," or "invalid" unless they are the only terms available. Specify the character of the work done, as for example: "laborer" on general farm work, "laborer" in coal mine, "laborer" in cotton mill, "laborer" in sawmill, "farmer" (owner), "farmer" (tenant), "farm laborer" (working for wages), "saleslady" in dry-goods store, "clerk" in grocery store, "cook" in restaurant, "cook" in private family, "lumberjack," "logger," "servant," "children" (if going to live with relatives), "retired merchant," "retired farmer," "housekeeper," "nurse," "dressmaker," "milliner," "seamstress," "stenographer," "typist," "bookkeeper," "clerk," "salesman," "trained nurse," "practical nurse," "midwife," "musician," "professor," "teacher," "actor," "actress," "author," "editor," "lawyer," "physician," "surgeon," "dentist," "chemist," "civil engineer," "mechanical engineer," "electrical engineer," "mining engineer," "civil engineer," "draftsman," "accountant," "bookkeeper," "stenographer," "typist," "clerk," "salesman," "trained nurse," "practical nurse," "midwife," "musician," "professor," "teacher," "actor," "actress," "author," "editor," "lawyer," "physician," "surgeon," "dentist," "chemist," "civil engineer," "mechanical engineer," "electrical engineer," "mining

"HEIAN MARU" SAILING THEREWITH

I, Kosaburo Sakuma, surgeon of the M.S. ____, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly DECLARE that I have had 22 Years, experience as a Physician and Surgeon, and that I am entitled to practice as such by and under the authority of THE JAPANESE IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT, and that I have made a personal examination of each of the aliens named herein, and that the foregoing Lists or Manifest Sheets, 52 in number, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, are full, correct, and true in all particulars, relative to the mental and physical condition of such aliens.

SURGEON

Sworn to before me this 17th day of June, 1921, at SEATTLE

NOTE.—If a witness shall make oath to any additional facts to be executed before an immigrant inspector at port of arrival, and the opinion that such fact is material to the question of the admissibility of any of the aliens must be noted on the manifest before the duplicate is executed.

If no surgeon shall make such report, the duplicate of certificate shall be executed at the port of departure before some officer authorized to administer oaths.

Warning. — Any person who knowingly brings into the United States any alien not duly entitled to enter, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States in violation of the law, or who knowingly harbors any alien after he has entered the United States in violation of the law, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according to steps numbered consecutively in the third class and the second class, and according to nationality, race, and people in the first class. Number the pages of each manifest consecutively in the upper right-hand corner, beginning with number 1 for each class. Do not use more than one line for each entry. Use only one side of the paper. Fill in all columns, even though it be necessary to repeat information. Where the answer to any question is "None," "No," or "0," write that word. Do not use ditto marks. Be sure to give the information required by each question. Where dates are required, give the month, day, and year, for example, March 1, 1924, or 3-1-24. Where the age is required, give the age at last birthday. Where the question is not applicable to the person being listed, write "N. A." Where the information required is unknown, write "Unknown." Where a question is asked in the present tense, answer it in the present tense, even though the event may have occurred in the past. Where a question is asked in the past tense, answer it in the past tense, even though the event may occur in the future. Where a question is asked in the singular, answer it in the singular, even though the plural may be applicable. Where a question is asked in the plural, answer it in the plural, even though the singular may be applicable. Where a question is asked in the masculine gender, answer it in the masculine gender, even though the feminine gender may be applicable. Where a question is asked in the feminine gender, answer it in the feminine gender, even though the masculine gender may be applicable. Where a question is asked in the present perfect tense, answer it in the present perfect tense, even though the past tense may be applicable. Where a question is asked in the past perfect tense, answer it in the past perfect tense, even though the present perfect tense may be applicable.

NOTE—Any person who knowingly or willfully aids or assists the entry into the United States of any alien not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector, or who knowingly or willfully conceals, harbors, or shields from detection any such alien, or who knowingly or willfully attempts to commit any of the foregoing acts, is guilty of a felony and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each and every such alien with respect to which any such act is committed.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Yonetaro Matutou MASTER, of the M.S. "HEIAN MARU" from KOBE, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly SWEAR that I have caused the surgeon of said vessel sailing therewith, or the surgeon employed by the owners thereof, to make a physical and mental examination of each and all of the aliens named in the foregoing Lists or Manifest Sheets, 12 in number, and that from the report of said surgeon and from my own investigation, I believe that no one of said aliens is of any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States by laws regulating immigration, and that also, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, the information in said Lists or Manifests concerning each of said aliens named therein is correct and true in every respect.

MASTER Officer.

Immigrant Inspector.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, recording on separate manifests immigrants and nonimmigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also recording on separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called tourist class, whose visas bear the initials of Technical Advisers, and those whose visas do not bear such initials. The names of all members of a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 4 (Age).—The answer in this column should be expressed in years or months, the latter applying only to those under 1 year of age.

Column 5 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 6 (Married or single).—The answer should be M (married), S (single), Wd (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 7 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arrival, as, for example: Civil engineer, stationary engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, brass polisher, steel polisher, iron molder, wood turner, etc., and not simply as engineer, polisher, molder, turner, or other indefinite designations.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the man who operates it.

Steamship companies should make this distinction on the manifests, and corrections should be made, if necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of alien arrivals.

Column 8 (Able to read and write).—This column is subdivided and contains the following question: "Read what language [or, if exemption is claimed, upon what ground]." In answering this question the language or dialect the alien is able to read should be stated. If alien is unable to read and claims exemption from the reading requirement, the ground for such exemption should be given.

Column 9 (Nationality).—Question 9 should be construed to mean the country of which alien is a citizen or subject.

Column 10 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet. The entry should show the race or people as given in said list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject, country of last permanent residence, and country of birth, and manifests should be carefully revised by inspectors in this regard. For instance, "France" appearing under the head of country does not mean "French" by race or people, and, similarly "French" appearing under the head of race or people does not mean "France" by country. An Irish, German, or Hebrew alien by race might properly come under the heading of England, Switzerland, or any other country. In this connection the following distinctions should be especially observed:

CUBAN

The term "Cuban" refers to the Cuban people (not Negroes).

WEST INDIAN

"West Indian" refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Cubans or Negroes.

SPANISH AMERICAN

AFRICAN (BLACK)

"African (black)" refers to the African Negro, whether coming from Cuba or other islands of the West Indies, North or South America, Europe, or Africa. Any alien with admixture of blood of the African Negro should be classified under this heading.

ITALIAN (NORTH)

The people who are native to the basin of the River Po in northern Italy (i. e., compartments of Piedmont, Lombardy, Venetia, and Emelia) and their descendants, whether residing in Italy, Switzerland, Austria, or any other country, should be classed as "Italian (north)." Most of these people speak a Gallic dialect of the Italian language.

ITALIAN (SOUTH)

The people who are native to that portion of Italy south of the basin of the River Po (i. e., compartments of Liguria, Tuscany, the Marches, Umbria, Rome, the Abruzzi and Molise, Campania, Apulia, Basilicata, Calabria, Sicily, and Sardinia) and their descendants should be classed as "Italian (south)."

Column 11 (Place of birth).—The State, Province, or District of birth should be shown in addition to the city or town.

Column 12 (Serial number of document presented).—Prefix serial number of document with abbreviation "QIV," "NQIV," "PV," or "RP," as appropriate, to designate whether it is Quota Immigration Visa, Nonquota Immigration Visa, Passport Visa, or Reentry Permit; and also state section of the Immigration Act of 1924 involved, as Section 4 (a).

Column 13.—This question has reference to the place and date of issue of the document described in column 12, and is self-explanatory.

Column 15 (Last permanent residence).—Actual or an intended residence of one year shall constitute permanent residence. The last country in which alien resided with the intention of remaining one year or more shall be the last permanent residence regardless of length of actual residence therein. The entries in column 15 should show the country, city or town, state, province, or district of last permanent residence. It is important for statistical purposes that steamship companies accurately show country of last permanent residence independent of country of temporary residence, country of birth, nationality, or race.

Country of last permanent residence of aliens who are permanent residents of the United States and are returning from a visit abroad should be recorded "United States."

Column 17 (Name and complete address of nearest relative or friend in country whence alien came).—The entry should give name, exact relationship, and complete address of such relative. If no such relative living, give name and address of friend. If no such relative or friend living in country whence alien came, give name and address of relative or friend in country of which citizen or subject, if such country is other than that whence alien came. Address should include street and number.

Column 18 (Final destination).—The answer to this question shall show the intended future permanent residence. An intended residence of one year shall constitute permanent residence. The entry should show definitely the place (city or town) of intended future permanent residence, if within the United States; country, if outside the United States, and port of intended departure.

Column 19 (Whether having a ticket to such final destination).—The answer should be either Yes (ticket) or No (no ticket).

Column 20 (By whom was passage paid).—The entry should show definitely by whom passage was paid, as self; husband, father, brother, or other relative; friend; steamship company, etc.

Column 21 (Whether in possession of $50, and if less, how much).—The answer should give in each case (individual or family) the exact amount of money shown. Money brought by the head of a family should not be divided among the several members of the family.

Column 22 (Whether ever before in the United States; and if so, when, where, and date of last departure).—The entries should show whether or not (Yes or No) in the United States before; and if so, the year (or period of years) and place, as, 1894–1897, Philadelphia. Where in the United States more than once previously, indicate last residence only, and give exact or approximate date of last departure from the United States.

Column 23 (Whether going to join relative or friend).—The answer should show whether going to join either a relative or friend, with name and complete address; and if a relative, the exact relationship.

Columns 24 to 36.—These questions are self-explanatory and the answers, like all others on the sheet, are subject to revision by inspection officers in the examination of aliens. However, in answering question 30, if alien has been excluded and deported within one year, and in answering 31, if alien has been ordered deported under warrant at any time, authority in the Secretary of Labor to reapply for admission should be shown.

MEDICAL TO MASTER

I, Kosaburo Sakakura, surgeon of the "S.S. HEIAN MARU," DAIRI THERMITH, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly SWEAR that I have had 22 Years, experience as a Physician and Surgeon, and that I am entitled to practice as such by and under the authority of THE JAPANESE IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT, and that I have made a personal examination of each of the officers named herein, and that the foregoing Lists of Alien Crews, in triplicate, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, are full, correct, and true in all particulars, relative to the mental and physical condition of such officers.

KOSABURO SAKAKURA

Sworn to before me this 17th day of June, 21 at SEATTLE

NOTE.—It is unlawful for any person, after the 30th day of September, 1906, to land any alien seaman who has been ordered to be detained on board the vessel, after the expiration of forty-eight hours after the vessel's arrival at the port of destination, unless a certificate has been issued by the Commissioner-General of Immigration or by some officer authorized to administer oaths.

LIST OF RACES OR PEOPLES

"Race or people" is to be determined by the stock from which aliens emerge and the language they speak. The original stock or blood shall be the basis of the classification, the mother tongue to be used only to assist in determining the original stock.

Any person who conceals himself to secure a passage aboard any vessel with intent to violate any provision of the United States immigration laws, or who knowingly assists, solicits, or encourages another so to conceal himself, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof may be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

NOTE.—Each person is to be listed in the proper column to answer the following questions: Alaska, a native of; Hawaii, a native of; Porto Rico, a native of; Philippine Islands, a native of; Canal Zone, a native of; Virgin Islands, a native of; Panama, a native of; United States, a native of; Mexico, a native of; Canada, a native of; Newfoundland, a native of; Cuba, a native of; Europe, a native of; Asia, a native of; Africa, a native of; Australia, a native of; New Zealand, a native of; West Indies, a native of; Central America, a native of; South America, a native of; Atlantic Islands, a native of; Pacific Islands, a native of; Arctic Regions, a native of; Other countries, a native of.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Yonetaro Matutou MASTER, of the M.S. "HEIAN MARU", from KOBE, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly SWEAR that I have caused the surgeon of said vessel sailing therewith, or the surgeon employed by the owners thereof, to make a physical and mental examination of each and all of the aliens named in the foregoing Lists or Manifest Sheets, 6 in number, and that from the report of said surgeon and from my own investigation, I believe that no one of said aliens is of any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States by laws regulating immigration, and that also, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, the information in said Lists or Manifests concerning each of said aliens named therein is correct and true in every respect.

Y. Matuto
MASTER
Officer.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, recording on separate manifests immigrants and nonimmigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also recording on separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called tourist class, whose visas bear the initials of Technical Advisers, and those whose visas do not bear such initials. The names of all members of a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 4 (Age).—The answer in this column should be expressed in years or months, the latter applying only to those under 1 year of age.

Column 5 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 6 (Married or single).—The answer should be M (married), S (single), Wd (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 7 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arrival, as, for example: Civil engineer, stationary engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, brass polisher, steel polisher, iron molder, wood turner, etc., and not simply as engineer, polisher, molder, turner, or other indefinite designations.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the man who operates it.

Steamship companies should make this distinction on the manifests, and corrections should be made, if necessary, by inspectors during the personal examination of alien arrivals.

Column 8 (Able to read and write).—This column is subdivided and contains the following question: "Read what language [or, if exemption is claimed, upon what ground]." In answering this question the language or dialect the alien is able to read should be stated. If alien is unable to read and claims exemption from the reading requirement, the ground for such exemption should be given.

Column 9 (Nationality).—Question 9 should be construed to mean the country of which alien is a citizen or subject.

Column 10 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet. The entry should show the race or people as given in said list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject, country of last permanent residence, and country of birth, and manifests should be carefully revised by inspectors in this regard. For instance, "France" appearing under the head of country does not mean "French" by race or people, and, similarly "French" appearing under the head of race or people does not mean "France" by country. An Irish, German, or Hebrew alien by race might properly come under the heading of England, Switzerland, or any other country. In this connection the following distinctions should be especially observed:

CUBAN

The term "Cuban" refers to the Cuban people (not Negroes).

WEST INDIAN

"West Indian" refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Cubans or Negroes.

SPANISH AMERICAN

AFRICAN (BLACK)

"African (black)" refers to the African Negro, whether coming from Cuba or other islands of the West Indies, North or South America, Europe, or Africa. Any alien with admixture of blood of the African Negro should be classified under this heading.

ITALIAN (NORTH)

The people who are native to the basin of the River Po in northern Italy (i. e., compartments of Piedmont, Lombardy, Venetia, and Emelia) and their descendants, whether residing in Italy, Switzerland, Austria, or any other country, should be classed as "Italian (north)." Most of these people speak a Gallic dialect of the Italian language.

ITALIAN (SOUTH)

The people who are native to that portion of Italy south of the basin of the River Po (i. e., compartments of Liguria, Tuscany, the Marches, Umbria, Rome, the Abruzzi and Molise, Campania, Apulia, Basilicata, Calabria, Sicily, and Sardinia) and their descendants should be classed as "Italian (south)."

Column 11 (Place of birth).—The State, Province, or District of birth should be shown in addition to the city or town.

Column 12 (Serial number of document presented).—Prefix serial number of document with abbreviation "QIV," "NQIV," "PV," or "RP," as appropriate, to designate whether it is Quota Immigration Visa, Nonquota Immigration Visa, Passport Visa, or Reentry Permit; and also state section of the Immigration Act of 1924 involved, as Section 4 (a).

Column 13.—This question has reference to the place and date of issue of the document described in column 12, and is self-explanatory.

Column 15 (Last permanent residence).—Actual or an intended residence of one year shall constitute permanent residence. The last country in which alien resided with the intention of remaining one year or more shall be the last permanent residence regardless of length of actual residence therein. The entries in column 15 should show the country, city or town, state, province, or district of last permanent residence. It is important for statistical purposes that steamship companies accurately show country of last permanent residence independent of country of temporary residence, country of birth, nationality, or race.

Country of last permanent residence of aliens who are permanent residents of the United States and are returning from a visit abroad should be recorded "United States."

Column 17 (Name and complete address of nearest relative or friend in country whence alien came).—The entry should give name, exact relationship, and complete address of such relative. If no such relative living, give name and address of friend. If no such relative or friend living in country whence alien came, give name and address of relative or friend in country of which citizen or subject, if such country is other than that whence alien came. Address should include street and number.

Column 18 (Final destination).—The answer to this question shall show the intended future permanent residence. An intended residence of one year shall constitute permanent residence. The entry should show definitely the place (city or town) of intended future permanent residence, if within the United States; country, if outside the United States, and port of intended departure.

Column 19 (Whether having a ticket to such final destination).—The answer should be either Yes (ticket) or No (no ticket).

Column 20 (By whom was passage paid).—The entry should show definitely by whom passage was paid, as self; husband, father, brother, or other relative; friend; steamship company, etc.

Column 21 (Whether in possession of $50, and if less, how much).—The answer should give in each case (individual or family) the exact amount of money shown. Money brought by the head of a family should not be divided among the several members of the family.

Column 22 (Whether ever before in the United States; and if so, when, where, and date of last departure).—The entries should show whether or not (Yes or No) in the United States before; and if so, the year (or period of years) and place, as, 1894–1897, Philadelphia. Where in the United States more than once previously, indicate last residence only, and give exact or approximate date of last departure from the United States.

Column 23 (Whether going to join relative or friend).—The answer should show whether going to join either a relative or friend, with name and complete address; and if a relative, the exact relationship.

Columns 24 to 36.—These questions are self-explanatory and the answers, like all others on the sheet, are subject to revision by inspection officers in the examination of aliens. However, in answering question 30, if alien has been excluded and deported within one year, and in answering 31, if alien has been ordered deported under warrant at any time, authority in the Secretary of Labor to reapply for admission should be shown.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according to separate manifests those aliens traveling in the first class and the non-immigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also according to separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called contract class, whose very next to the initials of Technical Advisers, and those who do not read such initials. The names of all members of a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Columns 1, Head-tax status.—Alongside that name should make an entry to show whether he is subject to the head tax or exempt therefrom. The word "head-tax" should be used for this purpose.

Column 2, Age.—Write after the name of each person his age in years. If under 1 year, state the number of months.

Column 3, Sex.—Write the word "male" or "female," as the case may be.

Column 4, Married or single.—Write the word "married" or "single," as the case may be.

Column 5, Calling or occupation.—Write after each name the calling or occupation of the person, if any. If a child or other person has no calling or occupation, write the word "none."

Column 6, Nationality.—Write after each name the country of which he is a citizen or subject. If a citizen of the United States, write the word "citizen."

Column 7, Race or people.—Write after each name the race to which he belongs, as "Negro," "Hebrew," "Irish," "German," "English," "Italian," "Polish," "Spanish," "Russian," "Scotch," "Welsh," "French," "Dutch," "Swedish," "Norwegian," "Finnish," "Danish," "Hungarian," "Bohemian or Slovak," "Slovenian," "Croatian or Dalmatian," "Servian," "Bulgarian," "Greek," "Portuguese," "Roumanian," "Japanese," "Chinese," "Armenian," "Syrian," "Turkish," "Mexican," "Indian," "Pacific Islander," "East Indian," or such other race or people as they belong to.

Column 8, Last residence.—Write after each name the country in which he had his last residence.

Column 9, Intending to become a permanent resident of the United States.—Write after each name the word "yes" or "no" to indicate whether he intends to become a permanent resident of the United States.

Column 10, Seaport for landing in United States.—Write after each name the seaport at which he intends to land in the United States.

Column 11, Final destination.—Write after each name the city, town, or village in the United States where he intends to go.

Column 12, Whether going to join a relative or friend, and, if so, which one, and his name and complete address.—Write after each name the word "yes" or "no" to indicate whether he intends to go to join a relative or friend in the United States, and if so, which one, and his name and complete address.

Column 13, Ever in the United States before? and if so, when and how long ago?—Write after each name the word "yes" or "no" to indicate whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long ago.

Column 14, Ever in penitentiary, almshouse, asylum, or hospital? Ever supported by charity? Which?—Write after each name the word "yes" or "no" to indicate whether he has been in a penitentiary, almshouse, asylum, or hospital, or has been supported by charity, and if so, which.

Column 15, Polygamist, or believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or the assassination of public officials?—Write after each name the word "yes" or "no" to indicate whether he is a polygamist, believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or the assassination of public officials.

Column 16, Anarchist?—Write after each name the word "yes" or "no" to indicate whether he is an anarchist.

Column 17, Under a contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia?—Write after each name the word "yes" or "no" to indicate whether he has been promised employment under a contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia.

Column 18, Have a ticket through to final destination?—Write after each name the word "yes" or "no" to indicate whether he has a ticket through to his final destination.

Column 19, Whether in possession of $50 and if not, how much less?—Write after each name the word "yes" or "no" to indicate whether he has in his possession fifty dollars, and if not, how much less.

Column 20, Whether ever before in the United States? and if so, when and how long ago?—Write after each name the word "yes" or "no" to indicate whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long ago.

Column 21, Whether ever in prison or almshouse? Which?—Write after each name the word "yes" or "no" to indicate whether he has been in prison or almshouse, and if so, which.

Column 22, Whether deformed or crippled? How?—Write after each name the word "yes" or "no" to indicate whether he is deformed or crippled, and if so, how.

UNITED STATES

SEC. 13. No alien seaman entering from adjacent into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall be refused a permit to land in the United States from any vessel upon which he arrived, shall be required to depart on board such vessel or on board any other vessel leaving from the United States for the country from which such alien seaman came to the United States, or for the country to which such alien seaman has been admitted to land, except upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that the treatment accorded by the master of such vessel to such alien seaman has been proper and humane. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917, as amended by section 3 of the immigration act of May 26, 1924, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section and who shall remain therein for a period in excess of the period allowed by the immigration officer at the time of his landing shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. Any master who fails to deport any alien seaman employed on board his vessel when required so to do by an immigration officer at the port of arrival and any master who fails to report the illness or hospital treatment of any alien seaman as required by section 16 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel arrives a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs while any question is pending before the Secretary of Labor as to the payment of the charges aforesaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such charges, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(g) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(h) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(i) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(j) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(k) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(l) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(m) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(n) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(o) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(p) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(q) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(r) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(s) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(t) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(u) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(v) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(w) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(x) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(y) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(z) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 6

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the fact required by section 30 hereof has been ascertained, the penalty imposed by section 36 hereof paid, or bond therefor given, and the master has been furnished with a certificate to the administrative effect prescribed by such section or to that effect prescribed by section 36 hereof, the penalty specified in Rule 22 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 16. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the port of entry last previous to its departure for the United States to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry the list or manifest of alien passengers required to be prepared by section 12 hereof, and it shall be the duty of the said master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge to deliver to the said inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at each port in the United States all such lists in his possession, and to make oath before said inspector as to any additions, changes, or omissions which may be found to exist in the list last delivered by him, and to report the name of every alien omitted therefrom and the reason for such omission, and to furnish such information in regard to the same as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who refuses to deliver such list, or who refuses or neglects to report, add to, or correct the list in accordance with the provisions of this section, or who refuses to make oath to the same, or any part thereof, before the proper officer, or who refuses to permit any immigrant inspector to come on board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same, or to question any alien on board, or who refuses to detain any alien on board when ordered so to do by such inspector, or who refuses to carry back to the last port from which such vessel departed any alien ordered excluded from admission to the United States by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel arrives a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such omission occurs, or with respect to whom any such refusal occurs, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of any such question or the payment of the sum demanded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival (when such port is reached on board), but shall be delivered by the master of the vessel. The list or manifest of alien passengers to be delivered at the port of arrival is located in the room on the upper deck, forward, and not less than twelve (12) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival. When no aliens are carried, notice of such fact must be given.

UNITED STATES

SEC. 13. No alien seaman entering from adjacent into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be refused a permit to land in the United States from such vessel upon the certificate of the master thereof, unless, in the opinion of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, such seaman is afflicted with a contagious disease, or is otherwise inadmissible under the immigration laws, or unless such seaman shall be certified by the Secretary of Labor to be a deserter. Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section and who shall remain therein for a period in excess of the period allowed by the immigration officer at the time of his landing shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. Any master who fails to deport any alien seaman employed on board his vessel when required so to do by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, and any master who fails to report the illness or hospital treatment of any alien seaman as required by section 16 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917, as amended by section 3 of the immigration act of May 26, 1924, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel arrives a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs while any question is pending before the Secretary of Labor as to the payment of the charges aforesaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such charges, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States during the pendency of his hearing before the Secretary of Labor, or who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded to aliens ordered deported from ports of the interior.

(g) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken before a special inquiry officer for a hearing solely upon the question whether such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be taken before a judge of the United States for examination in habeas corpus proceedings, and shall not be deported pursuant to the provisions of this section if such judge shall determine that such alien seaman is a deserter.

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the data required by Section 30 have been furnished, and not then unless, prior to the administrative due prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 28 hereof, the debonis specified in Rule 23 have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman extended from admission into the United States under the immigration laws who employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof and seeking to depart from any port or place in the United States in the service of such vessel as a member of the crew thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, unless (a) the consul general, consul, vice consul, consular agent, or commissioner in charge at the port of arrival has endorsed on the crew list of such vessel his approval of such landing, or (b) such alien seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is unable to obtain such endorsement because of the refusal of the master, owner, agent, or consignee of such vessel to make application therefor, or (c) such alien seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is unable to obtain such endorsement because of the refusal of the consul general, consul, vice consul, consular agent, or commissioner in charge to grant such endorsement, or (d) such alien seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is unable to obtain such endorsement because of the refusal of the consul general, consul, vice consul, consular agent, or commissioner in charge to grant such endorsement except upon the payment of a sum of money which such alien seaman is unable, or has reasonable cause to believe he will be unable, to pay, or (e) such alien seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is unable to obtain such endorsement because of the refusal of the consul general, consul, vice consul, consular agent, or commissioner in charge to grant such endorsement except upon the payment of a sum of money which such alien seaman is unable, or has reasonable cause to believe he will be unable, to pay, and that he is not a member of any of the classes of aliens ineligible for citizenship under section 2 of the immigration act of 1917, or (f) such alien seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is not a member of any of the classes of aliens ineligible for citizenship under section 2 of the immigration act of 1917, except that such alien seaman may be admitted in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor for such period of time as he may deem necessary for the purpose of obtaining the necessary documents required by section 6 of the immigration act of 1924 and for such further period of time not exceeding four months as he may deem necessary for the purpose of effecting the departure of such alien seaman from the United States. Upon the granting of permission to any such alien seaman to enter the United States for any of the purposes enumerated in this section, such alien seaman shall be deemed to be in transit through the United States and shall be subject to such rules and regulations governing such aliens as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien seaman who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the immigration act of 1917, as amended by section 3 of the immigration act of 1924, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall fail to deposit or cause to be deposited on board such vessel before the departure thereof from the United States a sufficient number of bonds or undertakings, in such form and amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, to guarantee the passage of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel, including the hospital treatment, if needed, and burial expenses, if any, of each such alien seaman who may die before the departure of such vessel from the United States, or who may be prevented by sickness, injury, or other cause found by the Secretary of Labor to be sufficient from proceeding with such vessel, or who may be left behind in the United States for hospital treatment, or who may be ordered deported to the country whence he came, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such default occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum, or while the time limited by this section for the payment thereof has not expired, or while any such alien seaman is detained for the purpose of any investigation or examination in connection therewith, except that clearance may be granted any such vessel upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every such alien seaman who shall depart from the United States shall be deported at the cost of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the foreign port to which he will return or to which he is destined, shall be unduly delayed, or that the vessel will not return to such port, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on another vessel sailing to such port or to the country whence he came, and the cost of such deportation shall be paid by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who refuses or fails to deport any such alien seaman on the vessel or in the manner directed, or who fails to pay the cost of deportation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien seaman in respect of whom such default occurs.

(d) Every such alien seaman who shall depart from the United States shall be deported at the cost of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the foreign port to which he will return or to which he is destined, shall be unduly delayed, or that the vessel will not return to such port, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on another vessel sailing to such port or to the country whence he came, and the cost of such deportation shall be paid by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from the foreign port to which he will return or to which he is destined; and in case of the failure or neglect of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to pay the cost of such deportation, the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States shall be liable to a lien for the cost of such deportation, which may be collected by proceedings in the nature of proceedings in admiralty in the district court of the United States in which such vessel may be found.

SEC. 21. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the complete list or manifest of all persons employed on board such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or employed, and whether they are to be paid off in the United States or not, and to report the illness or injury of any such person during the voyage, stating the particulars thereof, and also the sickness or death of any such person, with the cause thereof, and to deliver to the proper officer at the time of the arrival and before any such person leaves the vessel a list containing the names of all such persons so reported, and the particulars of the illness or injury of each such person, and the cause of death in each case, and to make report as to any such person who may be reported missing, and to deliver to the immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the United States a list containing the names of all persons employed on board such vessel who were not enumerated in the list delivered on the arrival of such vessel, and the particulars of the cause of absence of each such person, and to report to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the United States the name of each person who may have been employed on board such vessel at the time of the arrival but who will leave such vessel before the departure of such vessel from the United States, and the particulars of the cause of such absence, and to report the name of each person who may have been shipped or employed on board such vessel between the time of the arrival and the time of the departure of such vessel from the United States, and the particulars of the cause of such shipping or employment

SEC. 13. (a) No alien shall be admitted into the United States under the immigration laws now or hereafter in force, except under such conditions as may be prescribed pursuant to such laws, unless he (1) is a bona fide alien seaman coming temporarily to the United States solely in pursuance of the usual duties of his occupation; (2) is a bona fide alien seaman who is in possession of a valid passport issued by or under the authority of the country of which he claims nationality, or which issued the last passport in his possession; (3) is a bona fide alien seaman who is in possession of a valid passport issued by or under the authority of the country of which he claims nationality, or which issued the last passport in his possession, and who is destined to the country which issued his passport and intends to return to the port from which he departed within a period not exceeding four months; (4) is a bona fide alien seaman who is in possession of a valid passport issued by or under the authority of the country of which he claims nationality, or which issued the last passport in his possession, and who is destined to a country other than the country which issued his passport and intends to return to the port from which he departed within a period not exceeding four months; or (5) is a bona fide alien seaman who is in possession of a valid passport issued by or under the authority of the country of which he claims nationality, or which issued the last passport in his possession, and who is destined to a country other than the country which issued his passport and intends to return to the port from which he departed within a period not exceeding four months, unless, in the case of any alien described in clause (2), (3), (4), or (5), the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has reason to believe that the alien intends to enter the United States unlawfully, or that upon the expiration of the period of time during which he intends to remain temporarily in the United States he will be unable to depart therefrom because of physical or mental disability or other cause, or will not depart therefrom for the purpose of maintaining his nonimmigrant status or complying with the conditions upon the basis of which he was admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant, or that he is destined to the United States or will depart therefrom for the purpose of violating any law of the United States relating to the unlawful importation into the United States of aliens or to the exclusion or deportation of aliens, or to the registration of aliens, or to the possession or use of any instrument or weapon of crime, or will depart therefrom for the purpose of engaging in any such violation; but any alien seaman who is in possession of a valid passport issued by or under the authority of the country of which he claims nationality, or which issued the last passport in his possession, and who is destined to the United States and intends to depart therefrom within a period not exceeding four months, and who is not within any of the classes enumerated in section 3 as excluded from admission into the United States, may be admitted in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, under such conditions as he may prescribe, for such period of time as he may deem necessary, not exceeding four months, and under such bond as he may require, to secure the departure of such alien seaman from the United States upon the completion of his authorized shore leave or upon the departure of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or upon the departure of any other vessel or vessels on which he may be permitted by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to depart: Provided, That clearance may be refused in the case of any alien seaman who has been certified by the Public Health Service as suffering from a communicable disease which would be a ground for exclusion from the United States under section 3 of this Act.

SEC. 16. (a) After the commencement of this Act no alien seaman shall be admitted into the United States under the immigration laws now or hereafter in force, except temporarily for medical treatment, or deportation of such alien shall be suspended, pending the action of the Secretary of Labor, except upon the affirmative recommendation of the medical examiner, or one of his medical examiners, that such alien seaman (a) is not afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders which would be the basis for the exclusion of such alien seaman from the United States, and (b) is not afflicted with any disease which would endanger the public health if such alien seaman were permitted to land temporarily in the United States. Any alien seaman who is certified by the medical examiner as afflicted with any such disease or defect shall be detained on board or at quarantine or other station designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived shall be notified in writing by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival of the certification of such alien seaman, and such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel while such certification remains in force. Any alien seaman who is certified by the medical examiner as afflicted with any such disease or defect may, within five days after the service of such certification upon the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, or within such further time as may be allowed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, be given a physical and mental examination by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, if there be such an officer at the port of arrival, and if there be no such officer at the port of arrival, then by a civil surgeon appointed by the Secretary of Labor for the purpose. If, upon such examination, such medical officer or civil surgeon finds that such alien seaman is not afflicted with any such disease or defect, he shall issue a certificate to that effect, which shall entitle such alien seaman to admission into the United States from the certification by the medical examiner, but not from any other cause. No vessel shall be granted clearance bearing the certification of any alien seaman in respect of whom such certification appears, except after the expiration of five days from the service of such certification upon the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, or upon the expiration of such further time, not exceeding five days, as may be allowed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, unless such alien seaman has been certified by the medical examiner as not afflicted with any such disease or defect, or unless such certification has been withdrawn, prior to the expiration of such time, by the medical examiner who issued the certification, or unless such alien seaman has been granted a temporary permit to land for medical treatment, or unless such alien seaman has been granted a temporary permit to land for the purpose of submitting himself to the examination of the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival, or civil surgeon appointed by the Secretary of Labor for the purpose, or unless such alien seaman has been granted a temporary permit to land for the purpose of receiving treatment in a hospital, or unless such alien seaman has been granted a temporary permit to land for the purpose of participating in the funeral of a relative, or unless such alien seaman has been granted a temporary permit to land for the purpose of visiting a relative who is dangerously ill, and has given a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500, as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States upon the expiration of such temporary permit, or upon the revocation thereof, or upon the failure of such alien seaman to present himself for such examination at the time and place required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Any alien seaman who has been certified by the medical examiner as afflicted with any such disease or defect, and who has been granted a temporary permit to land for any of the purposes specified in this section, shall be immediately deported to the country to which he belongs or from which he came to the United States, in accordance with the provisions of section 19 of this Act, upon the certification of the Secretary of Labor that deportation can be accomplished without serious danger to the public health, unless such alien seaman shall, within such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, not exceeding four months, be certified by the medical examiner as not afflicted with any such disease or defect, or unless such certification has been withdrawn, prior to the expiration of such time, by the medical examiner who issued the certification, or unless such alien seaman has been granted a temporary permit to land for medical treatment, or unless such alien seaman has been granted a temporary permit to land for the purpose of participating in the funeral of a relative, or unless such alien seaman has been granted a temporary permit to land for the purpose of visiting a relative who is dangerously ill, and has given a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500, as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States upon the expiration of such temporary permit, or upon the revocation thereof, or upon the failure of such alien seaman to present himself for such examination at the time and place required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. No alien seaman shall be granted clearance bearing the certification of any alien seaman in respect of whom such certification appears, except after the expiration of the time or of any part of the time allowed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the alien seaman to present himself for such examination, or after the revocation of such certification, or after the granting of a temporary permit to land for the purpose of participating in the funeral of a relative, or for the purpose of visiting a relative who is dangerously ill, and the giving of a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500, as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States upon the expiration of such temporary permit, or upon the revocation thereof, or upon the failure of such alien seaman to present himself for such examination at the time and place required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, unless it be established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been prevented by reasons beyond his control from complying with the conditions upon the basis of which he was granted a temporary permit to land, and that no fault or neglect on his part contributed to such failure.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section or who shall fail to present himself for such examination at the time and place required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who shall depart from the United States without having been granted a temporary permit to land for the purpose of participating in the funeral of a relative, or for the purpose of visiting a relative who is dangerously ill, or who shall fail to depart from the United States upon the revocation of such temporary permit, or upon the failure to present himself for such examination at the time and place required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who shall fail to depart from the United States upon the withdrawal of the certification by the medical examiner who issued the certification, or upon the failure of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived to present him for such examination, or who shall fail to depart from the United States upon the failure of such master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel to deposit the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such certification appears, except after the expiration of the time or of any part of the time allowed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the alien seaman to present himself for such examination, or after the revocation of such certification, or after the granting of a temporary permit to land for the purpose of participating in the funeral of a relative, or for the purpose of visiting a relative who is dangerously ill, and the giving of a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500, as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States upon the expiration of such temporary permit, or upon the revocation thereof, or upon the failure of such alien seaman to present himself for such examination at the time and place required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, unless it be established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been prevented by reasons beyond his control from complying with the conditions upon the basis of which he was granted a temporary permit to land, and that no fault or neglect on his part contributed to such failure, shall be deported on the warrant heretofore or hereafter issued by the Secretary of Labor, in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived, and also any vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment reasonably assured to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 22 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all seamen [text cannot be read] who arrived in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

[illegible] to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 hereof, but not [illegible] notice of the case made.

Par. 4. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fine imposed by section 16 have been determined, and not then unless notice of intention to make application for remission or mitigation of such fine is filed with the collector of customs within ten days after the date of the determination of the fine by the Secretary of Labor, except temporarily for medical treatment, or deportation of such alien shall be suspended, pending the action of the Secretary of Labor, in the case of the fine imposed by section 16 (a) hereof, and such fine shall not be remitted or mitigated unless it appears to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the fine was imposed without reasonable cause, or that the vessel on which the alien seaman was employed on arrival in the United States or on which he was destined to depart therefrom has been sold while the fine was unpaid, and that neither the owner, master, consignee, nor agent of such vessel was connected with the sale for the purpose of avoiding payment of the fine, and that the vessel has left the United States never to return. Application for remission or mitigation of such fine shall be made only by the owner, master, consignee, or agent of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived or on which he was destined to depart from the United States, and shall be filed with the collector of customs at the port of arrival of the vessel at which the alien seaman arrived or was destined to depart from the United States. Upon the filing of such application the collector of customs shall forward it, together with his recommendation thereon, to the Secretary of Labor, who shall cause such investigation to be made as he shall deem necessary. Pending the investigation and decision by the Secretary of Labor, clearance of the vessel concerned shall not be withheld because of the pendency of such application, if a bond or undertaking has been filed in accordance with the provisions of section 16 (b) hereof, and clearance may be granted upon the deposit of money or the filing of a bond or undertaking approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every fine or any part thereof refunded pursuant to the determination of such decision upon the application provided for in section 16 (b) hereof shall be refunded by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived, and also any vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment reasonably assured to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 22 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all seamen [text cannot be read] who arrived in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival [here continue the names of all aliens employed on such vessel in any capacity whatever, other and whether they were temporarily shipped or signed, and specifically state as to the alien seamen therein employed the following [here repeat in tabular form the information required by section 12 hereof]. That if any alien seaman [here continue as under (a)] shall be discharged in the port of arrival; or that information as under (a) and (b) hereof shall be furnished as to all alien seamen who have signed or shipped on such vessel at any foreign port or place, but who have not been carried thereon when the vessel leaves the port of arrival; or that any alien seaman who has been carried on such vessel from any foreign port or place has been left behind, such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall report the cause for the failure to carry or the departure without such alien seaman, and deposit with the collector of customs at the port of arrival a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the return of such alien seaman to the country whence he came, as determined by the Secretary of Labor, unless such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been duly discharged in a foreign port or has been forcibly detained from such vessel without fault on the part of such master, agent, consignee, or owner. Such deposit shall be refunded only upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has reported to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for examination, or has been otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, or upon the payment to the Secretary of Labor of the cost of the return of such alien seaman, as determined by him, to the country whence he came. Any money deposited under the provisions of this section which is not refunded within two years after the date of deposit shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as a special fund to be used by the Secretary of Labor for the maintenance of the United States Immigrant Stations, and for the enforcement of the immigration laws at seaports.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector [illegible] the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector (not) [illegible] boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and at no instance by mail or otherwise by any person [illegible] the vessel. The list of aliens so required to be delivered on board [illegible] the vessel at the port of arrival shall be delivered to the principal immigration officer at the port. "Master" as used herein includes the person in charge of a vessel other than a vessel of the United States.

UNITED STATES

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excepted from admission into the United States under the immigration laws now or hereafter in force, except under such conditions as may be prescribed pursuant to such laws, unless he (1) is a bona fide alien seaman coming temporarily to the United States solely in pursuance of the usual duties of his occupation; (2) is a bona fide alien seaman who is in possession of a valid passport issued by or under the authority of the country of which he claims nationality, or which issued the last passport in his possession; (3) is a bona fide alien seaman who is in possession of a valid passport issued by or under the authority of the country of which he claims nationality, or which issued the last passport in his possession, and who is destined to the country which issued his passport and intends to return to the port from which he departed within a period not exceeding four months; (4) is a bona fide alien seaman who is in possession of a valid passport issued by or under the authority of the country of which he claims nationality, or which issued the last passport in his possession, and who is destined to a country other than the country which issued his passport and intends to return to the port from which he departed within a period not exceeding four months; or (5) is a bona fide alien seaman who is in possession of a valid passport issued by or under the authority of the country of which he claims nationality, or which issued the last passport in his possession, and who is destined to the United States and intends to depart therefrom within a period not exceeding four months, and who is not within any of the classes enumerated in section 3 as excluded from admission into the United States, may be admitted in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, under such conditions as he may prescribe, for such period of time as he may deem necessary, not exceeding four months, and under such bond as he may require, to secure the departure of such alien seaman from the United States upon the completion of his authorized shore leave or upon the departure of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or upon the departure of any other vessel or vessels on which he may be permitted by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to depart: Provided, That clearance may be refused in the case of any alien seaman who has been certified by the Public Health Service as suffering from a communicable disease which would be a ground for exclusion from the United States under section 3 of this Act.

SEC. 16. (a) After the commencement of this Act no alien seaman shall be admitted into the United States under the immigration laws now or hereafter in force, except temporarily for medical treatment, or deportation of such alien shall be suspended, pending the action of the Secretary of Labor, except upon the affirmative recommendation of the medical examiner, or one of his medical examiners, that such alien seaman (a) is not afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders which would be the basis for the exclusion of such alien seaman from the United States, and (b) is not afflicted with any disease which would endanger the public health if such alien seaman were permitted to land temporarily in the United States. Any alien seaman who is certified by the medical examiner as afflicted with any such disease or defect shall be detained on board or at quarantine or other station designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived shall be notified in writing by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival of the certification of such alien seaman, and such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel while such certification remains in force. Any alien seaman who is certified by the medical examiner as afflicted with any such disease or defect may, within five days after the service of such certification upon the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, or within such further time as may be allowed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, be given a physical and mental examination by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, if there be such an officer at the port of arrival, and if there be no such officer at the port of arrival, then by a civil surgeon appointed by the Secretary of Labor for the purpose. If, upon such examination, such medical officer or civil surgeon finds that such alien seaman is not afflicted with any such disease or defect, he shall issue a certificate to that effect, which shall entitle such alien seaman to admission into the United States from the certification by the medical examiner, but not from any other cause. No vessel shall be granted clearance bearing the certification of any alien seaman in respect of whom such certification appears, except after the expiration of the time or of any part of the time allowed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the alien seaman to present himself for such examination, or after the revocation of such certification, or after the granting of a temporary permit to land for the purpose of participating in the funeral of a relative, or for the purpose of visiting a relative who is dangerously ill, and the giving of a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500, as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States upon the expiration of such temporary permit, or upon the revocation thereof, or upon the failure of such alien seaman to present himself for such examination at the time and place required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, unless it be established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been prevented by reasons beyond his control from complying with the conditions upon the basis of which he was granted a temporary permit to land, and that no fault or neglect on his part contributed to such failure.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section or who shall fail to present himself for such examination at the time and place required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who shall depart from the United States without having been granted a temporary permit to land for the purpose of participating in the funeral of a relative, or for the purpose of visiting a relative who is dangerously ill, or who shall fail to depart from the United States upon the revocation of such temporary permit, or upon the failure to present himself for such examination at the time and place required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who shall fail to depart from the United States upon the withdrawal of the certification by the medical examiner who issued the certification, or upon the failure of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived to present him for such examination, or who shall fail to depart from the United States upon the failure of such master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel to deposit the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such certification appears, except after the expiration of the time or of any part of the time allowed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the alien seaman to present himself for such examination, or after the revocation of such certification, or after the granting of a temporary permit to land for the purpose of participating in the funeral of a relative, or for the purpose of visiting a relative who is dangerously ill, and the giving of a bond in such sum, not exceeding $500, as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States upon the expiration of such temporary permit, or upon the revocation thereof, or upon the failure of such alien seaman to present himself for such examination at the time and place required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, unless it be established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been prevented by reasons beyond his control from complying with the conditions upon the basis of which he was granted a temporary permit to land, and that no fault or neglect on his part contributed to such failure, shall be deported on the warrant heretofore or hereafter issued by the Secretary of Labor, in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived, and also any vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment reasonably assured to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 22 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all seamen [text cannot be read] who arrived in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall be delivered by the master to the inspector in charge at the port of departure in the case of vessels arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place adjacent thereto, and in the case of vessels arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place not adjacent thereto, but which touch at a Canadian port for the purpose of taking on passengers destined to the United States, before such vessels leave such Canadian port. The list of persons on board such vessels shall not be required to be prepared, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving vessel is not required to report to a United States consular officer abroad, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That every alien arriving at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place is shall be in the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel to which he may belong or in which he may arrive to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists or manifests of all aliens on board such vessel, stating the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, race, last residence, seaport for landing in the United States, final destination, whether they have a ticket through, whether the passage is paid by themselves or others, whether in possession of money, and amount if any exceeds $50, whether married or single, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends and their address, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or assistance of any kind to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, whether in possession of a ticket to final destination, whether coming by reason of any relative having sent for him, whether having been deported or excluded from the United States and previous cause for same, whether coming on account of any political or religious disturbance or revolution in his native country, whether a person who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether a person who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching disbelief in or opposition to organized government, and such facts as may be required to show the nationality, identity, and location of aliens who may be subject to deportation under the provisions of this Act, which said lists or manifests shall be prepared at such time prior to the departure of such vessel from the last port outside the United States as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and such additional information required for the proper administration and enforcement of this Act as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe from time to time, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, regarding the movements of aliens coming into, passing through, or departing from the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may by general rules limit the application of this section to certain classes of aliens or to certain ports.

SEC. 37. (a) That any person, partnership, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien who is not clearly and beyond a reasonable doubt entitled under the provisions of this Act to enter the United States shall be required to take such alien back to the place from which he came, and the cost of the maintenance of such alien while in the United States pending the return of such alien, not exceeding $10 per day for the time he may be detained, and the cost of the return transportation of such alien, shall be paid by the owner of the vessel bringing such alien to the United States. Any person, partnership, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of this section or with any lawful rule or regulation made by the Secretary of Labor in pursuance thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien as to whom such refusal or neglect occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien who may not be admitted to the United States or who shall be deported therefrom shall, at the option of the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, be returned to such foreign contiguous territory, if otherwise admissible under the immigration laws.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall not approve the landing of any alien arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, he may cause such alien to be returned to such foreign contiguous territory.

(d) Every alien who may not be admitted to the United States or who shall be deported therefrom shall, at the option of the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, be returned to such foreign contiguous territory, if otherwise admissible under the immigration laws.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall not approve the landing of any alien arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, he may cause such alien to be returned to such foreign contiguous territory.

(f) That aliens in any alien seaman shall not appear upon the customs manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or shall not be able to establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that they are not subject to deportation under the provisions of this Act, they shall be deported to the country from which they came, or to the country of which they are subjects or citizens, at the option of the master of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory.

(g) Section 33 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all seamen, their wives, children, and dependents, and as to all seamen, arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

SEC. 41. No alien seaman entering the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, except temporary visitors for pleasure, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, until the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival has been notified by the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure of the name of such alien seaman (which notification to all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or deportation of such alien from the United States. Any alien seaman employed on any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who is refused a landing certificate by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place who is not duly listed on the vessel's manifest, shall be deported to the country to which he belongs, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States shall furnish a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(h) That aliens in any alien seaman shall not appear upon the customs manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or shall not be able to establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that they are not subject to deportation under the provisions of this Act, they shall be deported to the country from which they came, or to the country of which they are subjects or citizens, at the option of the master of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or to any country which may be willing to receive them.

(i) If the Secretary of Labor shall not approve the landing of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, he may cause such alien to be returned to such foreign contiguous territory.

(j) Section 33 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all seamen, their wives, children, and dependents, and as to all seamen, arriving in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below should be prepared on plain white paper approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding your vessel on the port of arrival, but should not be delivered to him in advance of taking from the vessel. The list of aliens to undergo a mental examination should be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival at least one hour before the vessel reaches the dock, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry (or first stop in the United States, if the vessel is destined to a port in Canada) at least twenty-four hours before the vessel reaches the dock. The list of aliens to undergo a physical examination only shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival at least one hour before the vessel reaches the dock.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of every vessel bringing any alien to the United States to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a true and complete list, or manifest, of all such aliens on board such vessel, stating their full names, the places of their birth, their last residence, their intended destination in the United States, whether they have a ticket through to such destination, whether the passage is paid by themselves or by others, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends and their residence, whether they have been in the United States before, and if so when and how long ago, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they are coming under contract to perform labor, whether they are connected with any criminal institution or penal institution, whether they are deformed or crippled, and if so how, what is their age, sex, marital condition, whether they are male or female citizens of the United States, whether they are citizens of any foreign country, and if so which, the race or people to which they belong, the last country of which they were citizens or subjects, the port at which they landed in the United States, the final destination, if any, beyond the immediate destination, and whether they intend to become citizens of the United States, whether they have a ticket through to such destination, whether they have been assisted to come, and if so by whom, whether they have a relative or friend (and if so what relative or friend) in the country to which they go, whether they have been in any penal institution, almshouse, or hospital, or asylum for the insane or feebleminded, or supported by charity, and whether they are coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States, and what is the condition of health, mental and physical, of each alien, whether deformed or crippled, and if so how, and what is the height and complexion of each alien, the color of hair and eyes, and marks of identification, if any, and such other facts regarding the history, character, and identity of such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Every such master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall subscribe and verify the list of such aliens required of him by oath before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall answer such further questions touching the right of any alien to enter the United States as may be put to him by such officer. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses to deliver such list, or who refuses to subscribe and verify the same, or who refuses to answer such questions, or who refuses to detain on board his vessel or other vessel or vessels under his control such aliens as may be designated for special inquiry by the immigration officer, or who refuses to pay the cost of their detention as hereinafter provided, or who refuses to deliver a true and correct list of the aliens on board such vessel, or who refuses to allow the immigration officer to enter such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same and the aliens thereon, or who refuses to assist such officer in the performance of his duties in respect to such aliens, or who refuses to prevent any such alien from landing in violation of law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Such fine shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem, and clearance may be withheld or granted upon bond or deposit of money sufficient to cover the amount of such fine, pending the decision of the court upon the question of the liability of the vessel therefor. Every such master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall also be severally liable to the United States for the full amount of such fine, and such fine may be recovered in a civil action in the name of the United States. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of such sum as may be required by the collector of customs, or bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien who shall come to the United States from any foreign port or place, or from the Canal Zone, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, the Philippine Islands, Guam, Tutuila, or Panama, and who shall not be in possession of a valid immigration visa and passport, or who is not within one of the classes enumerated as not to be excluded, or who is excluded by the Board of Special Inquiry, shall be detained upon the vessel or at the port of arrival, pending a determination as to whether he may be allowed to enter the United States or shall be sent back on the vessel or other vessel or vessels in which he came, or to the country whence he came, or to the country from which he sailed or which is his native country, or to such other country as may be willing to receive him, at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived. Pending such determination, the decision of the Board of Special Inquiry shall be subject to review by the Secretary of Labor, whose duty it shall be to affirm, modify, or reverse such decision within two working days after the entry of the order of the Board. Notice of such decision shall be given to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel upon which such alien arrived, and to the transportation company which brought such alien to the United States. Pending such review, the decision of the Board of Special Inquiry shall be final as to rejection and deportation of such aliens unless an appeal is taken in writing by such master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel upon which such alien arrived, to the Secretary of Labor within such time. Such appeal shall operate to suspend the deportation of such aliens pending the decision thereon of the Secretary of Labor and the completion of the proceedings incident thereto. Such appeal shall be decided within ten days after the record and the evidence shall have been received by the Secretary of Labor, and notice of his decision shall be given to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel upon which such alien arrived, and to the transportation company which brought such alien to the United States. Pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor, such aliens shall be detained in the custody of the immigration officers at the port of arrival, and shall be returned on the vessel bringing them to the vessel or other vessels in which they arrived, or to the country whence they came, or to the country from which they sailed, or which is their native country, or to such other country as may be willing to receive them, at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel bringing them to the United States. Such vessel shall be prohibited from discharging any passengers in the United States until authorized by the Secretary of Labor or his duly authorized representative, except in cases certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital at the port of arrival as being seriously ill and incapable of being removed without danger to life, and except that passengers who have been duly admitted may be discharged as their examinations are completed. Masters, agents, consignees, or owners of vessels who shall fail to return aliens as required by this section shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien not returned, and no vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty. Such penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem, and clearance may be withheld or granted upon bond or deposit of money sufficient to cover such fine, pending the decision of the court upon the question of the liability of the vessel therefor. Every such master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall also be severally liable to the United States for the full amount of such fine, and such fine may be recovered in a civil action in the name of the United States. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of such sum as may be required by the collector of customs, or bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) From and after the expiration of ninety days after the passage of this Act no vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any place outside the United States shall be granted clearance papers or a permit to proceed to another port until the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel has delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a certificate signed by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, or by a surgeon of the United States Army or Navy, or by a medical officer of the Bureau of Immigration, that there is on board such vessel at the time of her departure no person who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities which would be ground for exclusion by the boards of special inquiry provided for in this Act, other than such as may be specifically certified to the Secretary of Labor and by him permitted to land temporarily or permanently in the United States. Such certificate shall be based upon a personal examination made by the medical officer signing the same of each person on board such vessel, and the certificate shall state the number examined. Such examination shall include a thorough physical examination of every alien on board such vessel, except that in the case of aliens in transit through the United States, and in the case of aliens who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who are returning from a temporary visit abroad, the Secretary of Labor may by general rules limit the examination to such cases as he may deem necessary to detect the presence of contagious diseases dangerous to the public health. Upon the refusal of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to deliver such certificate, or upon the refusal of any alien to submit to such examination, a certificate stating such refusal and the cause thereof shall be delivered to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and such vessel shall be prohibited from discharging any passengers in the United States until authorized by the Secretary of Labor or his duly authorized representative. Upon the refusal of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to pay the cost of the detention of such alien, or to furnish a bond sufficient to cover such cost, or to pay the head tax for such alien, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, cause such alien to be detained at the port of arrival, or at such other place as he may designate, pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the admissibility of such alien, and the cost of such detention shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem, and clearance may be withheld or granted upon bond or deposit of money sufficient to cover such cost. Every such master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall also be severally liable to the United States for the full amount of such cost, and such cost may be recovered in a civil action in the name of the United States. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of such sum as may be required by the collector of customs, or bond with sufficient surety to secure such cost.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted over vessel until the fines required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been paid, unless notice of appeal from such fines has been duly filed with the Secretary of Labor as provided by section 39 of said Act, and a bond filed in such sum as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned to pay such fines in case the appeal is decided against the appellant.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the safekeeping, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except foreign ports contiguous to the United States, and except as provided in subdivision (c) of section 3, shall cause each alien seaman employed on such vessel duly examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and shall cause to be given to each alien seaman on board such vessel a certificate of such examination, and shall furnish to such immigration officer a complete list of such alien seamen on board such vessel, which shall include a personal physical examination of the medical examiner(s), stating that each seaman (which list of all aliens shall include all persons examined, whether they are discharged or not) has been found to be actually in possession of a valid immigration visa, or to be duly registered as a resident alien, or to be a citizen of the United States, or to be entitled to admission without such visa, and stating the foreign port at which each such seaman received his immigration visa, if any. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the Secretary of Labor to do so, and shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located a head tax of $8 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the application to permit an alien seaman to land, or after the same has been denied, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such application upon the deposit of such sum as a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof as may be required by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien who shall come to the United States from any foreign port or place, or from the Canal Zone, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, the Philippine Islands, Guam, Tutuila, or Panama, and who shall not be in possession of a valid immigration visa and passport, or who is not within one of the classes enumerated as not to be excluded, or who is excluded by the Board of Special Inquiry, shall be detained upon the vessel or at the port of arrival, pending a determination as to whether he may be allowed to enter the United States or shall be sent back on the vessel or other vessel or vessels in which he came, or to the country whence he came, or to the country from which he sailed or which is his native country, or to such other country as may be willing to receive him, at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived. Pending such determination, the decision of the Board of Special Inquiry shall be final as to rejection and deportation of such aliens unless an appeal is taken in writing by such master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which such alien arrived, to the Secretary of Labor within such time. Such appeal shall operate to suspend the deportation of such aliens pending the decision thereon of the Secretary of Labor and the completion of the proceedings incident thereto. Such appeal shall be decided within ten days after the record and the evidence shall have been received by the Secretary of Labor, and notice of his decision shall be given to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel upon which such alien arrived, and to the transportation company which brought such alien to the United States. Pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor, such aliens shall be detained in the custody of the immigration officers at the port of arrival, and shall be returned on the vessel bringing them to the vessel or other vessels in which they arrived, or to the country whence they came, or to the country from which they sailed, or which is their native country, or to such other country as may be willing to receive them, at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel bringing them to the United States. Such vessel shall be prohibited from discharging any passengers in the United States until authorized by the Secretary of Labor or his duly authorized representative, except in cases certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital at the port of arrival as being seriously ill and incapable of being removed without danger to life, and except that passengers who have been duly admitted may be discharged as their examinations are completed. Masters, agents, consignees, or owners of vessels who shall fail to return aliens as required by this section shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien not returned, and no vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty. Such penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem, and clearance may be withheld or granted upon bond or deposit of money sufficient to cover such fine, pending the decision of the court upon the question of the liability of the vessel therefor. Every such master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall also be severally liable to the United States for the full amount of such fine, and such fine may be recovered in a civil action in the name of the United States. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of such sum as may be required by the collector of customs, or bond with sufficient surety to secure such fine.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], of the S.S. R. P. [illegible], do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during the past twelve months.

I have noted the cowl of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 23, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes to alien members (Form 583) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival if alien members are to be landed on the trip. Write "NONE" in the margin of the list if no aliens are carried.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons embarked on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the said persons who are to be landed in the port of arrival; to list contraband of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the said vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of the said vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to each immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or discharged, and of all alien members of the crew who have been left behind in any foreign port or place, with the cause or reason therefor as far as known, and the final destination of such persons, respectively, so far as the same can be ascertained at the time of the departure of the said vessel from the United States: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax.

Tax.—A clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the taxes required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been fully settled, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative tax prescribed by said section 36 to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act shall have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 11. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof; and no alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to depart on board the vessel or some other vessel for a foreign port within the period for which he was admitted as a temporary visitor, unless prevented from so doing by sickness or other cause beyond his control which shall be certified by the consular officer of the United States in the district in which he was temporarily domiciled, or if there be no consular officer there, by the consular officer of the United States nearest his temporary domicile, shall be deported to the country whose citizen or subject he is, or in which he last resided, in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. The cost of any such deportation shall be paid from the appropriation for the enforcement of the provisions of this Act. Any such alien seaman who shall come to the United States during the period of his temporary admission and shall depart therefrom otherwise than on board the vessel on which he arrived shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law, unless the Secretary of Labor is satisfied that his departure was caused by reasons beyond his control. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any time during the period for which he was admitted and who shall not depart therefrom on board the vessel on which he arrived shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law, unless the Secretary of Labor is satisfied that his departure was caused by reasons beyond his control. Any such alien seaman who shall come to the United States during the period of his temporary admission and shall depart therefrom otherwise than

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detainment to such temporary extent as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board such vessel any alien (while inspection of all crew shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman, or who fails to detain on board such vessel such seaman if required by such immigration officer to the full extent of the facilities for detaining such seamen on board vessel, or who fails to report the illness or death of such seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the sufficiency of the number of such alien seamen detained, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof therein provided by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof shall be filed as soon as practicable after the departure of the vessel on which the unlawful inmates of the vessel were detained, and if it appears upon the application of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer, shall be prima facie evidence to a justification of such failure to detain or report alien seamen, that such inmates of the vessel were specially shipped by the immigration officer at the request of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted upon vessel until the liens rendered by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act, January next, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held for examination in the port of arrival; to list separately the names of aliens in transit through the United States to foreign countries, and to report the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who shall have been left behind, and the cause for detention. Any person who shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully and completely to the best of his knowledge any question touching the immigration, nationality, right to land, last legal residence, and intended destination of any alien on board such vessel, or who shall refuse to allow the inspection of such vessel and the aliens thereon by the immigrant inspectors, or who shall refuse to detain any alien on board such vessel when directed so to do by the immigrant inspectors, or who shall refuse to deliver lists containing the names of all aliens on board such vessel, or who shall refuse to report the illness or death of any alien on board such vessel, or who shall refuse to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the time of inspection such information in writing concerning each alien as the Secretary of Labor may require, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

The list described below will be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members to form (USB form 509) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the Immigration Inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members (Form 588) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port, who will examine the "remarks" column and the boarding officer's indorsement.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessel, arranged in the groups and in the order prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and to report the additions to and subtractions from such lists of such members of the crew as shall have occurred since the departure of such vessel from her last foreign port or place, and to deliver to such officer lists containing the names of all persons who have been shipped or engaged in any port or place during the interval. Such lists shall be delivered before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, and in the event such alien is found to be unlawfully in the United States he shall be deported at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or it has been guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor. Any person who shall willfully refuse to furnish such information when demanded by any officer of the United States authorized to procure the same, or who shall willfully conceal or attempt to conceal, remove, or destroy any such alien, or who shall willfully make any false statement or report with reference to any such alien shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been fully complied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said act shall have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to depart on board the vessel or some other vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and the master of such vessel have been notified by the boarding officer that such alien seaman has been inspected, such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board the vessel or some other vessel on which such alien seaman may be employed when ordered to do so by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the alien seaman under bond, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination on such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the conditions mentioned in the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be refused by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a willful failure to depart.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, and such vessel is not granted clearance until such expense has been paid or it has been guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 689) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act having been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered on it until so directed by a time report is not made as above provided, while it remains pending; nor shall such time be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance papers of aliens members of the crew (from 68A) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessels in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board the vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively engaged, and where they are going, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor or by any person duly authorized by him, touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, which lists shall be delivered by the master of the vessel at the time of the inspection of the vessel as to the persons named therein, and no person shall be allowed to land from any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place until the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel has delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every alien employed on board the vessel, and has obtained the permit of such officer to land the same. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to allow any immigration officer to enter the vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same, or who shall land or permit to be landed any alien employed on board such vessel before the inspection of such alien by the proper immigration officer, or before such officer shall have given a permit for the landing of such alien, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien so landed or permitted to be landed, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver to the Secretary of Labor, or to any person duly authorized by him, the lists required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully and completely any question touching the right of any alien to enter the United States asked by the Secretary of Labor or by any person duly authorized by him, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the right to land of any alien concerning whom any such question is raised, and such determination shall be made prior to the granting of clearance papers, if practicable, and without unnecessary detention of the vessel. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the right to land of any alien, or pending the taking of any appeal provided for in this section, unless security is given to the satisfaction of the collector of customs in such sum as he may require, not exceeding $500 for each alien with respect to whom such appeal is taken, conditioned upon the return of such alien to the country from which he came if he is found not to be entitled to land under the provisions of this section or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force, and upon the payment of such duties as may be assessed against him under the provisions of the general tariff law: Provided, That clearance papers may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax and such additional sum as may be required to defray the expenses which may accrue in the maintenance of such alien pending the decision of the question of his right to land, such deposit to be made in such manner and under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund any moneys deposited for the purpose of paying the head tax of any alien who is found not to be subject to such tax.

(b) Proof shall be made as to each seaman who may appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who may be discharged from any vessel on which he arrived in the United States, by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, or his duly authorized representative, before the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel as the vessel on which he arrived or on the vessel on which he arrives at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board the vessel arriving in the United States from the foreign contiguous territory of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, or adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of quarantine, or because of actual necessity, to be certified by the immigration officer in charge at the port of debarkation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except from the contiguous territory of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, or adjacent islands, shall be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and a record made of the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and such other facts concerning each alien seaman employed on board such vessel as may be required by such immigration officer to the same extent and in the same manner as provided by the rules and regulations governing the admission of aliens to the United States. Such examination shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners, which shall be made in all cases at the time of arrival at the port of arrival, if practicable, and in other cases as soon thereafter as practicable. Any alien seaman found upon such examination to be suffering from any contagious disease specified in the first section of the Act approved February 15, 1893, entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens to the United States," or any amendatory Act, shall be certified to the Secretary of Labor for action as provided in said Act. Any alien seaman found upon such examination to be suffering from any mental disease specified in said Act, or any physical defect which may affect his ability to earn a living, shall be certified to the Secretary of Labor for action as provided in said Act. Any alien seaman found upon such examination to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease not specified in said Act shall be certified to the Secretary of Labor, who shall cause him to be detained on board or at quarantine or such other place as he may designate for such time as may be necessary for his treatment and cure, or until he shall be certified to be no longer a menace to the public health, and shall cause him to be removed to the country from which he came to the United States or to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, within five years after the date of his arrival in the United States. Any alien seaman certified by the Secretary of Labor to be so afflicted shall be placed in a hospital for treatment and cure at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States shall enter into a bond in such amount as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, with sufficient sureties, conditioned for the payment of all expenses incurred in the maintenance and treatment of such alien seaman in such hospital, and for the return of such alien seaman to the country from which he came to the United States or to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, within five years after the date of his arrival in the United States. Any alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel on which he arrived in the United States shall be returned thereto or to any vessel bound to the same port and owned by the same interests as the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, or his duly authorized representative, before the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Proof shall be made as to each seaman who may appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who may be discharged from any vessel on which he arrived in the United States, by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, or his duly authorized representative, before the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel as the vessel on which he arrived or on the vessel on which he arrives at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes to this memorandum to cover (form 583) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When no arriving seaman is a "nonresident" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arriving at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival here complete lists of the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; or lists containing no more of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer or to the collector of customs at the last port at which such vessel touched before departing from the United States a list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who thereafter, and prior to the departure of such vessel, shipped or entered, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted, during the period of such employment, respectively, and also the cause of desertion of those deserting, such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver lists of the aliens employed on such vessel at the port of arrival, and also a list of all aliens employed on board such vessel at any intermediate port, to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival in the United States from which the vessel departs, and it shall be the duty of the master of such vessel to deliver to such inspector, when requested, a list containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel at the time of such departure, and the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those who have deserted, during the period of such employment, respectively, and also the cause of desertion of those deserting, such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such inspector, when requested, a list containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel at the time of such departure, and the names of those, if any, who have been left behind at any foreign port or place from which such vessel may have cleared, and the cause for leaving them behind, so far as known to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel, and the last known address in the United States of any such alien so left behind, and shall furnish such other information in relation to such aliens as the Secretary of Labor may require. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master failing to deliver such lists or any of the matters required to be stated therein shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report of the departure of such vessel, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid the vessel shall be refused clearance by

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States may be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless a certificate in his behalf, signed by the consular officer in charge at the port of departure, be presented to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival stating that the seaman is not in the opinion of the consular officer, affected with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified as grounds for exclusion in the immigration laws, other than those relating to insanity, mental defect, epilepsy, and constitutional psychopathic inferiority, and that in the opinion of the consular officer the admission into the United States of such seaman is not prejudicial to or inconsistent with the public interest, and (except in the case of a seaman employed on a vessel which touches only at ports in the United States) unless a certificate has been issued by the Secretary of Labor to the effect that a competent medical officer has examined such seaman and found him to be free from the mental and physical defects and diseases specified above: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations governing the physical examination of seamen and the certification of those entitled to be certified under this section, and may employ in foreign ports such consular officers of the United States as he deems necessary for the certification of seamen under this section, and may designate such other persons in the service of the United States as he may deem necessary to certify seamen in ports of the United States where no consular officer is stationed, and may prescribe reasonable fees, not to exceed $8 in the case of any seaman, for certification by persons other than consular officers: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, require the physical examination of any seaman by surgeons of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, master, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel entering in the United States from any place outside the United States shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and there subscribe and deliver manifests containing such information in such form and such number of copies as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, but the master of any vessel shall not be required to deliver such manifest until twenty-four hours after the entry of the vessel. The Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations for the examination of aliens on board vessels at the time of their arrival at ports of the United States, and may detail or employ such immigrant inspectors at seaboard ports as may be necessary for the prompt inspection, examination, and admission of aliens arriving at such ports. Such inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner(s), of not more than ten per centum of the total number of aliens inspected, or of any alien as to whom the immigrant inspector in charge has knowledge or information that he is or may be affected with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified in section 3 of this Act, or who is deaf, dumb, blind, or otherwise physically defective, or who has been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, or who is a polygamist, or who admits the commission of such crime, or who admits the essential elements of such crime (the term "crime involving moral turpitude" not including purely political offenses), or who is coming to perform unskilled labor (unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that there is no person in the United States available who is capable of performing such labor), or who is an anarchist, or who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such belief or advocating such overthrow or unlawful damage, or who advocates or teaches the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who is a prostitute or procurer, or who has been convicted of or admits having committed a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who has been convicted of or admits having committed a violation of any law or regulation governing the admission of aliens to the United States, or who has been convicted of or admits having committed a violation of the provisions of section 3 of the Act entitled "An Act to regulate the importation of contract laborers and laborers under certain conditions," approved February 26, 1885, as amended by section 5 of the Act entitled "An Act to amend section 3 of the Act entitled 'An Act to regulate the importation of contract laborers and laborers under certain conditions,' approved February 26, 1885, and to make it applicable to the Territories," approved March 3, 1887, or who is a person likely to become a public charge, or who has been deported, unless prior to the application for admission of any such person to the United States the Secretary of Labor has consented in writing to the admission of such person, or who has been arrested and deported in pursuance of the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to execute certain treaty stipulations relating to Chinese," approved May 6, 1882, as amended by the Act entitled "An Act to prohibit the coming of Chinese persons into the United States," approved September 13, 1888, or who has been arrested and deported in pursuance of any law of the United States, or who has been convicted of violating any of the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to prohibit the importation and migration of aliens under contracts or agreements to perform labor, and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof," approved February 26, 1885, as amended, or who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens into the United States," approved March 3, 1903, as amended, or who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to prohibit the importation and employment of aliens in certain occupations in the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, and Porto Rico," approved May 27, 1924, as amended, or who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to prohibit the importation and employment of aliens on foreign vessels in the coastwise trade of the United States," approved June 5, 1920, as amended, or who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to prohibit the importation and employment of aliens on foreign vessels in the fisheries of the United States and Alaska," approved June 21, 1906, as amended, or who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to prohibit the importation and employment of aliens on foreign vessels engaged in the transportation of passengers between the United States and the Panama Canal Zone or between the United States and any territory or possession of the United States," approved March 4, 1921, as amended, or who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to prohibit the importation and employment of aliens on foreign vessels engaged in the transportation of passengers between the United States and the Philippine Islands, or between the Philippine Islands and any territory or possession of the United States," approved March 4, 1921, as amended, or who has been convicted of violating the provisions of the Act entitled "An Act to prohibit the importation and employment of aliens on foreign vessels engaged in the transportation of passengers between the United States and the Virgin Islands of the United States," approved March 4, 1921, as amended, or who has been IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department, and he needs two deliveries to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but in all cases before the vessel leaves the port. The list of changes of alien members to be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 528) and not be destroyed or removed from the vessel by any person except an immigrant inspector.

SEC. 36. That upon written order of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving in the United States from a place in the West Indies, Mexico, Central America, Newfoundland, the Panama Canal Zone, or the islands adjacent to any of the same, any alien, including those entering in transit across the United States from one foreign country to another, shall be entitled to enter the United States for the purpose of applying for admission at the port of arrival, and the immigrant inspectors shall have authority to issue certificates to such aliens entitling them to enter the United States for the purpose aforesaid, and to report to the Secretary of Labor the name of any alien to whom such certificate is issued, and the Secretary of Labor shall have power to revoke any such certificate for such cause as may appear sufficient, and such revocation shall be reported to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which such alien arrived, and such alien shall be deported in the same manner as other aliens arriving in the United States in violation of this Act: Provided, That no certificate issued under the provisions of this section shall be valid to permit the landing in the United States of any alien who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient under the provisions of this Act to exclude such alien from admission into the United States, except that certificates may be issued in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor to aliens who are in transit through the United States and who are destined to foreign countries.

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico any alien seaman who is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient ground for excluding such alien from the United States, shall be required to detain such alien seaman on board the vessel until such time as he may be certified to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and a permit issued for his landing by the Secretary of Labor or by such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, unless such seaman is treated in a hospital maintained by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel, in which case a permit may be issued by the Secretary of Labor or by such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of such treatment and incidental expenses, such deposit in no case to be less than $300 nor more than $1,000 for each alien seaman, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and such sum shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for the use of the United States. Upon the recommendation of the medical officer of the public health service, based upon the certificate of the medical examiners, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the detention on board the vessel of any alien seaman afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient ground for excluding such alien from the United States, except that such seaman shall be detained on board the vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have been notified of the arrival of the vessel and shall have given such permit for the landing of such seaman, or such other disposition of him as may be directed by the Secretary of Labor, and the cost of such detention shall be the same as that provided for the maintenance of such seaman in a hospital. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section or with any lawful rule or regulation prescribed by the Secretary of Labor shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any district court of the United States shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense.

(b) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien seaman and fail to report the illness or death of such alien seaman or to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival the certificate in respect of such alien seaman required by this section to be delivered, or who shall fail to detain on board the vessel any alien seaman who has been certified in accordance with the provisions of this section, or who shall land or permit to be landed any alien seaman from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foregoing contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico without the permit of the Secretary of Labor in this section provided, or who shall fail to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival the certificate in respect of each alien seaman required by this section to be delivered, or who shall fail to report the illness or death of any such alien seaman or to deliver to the proper immigration officer the certificate in respect of such alien seaman required by this section to be delivered, or who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this section or with any lawful rule or regulation prescribed by the Secretary of Labor for the enforcement of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction in any district court of the United States shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense.

SEC. 38. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foregoing contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment or hospital relief, during the period the vessel remains in port, but upon the departure of the vessel from the United States such alien seaman shall depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving therein from any place outside the foregoing contiguous territory, or who shall land from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foregoing contiguous territory and who shall not depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

SEC. 39. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the foregoing contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico any alien seaman who has been certified to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for medical examination by the medical examiners, shall be detained on board the vessel until such alien seaman has been examined by one of the medical examiners at the port of arrival, and such examination shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners, and such other investigation as may be necessary to determine whether such alien seaman belongs to any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States by the provisions of this Act. Such examination shall be made with all reasonable speed, and the vessel shall not be delayed unnecessarily. Any such alien seaman who shall be certified by the medical examiners to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient ground for excluding such alien from the United States, except that which is required to be reported by section 38 of this Act, shall be detained on board the vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have been notified of the arrival of the vessel and shall have given such permit for the landing of such seaman, or such other disposition of him as may be directed by the Secretary of Labor, and the cost of such detention shall be the same as that provided for the maintenance of such seaman in a hospital. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section or with any lawful rule or regulation prescribed by the Secretary of Labor for the enforcement of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction in any district court of the United States shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense.

(b) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien seaman and fail to report the illness or death of such alien seaman or to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival the certificate in respect of such alien seaman required by this section to be delivered, or who shall fail to detain on board the vessel any alien seaman who has been certified in accordance with the provisions of this section, or who shall land or permit to be landed any alien seaman from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foregoing contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico without the permit of the Secretary of Labor in this section provided, or who shall fail to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival the certificate in respect of each alien seaman required by this section to be delivered, or who shall fail to report the illness or death of any such alien seaman or to deliver to the proper immigration officer the certificate in respect of such alien seaman required by this section to be delivered, or who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this section or with any lawful rule or regulation prescribed by the Secretary of Labor for the enforcement of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction in any district court of the United States shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment or hospital relief, during the period the vessel remains in port, but upon the departure of the vessel from the United States such alien seaman shall depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving therein from any place outside thereof, or who shall land from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof and who shall not depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory, shall be required to detain on board the vessel such alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), as may be certified to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pursuant to section 18 hereof by such immigration officer or the medical examiners, to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient ground for excluding such alien from admission into the United States under the provisions of this Act, until a permit for the landing of such alien seaman shall have been granted by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor or such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, or until such alien seaman is treated in a hospital maintained by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel, in which case a permit may be issued by the Secretary of Labor or by such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of such treatment and incidental expenses, such deposit in no case to be less than $300 nor more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and such sum shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for the use of the United States. Upon the recommendation of the medical officer of the public health service, based upon the certificate of the medical examiners, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the detention on board the vessel of any alien seaman afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient ground for excluding such alien from the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof shall be made to the satisfaction of the master of the vessel on which any alien seaman shall arrive at a port of the United States from a place outside thereof, or the agent of such vessel as a condition precedent to the granting of a permit to land, that such alien seaman has been duly certified by the medical examiners, and that such permit has been granted by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be responsible for the return on board of any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from such vessel and who shall not depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise, and such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

SEC. 31. Any person who shall bring into the United States from any foreign port or place in the West Indies, Mexico, Central America, Newfoundland, the Panama Canal Zone, or the islands adjacent to any of the same, any alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment or hospital relief, during the period the vessel remains in port, but upon the departure of the vessel from the United States such alien seaman shall depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving therein from any place outside thereof, or who shall land from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof and who shall not depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

SEC. 32. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory, shall be required to detain on board the vessel such alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), as may be certified to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pursuant to section 18 hereof by such immigration officer or the medical examiners, to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient ground for excluding such alien from the United States under the provisions of this Act, until a permit for the landing of such alien seaman shall have been granted by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor or such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, or until such alien seaman is treated in a hospital maintained by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel, in which case a permit may be issued by the Secretary of Labor or by such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of such treatment and incidental expenses, such deposit in no case to be less than $300 nor more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and such sum shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for the use of the United States. Upon the recommendation of the medical officer of the public health service, based upon the certificate of the medical examiners, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the detention on board the vessel of any alien seaman afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient ground for excluding such alien from the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof shall be made to the satisfaction of the master of the vessel on which any alien seaman shall arrive at a port of the United States from a place outside thereof, or the agent of such vessel as a condition precedent to the granting of a permit to land, that such alien seaman has been duly certified by the medical examiners, and that such permit has been granted by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be responsible for the return on board of any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from such vessel and who shall not depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise, and such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

SEC. 33. Any person who shall bring into the United States from any foreign port or place in the West Indies, Mexico, Central America, Newfoundland, the Panama Canal Zone, or the islands adjacent to any of the same, any alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment or hospital relief, during the period the vessel remains in port, but upon the departure of the vessel from the United States such alien seaman shall depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving therein from any place outside thereof, or who shall land from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof and who shall not depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment or hospital relief, during the period the vessel remains in port, but upon the departure of the vessel from the United States such alien seaman shall depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving therein from any place outside thereof, or who shall land from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof and who shall not depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory, shall be required to detain on board the vessel such alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), as may be certified to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pursuant to section 18 hereof by such immigration officer or the medical examiners, to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient ground for excluding such alien from the United States under the provisions of this Act, until a permit for the landing of such alien seaman shall have been granted by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor or such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, or until such alien seaman is treated in a hospital maintained by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel, in which case a permit may be issued by the Secretary of Labor or by such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of such treatment and incidental expenses, such deposit in no case to be less than $300 nor more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and such sum shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for the use of the United States. Upon the recommendation of the medical officer of the public health service, based upon the certificate of the medical examiners, the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the detention on board the vessel of any alien seaman afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient ground for excluding such alien from the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof shall be made to the satisfaction of the master of the vessel on which any alien seaman shall arrive at a port of the United States from a place outside thereof, or the agent of such vessel as a condition precedent to the granting of a permit to land, that such alien seaman has been duly certified by the medical examiners, and that such permit has been granted by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be responsible for the return on board of any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from such vessel and who shall not depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise, and such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

SEC. 31. Any person who shall bring into the United States from any foreign port or place in the West Indies, Mexico, Central America, Newfoundland, the Panama Canal Zone, or the islands adjacent to any of the same, any alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment or hospital relief, during the period the vessel remains in port, but upon the departure of the vessel from the United States such alien seaman shall depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving therein from any place outside thereof, or who shall land from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof and who shall not depart therewith on board thereof or on board some other vessel, unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to depart otherwise, shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

SEC. 32. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory, shall be required to detain on board the vessel such alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), as may be certified to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pursuant to section 18 hereof by such immigration officer or the medical examiners, to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient ground for excluding such alien from the United States under the provisions of this Act, until a permit for the landing of such alien seaman shall have been granted by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor or such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, or until such alien seaman is treated in a hospital maintained by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel, in which case a permit may be issued by the Secretary of Labor or by such person or persons as may be designated by him for that purpose, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of such treatment and incidental expenses, such deposit in no case to be less than $300 nor more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and such sum shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for the use of the United States. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the scene of the boat's arrival in the harbor. The list of crew shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of crewmen to alien members of crew (Form 598) shall not be returned to board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons, including the crew, on board the vessel, showing the nationality, last residence, and destination of each person who is to be landed in the United States, and such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor touching the right of any person to enter the United States, which lists shall be prepared and delivered by the master of the vessel before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer authorized to grant clearance papers for the vessel: Provided, That the master of any vessel may, in lieu of delivering lists of the passengers and crew, present to the collector of customs a copy of the lists required by this section, and the collector shall certify on the copy presented to him that it is a true copy of the lists delivered to the immigration officer, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the master has complied with the provisions of this section. Any master who refuses or neglects to deliver lists or copies thereof as required by this section, or who includes in the lists or copies delivered by him the name of any person who has been landed or who has died during the voyage, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. Upon the refusal of the master to deliver lists or copies thereof, the vessel may be detained at the port of departure until the lists or copies are delivered, but clearance may be granted prior to the delivery of the lists or copies upon the payment by the master of the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, to be remitted by the Secretary of Labor if the master establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master has complied with the provisions of this section to the best of his knowledge and belief and that the failure to deliver correct lists was excusable.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any person on board any vessel is afflicted with any contagious disease, he may, in addition to any other action authorized by this section, order the master to detain such person on board the vessel until a certificate is issued by the United States Public Health Service officer at the port of departure that such person is free from such disease in a communicable form, and the master shall detain such person on board the vessel in accordance with such order. Any master who violates any provision of this subdivision shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been delivered by the master of the vessel to the immigration officer at the port of departure, and the master has made oath before the collector of customs or other officer authorized to administer oath that the lists delivered are true and contain the names of all persons on board the vessel who have been inspected by the United States immigration officers, and that the number of persons who have been taken on board the vessel at any port or place in the United States and who have died or been landed at such port or place since the departure of the vessel from the last port at which clearance was granted has been reported to the immigration officers at the time of such departure, and that the number of persons who have been taken on board the vessel at any port or place in the United States since the departure of the vessel from the last port at which clearance was granted is correctly stated in the lists. Clearance may be granted prior to the delivery of the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, upon the payment by the master of the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, to be remitted by the Secretary of Labor if the master establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master has complied with the provisions of this section to the best of his knowledge and belief and that the failure to deliver correct lists was excusable. Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been delivered by the master of the vessel to the immigration officer at the port of departure, and the master has made oath before the collector of customs or other officer authorized to administer oath that the lists delivered are true and contain the names of all persons on board the vessel who have been inspected by the United States immigration officers, and that the number of persons who have been taken on board the vessel at any port or place in the United States and who have died or been landed at such port or place since the departure of the vessel from the last port at which clearance was granted has been reported to the immigration officers at the time of such departure, and that the number of persons who have been taken on board the vessel at any port or place in the United States since the departure of the vessel from the last port at which clearance was granted is correctly stated in the lists. Clearance may be granted prior to the delivery of the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, upon the payment by the master of the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, to be remitted by the Secretary of Labor if the master establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master has complied with the provisions of this section to the best of his knowledge and belief and that the failure to deliver correct lists was excusable. Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as may render his removal from the United States unsafe, or for the purpose of his discharge by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or authorized officer of the vessel, and in the event such alien is not so discharged he shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have been found to be in the United States in violation of this Act.

SEC. 28. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such alien seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the alien seaman remains thereon, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof or of such sum, or of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, in a case where such bond has been given.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States in violation of the provisions of this section shall not be granted a visa by any consular officer during the period of one year from the date of his departure, unless he is found by the Secretary of Labor to be clearly entitled to enter the United States as a bona fide seaman and to depart therefrom in due course of navigation.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any deportation of an alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States will cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

(b) Any master or commanding officer of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place who shall fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a complete list of all the crew of such vessel, showing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, and the particulars concerning each such alien required by subdivision (a) of this section, or who shall fail to certify to such list, or who shall refuse to permit any such alien to land in the United States, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien employed on any vessel on which he arrives will cause undue hardship to such alien, or to the master or owner of such vessel, and that such alien is not likely to abscond, he may, in his discretion, grant such alien a temporary permit to land in the United States, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, for such period of time as he may deem necessary for such alien's hospital treatment, or pending the final disposition of any case in which such alien is a witness on behalf of the United States, or pending the departure of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than Guam, Tutuila, Swain's Island, Manua, Olosenga, Ofu, Olesega, Tau, Rose Island, or Aunuu in the Tutuilla group, or Kingman Reef, or Palmyra Island, or Johnston Island, or Midway Islands, or Wake Island, or Navassa Island, or Kingsmill Group, or Canton Island, or Enderbury Island, or Hawaii, or Jarvis Island, or Baker Island, or Howland Island, or Guam, or Samoa, or Swains Island, or Virgin Islands of the United States, or Panama Canal Zone, or Porto Rico, shall, before such vessel leaves the port or place at which it arrives, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a complete list of all the crew of such vessel, showing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, and whether in possession of an immigrant visa, of each such alien, and shall indicate which of such aliens intend to land in the United States, and which of such aliens intend to depart therefrom on such vessel. Such list shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the master or commanding officer of such vessel shall sign a declaration at the foot of such list in the following form: "I, A. B., master (or commanding officer) of the vessel named in the foregoing list, do solemnly declare that the said list contains a full, true, and correct statement of all aliens employed on board such vessel who are to depart from the United States, specifying the names of such aliens, their ages, sex, nationalities, last permanent residences, final destinations, and the ports at which they intend to land in the United States, and that the said list contains a full, true, and correct statement of all aliens employed on board such vessel who are to depart from the United States otherwise than as members of the crew, specifying the names of such aliens, their ages, sex, nationalities, last permanent residences, final destinations, and the ports at which they intend to depart from the United States." Such list shall be produced by the master or commanding officer of such vessel upon the demand of any immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and, if any alien employed on board such vessel is not listed therein, such alien shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to a sum twenty times as much as the head tax required to be collected on such alien, whichever is greater, unless such alien is specially employed for duty while in port and that he had no reason to believe that such alien intended to enter the United States unlawfully. Such penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port is located where the vessel may be found. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the imposition of such penalty, or while it remains unpaid, nor shall such vessel be granted clearance thereafter if the master or commanding officer thereof shall have been notified of the liability to such penalty and shall have failed to pay the same within ten days after such notification. The Secretary of Labor is authorized, in his discretion, to remit any such penalty, or any part thereof, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just and proper.

(b) Any master or commanding officer of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place who shall fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a complete list of all the crew of such vessel, showing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, and the particulars concerning each such alien required by subdivision (a) of this section, or who shall fail to certify to such list, or who shall refuse to permit any such alien to land in the United States, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien employed on any vessel on which he arrives will cause undue hardship to such alien, or to the master or owner of such vessel, and that such alien is not likely to abscond, he may, in his discretion, grant such alien a temporary permit to land in the United States, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, for such period of time as he may deem necessary for such alien's hospital treatment, or pending the final disposition of any case in which such alien is a witness on behalf of the United States, or pending the departure of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 13. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than Guam, Tutuila, Swain's Island, Manua, Olosenga, Ofu, Olesega, Tau, Rose Island, or Aunuu in the Tutuilla group, or Kingman Reef, or Palmyra Island, or Johnston Island, or Midway Islands, or Wake Island, or Navassa Island, or Kingsmill Group, or Canton Island, or Enderbury Island, or Hawaii, or Jarvis Island, or Baker Island, or Howland Island, or Guam, or Samoa, or Swains Island, or Virgin Islands of the United States, or Panama Canal Zone, or Porto Rico, shall, before such vessel leaves the port or place at which it arrives, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a complete list of all the crew of such vessel, showing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, and the particulars concerning each such alien required by subdivision (a) of this section, or who shall fail to certify to such list, or who shall refuse to permit any such alien to land in the United States, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(b) Any master or commanding officer of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place who shall fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a complete list of all the crew of such vessel, showing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, and the particulars concerning each such alien required by subdivision (a) of this section, or who shall fail to certify to such list, or who shall refuse to permit any such alien to land in the United States, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien employed on any vessel on which he arrives will cause undue hardship to such alien, or to the master or owner of such vessel, and that such alien is not likely to abscond, he may, in his discretion, grant such alien a temporary permit to land in the United States, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, for such period of time as he may deem necessary for such alien's hospital treatment, or pending the final disposition of any case in which such alien is a witness on behalf of the United States, or pending the departure of such alien from the United States.

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be refused any vessel duly the fees tendered by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been tendered, but not then unless notice of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act during which such fees shall be collected in time 23 has been made.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be required to be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port (Form 598) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is to be employed on board any vessel, another list shall be prepared in the same manner as in the case of alien seamen employed on such vessel, showing the names of all alien seamen employed on board such vessel who are to depart from the United States, specifying their ages, sex, nationalities, last permanent residences, final destinations, and the ports at which they intend to depart from the United States otherwise than as members of the crew, specifying the names of such aliens, their ages, sex, nationalities, last permanent residences, final destinations, and the ports at which they intend to depart from the United States." Such list shall be produced by the master or commanding officer of such vessel upon the demand of any immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and, if any alien employed on board such vessel is not listed therein, such alien shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to a sum twenty times as much as the head tax required to be collected on such alien, whichever is greater, unless such alien is specially employed for duty while in port and that he had no reason to believe that such alien intended to enter the United States unlawfully. Such penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port is located where the vessel may be found. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the imposition of such penalty, or while it remains unpaid, nor shall such vessel be granted clearance thereafter if the master or commanding officer thereof shall have been notified of the liability to such penalty and shall have failed to pay the same within ten days after such notification. The Secretary of Labor is authorized, in his discretion, to remit any such penalty, or any part thereof, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just and proper.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien employed on any vessel on which he arrives will cause undue hardship to such alien, or to the master or owner of such vessel, and that such alien is not likely to abscond, he may, in his discretion, grant such alien a temporary permit to land in the United States, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, for such period of time as he may deem necessary for such alien's hospital treatment, or pending the final disposition of any case in which such alien is a witness on behalf of the United States, or pending the departure of such alien from the United States.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department, and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form 568) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an entirely unmanned vessel arrives at a port other than that of original sailing, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or commanding officer of the vessel to have a complete list made of all the members of the crew, including the names of all members employed on board such vessel, showing the positions each respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively born, their last known residence, and such other facts concerning each as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which list shall be produced and delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival before the vessel shall be admitted to entry or granted clearance, and before any of the crew shall be allowed to leave the vessel, except such as may be specially certified by the immigrant inspector for temporary shore leave, and upon the immigrant inspector's certificate that the individuals granted such shore leave are not prohibited from landing under the provisions of this Act. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall refuse to the immigrant inspector such information in addition to that required by this Act as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above provided: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such disputed question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 39. That no person, including officers and members of the crew, employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone, Porto Rico, Cuba, Mexico, Newfoundland, Canada, or adjacent islands as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the purposes of this section, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and any person employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory above mentioned who may be certified by the medical officer of the port as unable to be landed without danger to the public health shall be detained on board such vessel by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel, and shall be cared for in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and the cost of such detention and care shall be borne by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel, and a lien is hereby imposed upon such vessel for the payment of such cost, which lien may be enforced by the Secretary of Labor in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which such vessel may be found.

SEC. 41. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the purposes of this section, and any person employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, or any alien seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), after inspection and examination by the immigrant inspectors, shall be subject to the same regulations governing aliens arriving at ports of the United States from foreign countries. The Secretary of Labor is authorized and directed to make such inspection of vessels and such medical examination of seamen at such ports as he may designate, and to detail such employees for the service as may be necessary, and to make such regulations as may be necessary for the proper execution of the provisions of this section, and may employ such surgeons, matrons, and other assistants as may be necessary, and shall fix their reasonable compensation. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the inquiry as to any alien seaman in respect of whom such inquiry occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such disputed question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every fine or any portion thereof which may remain unpaid for more than one month after the same is imposed, or after sustained in part by the Secretary of Labor, may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor, who shall report all remissions or mitigations of fines, with his reasons therefor, to the Congress at the beginning of each regular session thereof.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any person, master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel has refused or neglected to pay the fines imposed upon him or it by the Secretary of Labor, or has attempted to bring into the United States any person not lawfully entitled to enter, such person, master, agent, owner, or consignee may be refused clearance papers for the vessel on which such person is a passenger, and may be prohibited from bringing any vessel to the United States from any foreign port or place during such time as such fines remain unpaid, or such person may be refused admission into the United States.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the purposes of this section, and any person employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, or any alien seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), after inspection and examination by the immigrant inspectors, shall be subject to the same regulations governing aliens arriving at ports of the United States from foreign countries. The Secretary of Labor is authorized and directed to make such inspection of vessels and such medical examination of seamen at such ports as he may designate, and to detail such employees for the service as may be necessary, and to make such regulations as may be necessary for the proper execution of the provisions of this section, and may employ such surgeons, matrons, and other assistants as may be necessary, and shall fix their reasonable compensation. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such disputed question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every fine or any portion thereof which may remain unpaid for more than one month after the same is imposed, or after sustained in part by the Secretary of Labor, may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor, who shall report all remissions or mitigations of fines, with his reasons therefor, to the Congress at the beginning of each regular session thereof.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any person, master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel has refused or neglected to pay the fines imposed upon him or it by the Secretary of Labor, or has attempted to bring into the United States any person not lawfully entitled to enter, such person, master, agent, owner, or consignee may be refused clearance papers for the vessel on which such person is a passenger, and may be prohibited from bringing any vessel to the United States from any foreign port or place during such time as such fines remain unpaid, or such person may be refused admission into the United States.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel shall the list required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act plainly need served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector stationed at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form 588) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When no alien members are carried, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon entry of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel in the United States to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the persons described in the port of arrival; to make corrections on such lists of such persons who have died or been discharged, and the cause of death or discharge, and the name of each person who has been born on board during the voyage, and the sex of each child born; to report to such immigration officer, at such port of arrival, all changes in the crew which may occur, or have occurred, prior to the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at, in such manner as may be required by such officer; to deliver to such immigration officer at the port of arrival the certificate of the master of the vessel, giving a description of each alien, together with information likely to lead to his identification; and to report the illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of the vessel at each port to deliver to such immigration officer, or his authorized representative, a like report and certificate concerning all persons who have been taken on board at such port since the vessel arrived at such port, and to report the illegally landed or missing at such port. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of any head tax, or the filing of any bond or undertaking required by this section, or while any person on board is afflicted with a contagious disease, or while the vessel is in quarantine, or while the master refuses to submit to the physical examination provided for by this section, or while any of the provisions of this section have not been complied with, unless the master produces to the collector of customs a certificate from the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival that the provisions of this section have been complied with, and that there is no reason why clearance should be withheld. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of any head tax, or while the said head tax remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Front that an alien seaman did not object upon the ordinary immigrant of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit such front. Nothing in the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor shall require any alien seaman to front as a condition precedent to his departure on board the vessel on which he arrived or any other vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such exception shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 25. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person who shall aid, abet, counsel, or procure the landing of any alien from the United States—

(1) Prior to the arrival at the port of such vessel at which such alien shall land from such vessel, or at the time of such arrival, fails to report the name of such alien, or fails to deliver to the immigration officer at such port a list or manifest containing such name and such other information in respect to such alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor under the provisions of this Act; or

(2) Fails to detain on board the vessel such alien when required so to do by the immigration officer at such port; or

(3) Refuses to permit any immigration officer to enter such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same and examining the manifest and the persons on board thereof, or to detain such alien on board for examination or to deport such alien when ordered so to do; or

(4) Refuses or fails to detain such alien on board the vessel after notice and order from the immigration officer in charge of the port so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien detained in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of any head tax, or while the said head tax remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not object upon the ordinary manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit such proof. Nothing in this section shall require any alien seaman to land as a condition precedent to his departure on board the vessel on which he arrived or any other vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such exception shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

Nothing in this section shall require any alien seaman to land as a condition precedent to his departure on board the vessel on which he arrived or any other vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such exception shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the adjustment or cure of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board the alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of any fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain from the consular officer of the country to which he belongs, or last resided, a certificate, effective for such length of time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alien seaman, stating the position in which he is employed on board the vessel, and that he has been examined by such consular officer and found to be not within any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States by section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain such certificate. Nothing in this section shall require any alien seaman to land as a condition precedent to his departure on board the vessel on which he arrived or any other vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such exception shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but in all instances he shall deliver the list before the vessel is ready to proceed (from 48 hours) to the shore. The list of changes of alien members of crew to be delivered to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is at a foreign port, the list shall be delivered by the master to the consul of the country to which the vessel belongs, or if there be no consul, to the consular agent of the country, and the master shall obtain a receipt therefor.

SEC. 36. That from arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the said vessel, and where they were respectively born as near as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which the master, officers, or members of the crew have illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of the vessel it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind, and the reasons therefor. It shall be the duty of the master of each vessel, in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to do so, to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, and in addition to the penalty hereinafter provided, such master shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to a true report is not made as above required; and in the event such alien is removed, while it remains during such time, by the immigration officials, from the vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port, such master shall pay the cost of such removal, to be recovered as other penalties provided for in this section.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the continental territory of the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or maintenance by such representative as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every such fine as in this section provided shall not attach upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be otherwise remitted by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds after deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, before such vessel has cleared the port, that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel was at the expense of the vessel in the maintenance of such alien seaman he may cause such sum to be deducted on subsequent vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes to also be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 598) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is at the "Motherway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, purser, commander, or other officer in charge of the port of arrival first arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival first boarded by such officer, or to the person designated by him for the purpose, lists or manifests of all persons on board such vessel, which lists or manifests shall be prepared respectively for each group of persons on board such vessel who sail from the same country and who intend to land at the same port in the United States, and shall be in such form and contain such information concerning each and every person on board as may be required by rules or regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master or purser of such vessel, or by the first officer or other officer thereof qualified to administer oaths, and delivered to such immigration officer at the time of the vessel's entry at the port of arrival: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate ports of arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place if such port be scheduled in the sailing list or advertised sailing of the vessel, and may prescribe for the inspection of vessels at sea bound for such ports, and for the delivery to the immigration officers at such ports of the lists or manifests required by this section, and may, by general rules or in specific cases, waive the production of lists or manifests in such number or form as may be unnecessary in the case of vessels putting in at ports other than regularly scheduled ports of call through stress of weather or other unusual circumstances, and may also in like manner and under like circumstances extend the time within which such lists or manifests shall be delivered.

(b) Proof shall be held to be sufficient evidence of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or of any vessel as a conductor, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seamen upon the application of the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, he may, in his discretion, cancel the fine or any part thereof upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

SEC. 32. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate destination, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other emergency, or for such period of time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and in no case for longer than the period of the vessel's stay in port, or for a period not to exceed four months in addition to the period immediately following such arrival, whichever is shorter, except that in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, upon the recommendation of the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, such seaman may be allowed to remain for a further period not exceeding four months, subject to such conditions as to bond and such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and upon the giving of such bond or the making of such deposit as may be required under section 16 of the Immigration Act of 1917, any such seaman may be treated for any disease or medical condition which may be discovered, and which requires hospital treatment, in a hospital of the United States or elsewhere designated by the Secretary of Labor, without being regarded thereby as having been admitted to the United States, and may be detained for such period of time as may be necessary for such treatment and for departure or removal from the United States. Nothing in this section shall be construed as amending, repealing, superseding, or modifying any of the provisions of section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, relating to the temporary admission of aliens seamen. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of law shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as amended by section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and shall be deported in the first instance to the country to which he belongs unless the Secretary of Labor shall determine that it is impracticable, unreasonable, or inadvisable to require his deportation to such country, in which case the deportation shall be to any country which may be designated by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who shall be deported in pursuance of the provisions of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in the case of other aliens ordered deported who are destitute or becoming public charges, and the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his deportation shall be paid from the appropriation for the expenses of the service to which he belongs. Any alien seaman who shall be deported under the provisions of this section shall be deported to the country to which he belongs unless the Secretary of Labor shall determine that it is impracticable, unreasonable, or inadvisable to require his deportation to such country, in which case the deportation shall be to any country which may be designated by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who shall be deported under the provisions of this section shall be deported to the port at which he was admitted from, or to a port in the country in which the vessel shipped him, at the option of the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who shall be deported under the provisions of this section shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the expenses of the service to which he belongs, and such expenses may be paid from any moneys available for the maintenance of the service to which he belongs

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, or entering any port thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alien's departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 25. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Fifty cents an alien seaman did not appear upon the outward manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after employment by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; to which lists counsuling the names of all persons who shall be found on board such vessel at the time of her departure from the last foreign port or place at which she touches in the United States, and specifying the cause of the detention of each person left behind, and such other information as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid to such alien arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as aforesaid, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not such ship shall be permitted to depart from the port: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 38. (a) That the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deport any alien seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) That if an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence in a trial to determine whether such alien seaman did depart, respectively, or so to report such cause of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to such alien seaman or pay such penalty, temporarily by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment to such extremities as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) That if an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence in a trial to determine whether such alien seaman did depart, respectively, or so to report such cause of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to such alien seaman or pay such penalty, temporarily by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, or arriving in the United States as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, temporarily for medical treatment, or detained to such destination as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, temporarily or permanently, of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every fine or alien seaman who does not depart upon the discharge manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or fine or any part thereof, imposed by the preceding subdivision of this section, may be remitted by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is not granted clearance until such deportation, temporarily or as to such seaman, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such seaman on such vessel unless it appears that the inspection provided for by section 16 of this Act was not had or that such seaman was not afforded a reasonable opportunity to depart on such vessel, and such vessel may be granted clearance prior to the determination of such fine, but in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines rendered by section 28 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been paid, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act hereof, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been paid or waived, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete manifest and passenger list, which shall be prepared on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of such arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection it shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or two hours to depart such seaman on board with such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every fine or alien seaman who does not depart upon the discharge manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or fine or any part thereof, imposed by the preceding subdivision of this section, may be remitted by the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is not granted clearance until such deportation, temporarily or as to such seaman, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such seaman on such vessel unless it appears that the inspection provided for by section 16 of this Act was not had or that such seaman was not afforded a reasonable opportunity to depart on such vessel, and such vessel may be granted clearance prior to the determination of such fine, but in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members prior to crew (Form 633) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "non-immigrant" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit after treatment by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel has departed to any place outside the United States before the return of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit after treatment by the immigration officer at the time of departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those who have been left therein at the time of port departure, and also the names of those, if any, who were not employed therein at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of port departure, and also the names of all alien employees who were not employed therein at the time of the arrival but who officer a transfer has contributed the names of all alien employees who were not employed therein at the time of the arrival in respect to deportation of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the port of departure a complete list of all such alien seamen employed on board, after such inspection of to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers in respect of which the immigration officer at the port of arrival has reported that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer has failed to deport any such alien seaman, or has failed to report to such immigration officer in writing as soon as discovered all cases in which any such alien seaman illegally landed from the vessel. Giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer in writing as soon as discovered all cases in which any such alien seaman employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and description of the position previous to the time of arrival; or in the port of arrival: or list containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer in writing as soon as discovered all cases in which any such alien seaman illegally landed from the vessel. Giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the port of arrival a complete list of all such alien seamen

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members or crew (Form 583) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 18. (a) Tant upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessel, whether such aliens are to be discharged in the port or to depart therefrom with the vessel, and shall also deliver to the immigration officer at each subsequent port at which such vessel may call, lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew who are to be discharged in such port or who have been taken on board since the last list was delivered. Such lists shall be in such form and contain such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a complete list of all the crew promptly in each case in which any alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of such departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists or any alien member of the crew is found unlawfully in the United States or its possessions, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom complete information has not been furnished; and no such vessel shall be cleared thereafter from any port in the United States while any fine is imposed, while it remains unbaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens created by section 36 of the Act of Eebruary 5, 1917, have been terminated, but not when undue notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fines prescribed by section 36 of said act prevails pend vessel, the deposit specified in rule 33 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the minimum deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside foreign, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport him upon such vessel: Provided, That clearance may be granted such vessel prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members employed on such vessel, showing the nationality, last known residence, and calling at which the alien members of the crew last came aboard the vessel, and the intended future residence of each alien member who is destined to the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which lists shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer and the surgeon of the vessel, if there be a surgeon, and if there be no surgeon, then by the master or commanding officer and the first officer of the vessel, and such other members of the crew as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which verification shall state that the lists contain a full, true, and complete statement of all the matters about which information is required by this section to be stated therein, and that the master or commanding officer and the surgeon of the vessel have made personal examination of the crew sufficient to verify the statements of the lists relative thereto, and shall indorse upon the lists the number of cabin passengers taken on board at each port. Such lists shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival before any of the alien members of the crew have been landed from the vessel, except such as may be specially permitted to land, and before the vessel shall be granted clearance or permitted to depart from the port. Such lists shall be prima facie evidence in favor of the United States in any action or proceeding brought to recover the penalty hereinafter prescribed for the failure of any alien seaman to be listed upon the vessel's arrival or departure, or for the failure of the master to deliver a complete list, or for any omission therefrom.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada or Mexico, or adjacent islands, unless such seaman is otherwise admissible under the immigration laws), or departing from the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or for such length of time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

The line described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of charges of alien members of the crew (from GSA) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company; when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens if such be the fact; and such other information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, each owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the Secretary of Labor, for the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the duration of the hospital stay of the hospital to the department of such case, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or for such length of time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Any such seaman who shall depart from the United States during the time his vessel is in port shall be required to obtain a permit to return to the United States from a United States consular officer unless in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa.

(c) Upon the refusal by the master to deliver lists required, or the failure to include therein the name of any alien seaman employed on board, or the departure of any such seaman before the vessel shall have been granted clearance by the immigration officer, or the Secretary of Labor, such master shall pay to the collector of customs a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every such an alien seaman who shall not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be were reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit such certificate by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 2. Clearance shall not be granted vessel arriving until the limit required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been fulfilled, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said act manifest been served, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

SEC. 11. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory or adjacent islands as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except for such period as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor and specified in the permit. Any alien seaman employed on such vessel during her stay in the United States who lands in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory who fails to depart on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on board some other vessel arriving in the United States (which transportation in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board some vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory for which he has been granted a permit to land temporarily, or who fails to depart on board such vessel or to obtain such permission from the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival before such vessel departs, or who fails to depart on board such vessel or to obtain such permission from the immigration officer at the port to which such vessel may thereafter proceed, shall be deemed to be a person hereinbefore excluded from admission into the United States and shall be deported in the manner provided by law to the country to which he belongs, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, unless the Secretary of Labor shall determine that such alien seaman (which term when used in this section shall include a person hereinbefore excluded from admission into the United States and who is in possession of a valid seaman's passport) can be admitted temporarily into the United States without prejudice to the interests of the United States, and such determination shall be based upon the report of a medical officer of the United States or, if such report is not available, upon such other evidence as may be considered necessary. Such seaman may be granted a permit to land temporarily for such period of time as may be necessary for his medical treatment, or for such other reasons as may be deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, upon the execution by the master, agent, consignee, owner, or operator of the vessel on which such alien arrived of a bond or undertaking in such amount not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the return of such alien seaman on board such vessel or upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States on board some other vessel, or upon such alien seaman's compliance with such other conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such bond may be sued for and recovered by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from one foreign contiguous territory or island shall not be deemed sufficient to secure the payment of the bond unless such proof be made to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor or the collector of customs.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States will cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be treated clearance until such expense has been paid to its treasury sufficient to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 41. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, or adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily while his vessel is in port, unless specially admitted by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the purpose of insuring the return of such alien with the vessel, or his subsequent removal from the United States at the expense of the owners of the vessel or the master thereof, or the payment of a sum sufficient to cover such expense and a sum sufficient to cover the cost of his maintenance while in the United States, not exceeding $5 per day, pending the departure of the vessel: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the substitution of a bond in such sum as he may require in lieu of the deposit of money as herein provided: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, permit any such alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, or adjacent islands to be admitted temporarily without the deposit of security or the execution of a bond, under such conditions as he may prescribe, for the purpose of performing his duties on board such vessel, and may extend the period of time such alien may remain in the United States for the performance of such duties: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the deposit of security or the execution of a bond in the case of any such alien seaman who is destined to the United States for the sole purpose of entering the service of the United States.

SEC. 42. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, or adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily while the vessel is in port, unless specially admitted by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the immediate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, or adjacent islands shall cause every alien seaman employed on board thereof (other than a citizen of the United States, a seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman), and every alien seaman who has been granted a temporary permit to land during the period such vessel remains in port, to be detained on board the vessel until such alien has been inspected by an immigrant inspector, or, if such alien seaman is to be detained for special examination, until he has been so detained or released by the Secretary of Labor, and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a complete list of all such alien seamen employed on board such vessel, specifying the nationality, last permanent residence, port at which such seaman was shipped, and intended future destination of each, and stating whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long he has resided therein. Such list shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival before the vessel is granted clearance papers, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as aforesaid: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the Secretary of Labor, or by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as aforesaid, and in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such vessel be granted clearance papers by the Secretary of Labor, or by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure of such vessel is located, or by any officer authorized to act for either of them, and such sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, her tackle, furniture, apparel, and cargo, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the district in which such vessel may be found. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, or adjacent islands has violated the provisions of this section, he may refuse clearance papers to such vessel, and may withhold clearance papers from any vessel which has previously violated the provisions of this section until a sum sufficient to pay any fine or fines which may be imposed upon the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel under the provisions of this section has been deposited with the collector of customs.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the limit required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been complied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act, shall have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 41. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, or adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily while his vessel is in port, unless specially admitted by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the immediate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every such seaman who shall depart from the United States, or who shall attempt to depart from the United States on board any vessel, shall be required to deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States pending the departure of the vessel, not exceeding $5 per day, and sufficient to pay the cost of his passage to the country to which he belongs, or to such other country as he may select, by the most direct route and at the lowest third-class rate available at the time of his departure, unless he shall sooner be granted a permit to land in the United States, or shall sooner depart therefrom in accordance with the provisions of this section. Any such seaman who refuses to deposit such sum shall be deported to the country to which he belongs, or to such other country as he may select, at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The line described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members to be reported (Form 598) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 598) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, arranged the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens, as the case may be, and such lists shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or duplicates thereof, as the immigration officer at the port may prescribe for the alternate departure, removal, or deportation of such aliens from the United States.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained on board such vessel when ordered by the Secretary of Labor as a deserter, shall be primâ facie evidence of a failure to detain such seaman on board such vessel when ordered by the master of such vessel to detain him, and such master shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from such place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be primâ facie evidence of a failure to detain such seaman on board such vessel when ordered by the master of such vessel to detain him.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that such deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from a foreign port or place at the port of arrival, or who shall leave the vessel without permission at any time prior to the completion of unloading the cargo of the vessel or the departure of the vessel from such port, or who shall secrete himself on board, or who refuses to proceed on board the vessel upon the demand of the master thereof, shall be deported to the country whence he came, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act, in the first instance, but the master of the vessel shall be liable to the United States for the amount of such expense, to be recovered by suit or action, and such seaman shall be deported in the same manner as other aliens ordered deported under the provisions of this act. Such seaman shall be deported to the country whence he came, or to the country from which the vessel sailed which brought him to the United States, at the option of the master of the vessel, and at the time of his deportation he shall be given a certificate by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, setting forth the fact of his arrival in the United States and the fact of his deportation, the cause therefor, and the port to which he is deported, which certificate shall be presented to the immigration officer at the port to which he returns. The cost of the maintenance of such seaman while detained, and of his deportation, shall be paid from the appropriation for the enforcement of this act. Masters of vessels bringing aliens who become public charges within three years after their arrival in the United States shall be notified by the Secretary of Labor, and shall pay the cost of their maintenance and support while they remain public charges, and their return passage to the country whence they came, if the Secretary of Labor shall so order. Such costs shall be recovered as provided for the recovery of penalties imposed under section 16 of this act.

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines levied by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said act therein, been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the minimum period necessary to secure treatment, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for emergency relief.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every such fine so imposed and not remitted upon the conclusion mentioned of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected or deported, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seamen as required by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

Par. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fine required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been imposed, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 30 of said Act having been served, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company; when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no more of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or to so report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either of the said lists at such alien arriving and departing, respectively, to the inspector at the port of arrival in which the port is not located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

I, ... master of the ..... do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew properly in said vessel from any port or place during my present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from application B, rule 7, and copy of sections 13 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Canadian or Mexican borders, not shall he permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, until the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall have given a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Front that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the inspector of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit valid identification by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, arriving the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and describing those to be held on board in the port of arrival; or lists containing no such information as to the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those in case of the illness or injury of such employees, their destinations, and the cause of such illness or injury and whether temporary or permanent, as far as known; and it any such employee shall die while in the service of the vessel the master shall report the fact, stating the cause and circumstances of death, if known, and the final destination of the effects of the deceased employee. Upon the completion of the unloading of the vessel at the last port in the United States the master shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port a list containing the names of all alien employees who have been left behind at such port, their last known address, and the reasons for leaving them behind, and shall furnish like information as to any alien employees who have been left behind at any previous port in the United States. Upon the departure of the vessel from the United States the master shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port a list containing the names of all alien employees who have been shipped at such port, and the names, nationality, last known address, and intended destination of each. Any master who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such refusal or neglect occurs.

(a) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport or depart after treatment by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of the illness of such seaman, or the illness or death of a member of his family or relative dependent upon him, or on account of shipwreck, or other casualty, or by reason of the necessity for bringing a substitute, or upon the certification by the Secretary of Labor that no suitable substitute can be obtained at the port of arrival, or upon the deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport or depart after treatment by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

Sworn to before me this 13 day of JUNE, 19 24

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of entry, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes to alien members of crew (Form 598) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry list containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of entry; or lists containing an index of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been held on board checked, and of those alleged to be stowaways, and the cause of their detention; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, if any, who have deserted, and shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and on such vessel shall be kept a proper clearance bond for the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while if remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: "stowaway" that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been linished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act therein been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection it all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deport such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport alien deserter by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain white paper approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port where the vessel is first inspected. The list is changed at each subsequent port or place in the United States from which the vessel departs for a foreign port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, purser, or person in charge of the port of arrival there conferring with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, to report to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the names of all aliens employed on board the vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those so to be landed on the port of arrival; to make complete lists containing as much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival at any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to be discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted to landed; and in case of the illness of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or in case of report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the duration of the limitation to the payment of such head tax, and, in the event such tax is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such tax be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the adjudication of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board the vessel such list of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and the medical examiners), or who fails to deliver such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who not subject upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who be refused in the United States, shall be forthwith deported in the same manner as a deserter, shall be primâ facie evidence of a failure to deport

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, seaman, courier, or steward thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board when discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as may be required by regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and in addition to the lists of aliens employed, lists of all aliens carried in the steerage, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master, seaman, courier, or steward to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which the said alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of the said vessel it shall be the duty of such master, seaman, courier, or steward to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who may have been taken thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired and discharged, and to whom, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such master, seaman, courier, or steward so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such master, seaman, courier, or steward shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative officer prescribed by said section or to some officer prescribed by section 38 of said act prompt cause for deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such emergencies as may be prescribed for the purpose by the Secretary of Labor, and such alien seaman may be required to deposit with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival such sum of money, not exceeding $10 for each month, as may be necessary to defray the expenses of such alien from the United States to the country whence he came, or to the country from which the vessel sailed to the United States, or to such other country as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, but no such deposit shall be required of any alien seaman who is in possession of a valid passport issued by the country of which he is a national, or of any alien seaman who is in possession of a certificate issued by the immigration officer at the port of arrival stating that the identity of such alien seaman has been established to the satisfaction of such officer and that no bond is required.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or upon some other vessel within the period fixed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or within such further time as may be granted by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the immigration act of 1917, and the cost of such deportation shall be a lien against the vessel on which he arrived, to be collected by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that the deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be treated clearance until such expense has been paid or it is otherwise guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury requiring such treatment, or for the purpose of obtaining treatment for the relief of such illness, or injury, or because of shipwreck, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof to which an alien seaman employed on board such vessel has been admitted under section 13 hereof, shall be responsible for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every alien seaman admitted into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or arrived in the United States in transit through the United States to join a vessel in foreign trade, shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived, or on any vessel of the same line or owned by the same interests, or, if such vessel shall not be available, on any vessel which shall be available, to any port in the country to which he belongs, or to any port which may accept him, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, within five years after the date of his entry into the United States, if he is found to have been at the time of entry a member of the anarchistic and other classes excluded by section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, at the time of his entry a member of the classes excluded by section 1 of the Act of May 26, 1924, or at the time of his entry or at any time thereafter a member of the classes excluded by section 2 of the Act of May 26, 1924, and shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended by section 1 of the Act of May 26, 1924, to the country whence he came to the United States, or to the country of which he is a subject, citizen, or denizen, or to the country in which he resided before coming to the country whence he came to the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor. Deportation under this section shall be at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws existing at the time of deportation. Any alien seaman who shall be deported under the provisions of this section shall be ineligible to readmission to the United States as an immigrant unless prior to his application for admission he has reimbursed in full the Secretary of Labor for the cost of his deportation, or unless the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived shall have given a bond to the United States, with sufficient surety, in such sum, not exceeding $300, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned that such alien will depart to a country other than the United States, and will not become a public charge within five years from the date of his entry into the United States.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is unavailable, or if the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of such alien seaman on any vessel as a passenger, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport alien seaman as required by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily in the country to which he belongs, or to any port which may accept him, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, or that he was temporarily in any country contiguous to the United States, shall not be sufficient to secure the payment of the bond or the return of any deposit required to be made by the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inquiry to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act, has been given.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively held in the alien's country, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely true to be held by and discharged in the port of arrival; or else containing an affirmative statement that there are no aliens employed on such vessel. Such lists shall be prepared on blanks furnished by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be in addition to the manifest required by section 12 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and shall be produced for the inspection of and verified by the oath of the master, agent, owner, charterer, consignee, or commanding officer thereof, and such other members of the crew as may be required by the immigrant inspector. Any person who knowingly makes false statements in such lists shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The master, agent, owner, charterer, consignee, or commanding officer of such vessel shall be severally liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each and every violation of the provisions of this section by himself or by any person employed on such vessel with his knowledge or consent, which penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor upon such terms and conditions as he shall deem just. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum as may be required by the collector of customs, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily in the country to which he belongs, or to any port which may accept him, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, or that he was temporarily in any country contiguous to the United States shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart as required by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is unavailable, or if the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of such alien seaman on any vessel as a passenger, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart as required by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily in the country to which he belongs, or to any port which may accept him, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, or that he was temporarily in any country contiguous to the United States shall not be sufficient to secure the payment of the bond or the return of any deposit required to be made by the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inquiry to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act, has been given.

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form 508) shall not be examined on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the proper immigration officer at the port. When an attorney acquires a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, A. L. BORKLAND, of the STEAMSHIP NORTH COAST do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from and port or place stated per foregoing report and manifest of Vessel, and that I have made a personal examination of each member of the crew, and that the following is a correct statement of the nationality of each member of the crew, and the reason for the absence of any member of the crew, and the time and place of shipping each member of the crew, and that I have complied with the requirements of the Act of May 26, 1924, and the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended by the Act of May 26, 1924, and the Regulations issued thereunder, so far as they relate to me, and that I have read the foregoing statement and know the contents thereof, and that the same are true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Sworn to before me this 3RD day of JUNE, 19 24.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The use of symbols or other abbreviations for races or peoples (Roman usa) shall not be permitted on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. "Northman" means a native of Norway, a nationality to which special attention should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, commander, or other officer in charge of the boat or vessel first coming into the harbor of each port to report and deliver to the proper immigrant inspector at the time of entry a complete list of all aliens on board such vessel, which list shall be verified by the oath of such master, commander, or officer, taken before a consular officer of the United States at the port or place where such alien embarked, if such there be, and if not, then before the examining immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, which list shall contain the following particulars in regard to each alien, so far as the same can be ascertained, namely: Full name, age, sex, whether married or single, calling or occupation, whether able to read or write, nationality, last residence, seaport for landing in the United States, final destination if known, whether having a ticket through to such destination, whether the passage is paid by himself or by other person or by what other means, whether in possession of money, and if so how much, whether in possession of railroad or steamship ticket, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends and their names and complete address, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, whether in the United States in pursuance of such contract or agreement, whether the alien has been deported and the cause for deportation, whether the alien is coming in pursuance of a prepaid railroad ticket purchased by another person or persons in the United States, whether the alien has a ticket for passage to the United States, whether the alien is a stowaway, whether the alien has been in the United States previously and when, whether the alien intends to become a citizen of the United States, whether the alien is an anarchist, whether the alien is coming to the United States for the purpose of performing any specific act for any person or persons, whether the alien is an idiot, insane person, epileptic, blind, deaf and dumb, or has any mental or physical defect, and whether the alien has been refused admission to the United States before and the reasons therefor, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master, commander, or other officer in charge of the boat or vessel shall also report the names of all aliens who may have been taken on board at any foreign port or place but who may not arrive in the United States on such vessel, and the cause of their removal from the vessel, and shall deliver a list containing the names of all such aliens to the proper immigrant inspector at the time of the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States. Such master, commander, or other officer shall report and deliver lists as herein required, even though no aliens may have been taken on board his vessel at any foreign port or place. Such lists shall be verified, signed, and sworn to before the immigrant inspector at the time of the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States in the manner above provided. Such master, commander, or other officer shall furnish a certified copy of the list or lists of aliens taken on board his vessel at any foreign port or place, which certified copy shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival at the time of the delivery of the original list or lists, and such certified copy shall be prima facie evidence of the correctness of the statements therein contained in favor of the master, commander, or other officer in charge of the vessel in any proceeding under the provisions of this Act. Such master, commander, or other officer in charge of the vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each and every alien with respect to whom he fails to deliver a correct list or to make oath to the same, or to report the cause for detention of any such alien, or to deliver certified copy of such list, or to pay the tax imposed by this Act, or to deliver any such alien certificate as is required by the regulations of the Secretary of Labor, or to detain any such alien on board his vessel when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor or any immigrant inspector, or to land any such alien elsewhere than at the port of arrival, or to deliver any such alien to the collector of customs or his authorized deputy at any port other than the port of arrival, or to comply with any of the provisions of this Act relating to the unloading or landing of aliens, or to land any alien in any place in the United States other than a designated port of entry, or to cause any alien to violate any of the provisions of this Act relating to the landing of aliens, or to refuse to detain any such alien on board his vessel when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or to refuse to receive back on board his vessel or vessels any alien who may have been temporarily landed from such vessel or vessels, or to refuse to detain any such alien on board his vessel or vessels after notification by the Secretary of Labor that such alien is required as a witness on the inquiry into a charge that such master, commander, or other officer in charge of the vessel has been guilty of a violation of the provisions of this Act, or to refuse to carry out any of the orders of the Secretary of Labor given under the authority of this Act, or to obstruct or hinder or prevent any such alien from proceeding to the United States or from entering the United States or from being duly inspected by the proper immigrant inspector or from being detained for special inquiry by the Secretary of Labor or his agents, or to conceal, harbor, or protect any such alien, or to assist any such alien to land in secret, or to refuse to assist in the arrest of any such alien when ordered to do so by the Secretary of Labor or any immigrant inspector or any person authorized by the Secretary of Labor to make such arrest, or to interfere in any way with any officer of the United States or any person authorized by the Secretary of Labor to take charge of any such alien, or to refuse to deliver any such alien to the custody of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel in which such alien arrived at a port of the United States when demanded by such owner, agent, consignee, or master, or to refuse to detain such alien on board such vessel at such port of the United States for a period of one week after such demand, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 7. (b) Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to do so shall previously have been transmitted by said section or to that prescribed by section 33 of said Act, and in the event such list is impossible, while it remains unbroken, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 50. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place who shall refuse or neglect to report, detain on board, or deliver such seaman for medical treatment, or inspection at such time and place as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or return of such seaman in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or any regulations made thereunder, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or until transferred to such vessel departing therefrom, or for the immediate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the inspector of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman, but such vessel shall not be required by the inspector of such vessel to wait more than forty-eight hours before it sails.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liste required by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act prevail, been waived, the deposit specified in rule 33 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; to list separately all aliens so employed who are not to be landed in the port of arrival, but who intend to depart from the United States upon the same vessel; and to report to the proper immigration officer the sickness or death of any such alien and the cause thereof. Such lists shall be prepared in such manner and contain such particulars concerning each alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer of the vessel. Any master or commanding officer of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or to report the sickness or death of any such alien, or who knowingly lands or permits to land from his vessel any alien not entered on such lists, except as provided in this section, or who knowingly lands or permits to land from his vessel any alien who has been refused a landing by the immigration officer in charge of the port, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien so landed or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any such vessel shall be liable for the payment of any such fine, and such fine shall constitute a lien upon the vessel which may be enforced by libel in rem, and clearance may be withheld pending the determination of the question of liability. Pending the payment of such fine, or the giving of a bond therefor satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, the vessel shall not be granted clearance, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes to alien members to crews (Form 598) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "stowaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily to the medical examiner, or pursuant to regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the continental territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or from any foreign contiguous territory, and who shall not be reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall be liable to such fine as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form 588) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival in duplicate, one copy of which will be returned to the master as his authority to land.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing as much of the information called for in the manifest of the master of the vessel concerning each alien as may be ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence, which lists shall be verified by the master under oath in such manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and such additional information called for by this Act as may be required by the Secretary of Labor and the Commissioner General of Immigration, touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, which information shall be noted by the inspector at the time of examination on the manifest or lists: Provided, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who refuses to deliver lists containing the information required by this section, or who delivers lists containing information which he knows to be false, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court: Provided, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver lists containing the information required by this section shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above provided, but such penalty shall not be remitted or refunded except upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel had complied with the requirements of this section to the best of his knowledge and belief.

(b) Front fines in alien seamen may not appear on the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or from a place to which he may be deported, but shall be paid before the issuance of such vessel as a clearance, and no vessel shall depart or attempt to depart in violation of this section. The payment of such fines may be enforced by the Secretary of Labor by withholding or withdrawing the clearance or permit granted to such vessel, or the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refer the matter to the Attorney General, who shall cause the recovery of such fines by civil suit.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any alien has been unlawfully brought to the United States on any vessel, and that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel could not have ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence that such alien was unlawfully brought to the United States, he may remit the fine or any part thereof imposed upon such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel.

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person who may be substituted by any of the foregoing persons with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, who fails to deliver to the proper immigration officer at each port of arrival any sick alien on board such vessel, or who fails to report and deliver to the proper immigration officer at each port of arrival any alien who has been ordered deported in pursuance of law, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to and the payment of such penalty, unless such person shall deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover such penalty and such vessel may be detained for a period not exceeding ten days pending such determination: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty and costs, or when, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, the vessel is unable to pay the penalty imposed, or when it is impossible to secure the alien for deportation, or when the vessel is required for the public service, or when the vessel is primarily a passenger vessel and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge thereof has complied with the requirements of this section to the best of his knowledge and belief, and that the failure to deliver such alien for deportation was occasioned by causes beyond his control

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members (Form 588) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is in possession of a "nonimmigrant" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the persons named in the said lists who are destined to the port of arrival; or lists containing no such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed when the vessel left the last foreign port, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired but not discharged, and the cause of discharge, so far as known, of all those discharged; and it shall be the duty of the master of every such vessel to deliver to each alien member of the crew, before the departure of the vessel from the port, a card bearing the name of such alien, the date of his entry, the name of the vessel, and the number of the manifest, and stating whether he has been examined by the medical officer at the port. Such card shall be shown by each alien member of the crew before he shall be allowed to land from the vessel, and shall be surrendered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival.

(a) Every alien member of the crew employed on any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be examined by the medical officer at the port of arrival, and no such alien shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the humane treatment of sick or injured aliens, or for the burial of the dead, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the return of distressed seamen, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the return of alien seamen employed on such vessel: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor shall have the power to waive the provisions of this section in favor of any distressed alien seaman whose return to his native country he may deem to be impracticable or inhuman.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in the United States shall be taken into custody upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and if he shall not depart with the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel in the service to which he belongs, or on some vessel scheduled to depart within twenty days thereafter, he shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States. The cost of his maintenance while in custody shall be borne by the owners of the vessel on which he arrived.

(c) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States, or who shall be found in the United States at any time within five years after his arrival, in violation of this section, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act, and shall be incapable of becoming a citizen of the United States.

(d) Any alien seaman who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or both.

SEC. 37. (a) The master, charterer, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone, Panama, or the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the humane treatment of sick or injured aliens, or for the burial of the dead, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the return of distressed seamen, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the return of alien seamen employed on such vessel, shall not permit any alien seaman (which term shall include a person employed in any capacity on board any vessel) to land from the vessel at any port in the United States unless and until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman, or has certified that such inspection is to be made at some other port, and has delivered to such seaman a certificate to that effect, or has indorsed upon the crew list of the vessel the word "inspected" opposite the name of such seaman, and has marked upon the certificate issued to such seaman by the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such security as a master of the vessel is required to furnish under section 4378 of the Revised Statutes.

(b) Every such fine shall be a lien against the vessel, which may be enforced by the collector of customs to whose district she shall first enter or depart, by action in the name of the United States.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines rendered by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been remitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act having been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place in which the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure has failed to declare on board such vessel such fact, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to declare on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel such fact immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such immigration officer or the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such amount as a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every fine on alien seamen not paid when the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from such place outside thereof, or fine so imposed by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman on such vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue ore to detain or deport alien seamen, the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Every such fine, or bond, with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, and such vessel may be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor. ae—ase

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines credited by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been transferred, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act having been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on said vessel at the time of the arrival of such vessel at the port of such immigration officer, and the intended destination of each alien so held. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall furnish to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure of such vessel a list of the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival at such port who have been detained on board under the provisions of this section, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension of such aliens as the Secretary of Labor may require, and shall report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a certificate signed by the master of such vessel that to the best of his knowledge and belief the lists contain the names of all aliens employed upon the vessel who have not been discharged in the port of arrival, or if any have been so discharged, the names of those so discharged, and the cause of their discharge, and that all the information required by this section is correct and true. If the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall refuse to deliver to such immigration officer any list required by this section, or shall refuse to answer any question concerning the same or the persons carried on board such vessel, or shall willfully make any false answer to such question, he shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such immigration officer is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form 588) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below must be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, but in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or members of alien members of the crew (Form 598) will not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. Write or stamp conspicuously across the face of the list the words "MEMORANDUM," and location to show that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arriving in the United States from a foreign port at place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively naturalized, if naturalized, and the intended future place of residence of each alien as far as known to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel to report to such immigration officer, at arrival at each port, all cases of illness or injury to aliens, and deaths, and the cause thereof, occurring on board such vessel since the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place at which such alien was lawfully landed from the vessel. Every master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel it shall be the duty to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of such vessel from any port of the United States a correct list of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the departure of such vessel, and the intended future destination of each alien: but only such of the said persons as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor by general rules as may be necessary to secure information likely to lead to the apprehension of any alien who may unlawfully remain in the United States, shall be required to be specified in the lists concerning persons departing from the United States. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to answer questions concerning the persons employed on such vessel as required by this section, or to deliver to any immigrant inspector the certificate required by section 16 of this Act, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or correct answers are not made to the questions required by this section, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, no clearance shall be granted to such vessel from any port. Any fine imposed under the provisions of this section shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem, and such vessel may be detained for the payment thereof, and shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 3. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act, if any, has been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to detain on board the vessel such alien seaman employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board such vessel after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the request of the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every fine or alien seaman duly imposed under the provisions of this section may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor, for reasons deemed by him sufficient and in accordance with such regulations as he may prescribe, upon the remission or mitigation of the fine, or any part thereof, by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be transported on such vessel as a passenger, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport within the meaning of this section, and such vessel may be refused clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

I, Walter McDonald, master of the Ss. A. L. Lewis, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from any port or place during my present voyage.

I have availed the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 13 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, hereto appear below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but in all cases on or before the vessel's departure from the vessel. The list of aliens on which no certificate (Form 528) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "motorman," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 20. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names in full of the crew employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively signed on or shipped, and specifying those so to be paid off at the port of arrival; to state separately the sex of each person, whether an adult or a child, and whether a citizen of the United States; the nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien employed; the place of birth of each alien, if born in the United States, and the last foreign port from which he came to the United States; whether he has been in the United States previously, and if so, when, how long he resided here, and whether he has been naturalized; whether he has a ticket through to his destination; whether he has been in prison or almshouse or an institution for the care of the insane or supported by charity, and whether he is a polygamist; whether he is under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia; whether he has paid his own passage or whether it has been paid by others or by some corporation, association, society, municipality, or government, and if so, by whom; whether he is in possession of money, and if so, how much, and whether he has been deported or excluded from the United States or previously applied for admission, and if so, when and where and his reasons therefor; whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously existing labor contract, and if so, the details thereof; whether he intends to become a permanent resident of the United States; whether he is a skilled laborer, and if so, what his occupation is; whether he is a farmer, and if so, whether he owns the farm he cultivates; whether he is married or single; his age, sex, and race; his height and complexion; whether he has any visible marks of identification, and if so, what they are; the name and address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came; the name and complete address of the person whose passage is paid for by others; whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or an institution for the care of the insane or supported by charity, and if so, which; whether he is a person who has a ticket or is in possession of sufficient money, or is in the group or class which has been designated by the Secretary of Labor as having sufficient money, or is assisted by friends or relatives who have sufficient money, and how much he has; whether he is in good health, mentally and physically, and any form of mental or physical defect or disease, and whether the cause of rejection, if any, is apparent; whether he has been convicted of or admits the commission of a felony or other infamous crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or an offense under the narcotic laws or laws regulating the manufacture of or traffic in intoxicating liquors; whether he is a stowaway; whether he is connected with the business of importing prostitutes; and such other facts as may be required as to the identity and circumstances of the alien as may be necessary to the proper administration of the immigration laws. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, or who is not known by the immigration officer to be in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, or who is not known by the immigration officer to be entitled to enter the United States without a visa, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien so brought, and no vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that such fine has been remitted or canceled shall be furnished upon the application of the master of such vessel to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of the amount of such fine, or of any part thereof which has been remitted or canceled. Such application shall be made within one year from the date of the final action by the Secretary of Labor, or by the head of the department or bureau to which the appeal is taken, and not thereafter. Such remission or cancellation shall be granted only upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that the conditions of his order have been complied with, and that no fact or circumstance has come to the knowledge of the Secretary of Labor or the department or bureau to which the appeal was taken which in his or its opinion would warrant a refusal to remit or cancel such fine. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the application for remission or cancellation of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall order any alien taken from the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to a place outside thereof, or if any person who has been ordered by the inspector in charge at a seaport, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deliver such requirements by the immigration officer at the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical examination or hospital or such temporary purposes as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, remain, or be employed on board any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or after such inspection to obtain such seaman on board such vessel such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor. Any seaman in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in section 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman employed on such vessel shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman so employed, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment to such temporary purposes as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alleviate deportune, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who lands or permits to land on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or after such inspection to obtain such seaman on board such vessel such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor. Any seaman in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in section 20 hereof. The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman employed on such vessel shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien so brought, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that such fine has been remitted or canceled shall be furnished upon the application of the master of such vessel to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of the amount of such fine, or of any part thereof which has been remitted or canceled. Such application shall be made within one year from the date of the final action by the Secretary of Labor, or by the head of the department or bureau to which the appeal is taken, and not thereafter. Such remission or cancellation shall be granted only upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that the conditions of his order have been complied with, and that no fact or circumstance has come to the knowledge of the Secretary of Labor or the department or bureau to which the appeal was taken which in his or its opinion would warrant a refusal to remit or cancel such fine. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the application for remission or cancellation of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall order any alien taken from the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to a place outside thereof, or if any person who has been ordered by the inspector in charge at a seaport, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deliver such requirements by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 3. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the fines rendered by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been fully paid, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act, shall have been served, the deposit specified in rule 25 has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector possible after the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members contained, or master, first or second officer to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival likely contain the names of all persons employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the cabin company, when and where they were respectively shipped or signed, and specifying those of the persons last discharged in the port of arrival; or said officer shall report to the principal immigration officer at such port, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which the port of arrival is located the name of such member, countries of which they are citizens or subjects, and the vessel from which they were discharged; and in all cases in which the vessel is bound to a port in the United States from a foreign port or place it shall be the duty of such master, mate, or other officer to report such immigration officer, in writing, the name of each person who may be found secreted on board such vessel, and the circumstances connected therewith, to the end that such person may be detained and returned to the country whence he came. Any master, mate, or other officer of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who is afflicted with any loathsome disease, or who is a person who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is an anarchist, or who believes in or is opposed to organized government, or who is a member of or affiliates with any society or group of persons entertaining such beliefs or teaching the unlawful destruction of property, or who advocates or teaches the assassination of public officials, or who is a polygamist, or who practices polygamy or believes in the practice of polygamy, or who is under a contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States of the character described in section 3 of the Act of February 26, 1885, as amended by the Act of February 26, 1903, or who has been deported in pursuance of law, or who has come in violation of any of the provisions of the immigration laws, or who is likely to become a public charge, or who has been convicted of a felony or other infamous crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is coming for any immoral purpose, or who is under 16 years of age and not in the company of parent or guardian, shall be taken before the proper immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and such inspector shall report in writing to the Secretary of Labor the name of each such alien, together with such additional facts as may be deemed necessary for the proper determination of whether such alien belongs to any of the excluded classes enumerated in section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $200 for each and every such refusal, and no vessel will be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the payment of such penalty. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers or clearance from any port of the United States while any penalty imposed by this section remains unpaid: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been collected, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to some fine prescribed by section 35 of said Act has been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment of such seaman in a hospital by special examination by the medical examiners), pertaining to such alien seaman (which inspection he shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), arriving at the port of arrival, and such seaman shall not be permitted to land from the vessel at any port other than the port of arrival. Any master who shall refuse to detain such seaman on board said vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers during the determination of the inquiry to pertain of such alien, or while the alien seaman entitled thereto, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such alien, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, to be approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the outlying territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from such outlying territory to a place outside thereof, or land at a new temporary port in the United States, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel may be refused clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to pay the penalty imposed by this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States will cause undue hardship, such seaman may be permitted to land temporarily by the master of such vessel as a special, and such vessel may be granted clearance papers pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such alien, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, to be approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the outlying territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from such outlying territory to a place outside thereof, or land at a new temporary port in the United States, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel may be refused clearance papers pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such alien, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, to be approved by the collector of customs.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States will cause undue hardship, such seaman may be permitted to land temporarily by the master of such vessel as a special, and such vessel may be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the payment of such penalty to the payment of such expense and the vessel on which he arrived, but such clearance may be granted prior to the deportation of such alien seaman by the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel as the boat is arriving, and in the event such time is impossible, while it remains docked; but shall not be delivered to or to a time later than is necessary for the proper discharge of alien passengers entitled to be landed. Provided, That clearance papers of crews (Form 688) shall not be required to be landed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons on board, specifying the nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien who has been examined and certified by the consul at the port of departure, and the final port, if any, for which such alien has been certified, and specifying those who are citizens of the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such lists shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof, who shall certify to the correctness of the entries made thereon after the departure of the last immigrant therefrom. Such lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before the inspection of the vessel is completed and before any passengers are landed therefrom, except in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such regulations shall provide for the prompt inspection of all aliens entitled to be landed and for the detention on board or at the discretion of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for examination before a special board of inquiry of those aliens who may be found by the examining officer to belong to any of the classes excluded by law, and for the safeguarding of their baggage. Such regulations shall provide that all aliens detained for special inquiry shall be given all reasonable facilities for communicating with relatives or friends, by telegraph or otherwise, and shall have the right to be represented before the board of special inquiry by counsel or agents of their own choice, who may be present at all sessions of the board while the case is under consideration. All appeals shall be taken within three days after the decision is rendered, unless for good cause additional time be allowed by the Secretary of Labor. Such regulations shall provide that a record shall be kept of all testimony and proceedings in all cases of aliens detained for special inquiry, and that the decision of the board shall be based upon such testimony after due consideration of the whole case. Such record shall show the final action of the board and the reasons therefor. Such record shall be filed with the case of the alien to whom it relates. Such regulations shall provide that the decision of the board shall be subject to review by the Secretary of Labor upon appeal by the alien or by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which the alien arrived, which appeal shall be taken within five days after the decision complained of is rendered, and that pending the decision on appeal the alien shall be detained in the custody of the immigration officials or in the custody of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which the alien arrived, at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel. Such regulations shall provide that the Secretary of Labor shall render his decision on appeal within thirty days after the submission of the case, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, and notice thereof shall be given promptly to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which the alien arrived, and to the immigration officials in charge of the port. Such regulations shall provide that in case the decision of the board of special inquiry is adverse to the admission of any alien, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which the alien arrived does not take such alien before the board of special inquiry for reconsideration, or does not take such alien back to the country whence he came, or does not detain such alien on board pending the decision on appeal, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien to be taken from the vessel at the port of arrival and deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act. Such regulations shall provide that the decision of the board of special inquiry shall be final unless reversed on appeal. Such regulations shall provide that in case of the temporary illness of any alien, as certified by the examining surgeon, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived may be required to furnish a bond in such sum not exceeding $500 as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the return of such alien when certified by the surgeon in charge of the hospital where such alien is being treated to be able to be returned without danger to the public health, and upon the payment of the expenses incident to such return, and in default of the execution of such bond the alien may be deported as provided in this act. Such regulations shall provide that the decision of the board of special inquiry in the case of any alien certified by the examining surgeon to be afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease shall be final unless appeal is taken by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived within the time specified for appeals in other cases, and in such case the alien shall be detained in the hospital at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act until the decision of the Secretary of Labor is rendered, and if the decision be adverse and the alien is not landed within the time allowed by the Secretary of Labor, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived fails to return such alien to the country whence he came, or fails to detain such alien on board pending the decision on appeal, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien to be taken from the vessel at the port of arrival and deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act. Such regulations shall provide that the boards of special inquiry shall have the power to administer oaths and to examine witnesses and receive evidence.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien arriving on the vessel on which he arrived prior to the payment of such person's commutation, such alien shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived, and the expenses of such deportation shall be paid out of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which such seaman is reported, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a landing certificate, or to the payment of the commutation provided for in section 36 of the act of February 20, 1917, have been duly executed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, and that such seaman has not been granted a landing certificate, temporarily or to go to ports such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either of the said lists to the immigrant inspector.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived fails to return such alien seaman on the vessel, or fails to detain such alien seaman on board pending the decision on appeal, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to pay the penalty provided for in this subdivision, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum as the collector of customs may require, but not less than $1,000, or the filing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(f) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which such seaman is reported, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a landing certificate, or to the payment of the commutation provided for in section 36 of the act of February 20, 1917, have been duly executed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, and that such seaman has not been granted a landing certificate, temporarily or to go to ports such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either of the said lists to the immigrant inspector.

(g) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien seaman arrived fails to return such alien seaman on the vessel, or fails to detain such alien seaman on board pending the decision on appeal, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien seaman arrived shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to pay the penalty provided for in this subdivision, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum as the collector of customs may require, but not less than $1,000, or the filing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(h) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which such seaman is reported, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a landing certificate, or to the payment of the commutation provided for in section 36 of the act of February 20, 1917, have been duly executed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, and that such seaman has not been granted a landing certificate, temporarily or to go to ports such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either of the said lists to the immigrant inspector.

(i) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien seaman arrived fails to return such alien seaman on the vessel, or fails to detain such alien seaman on board pending the decision on appeal, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien seaman arrived shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to pay the penalty provided for in this subdivision, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum as the collector of customs may require, but not less than $1,000, or the filing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(j) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which such seaman is reported, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a landing certificate, or to the payment of the commutation provided for in section 36 of the act of February 20, 1917, have been duly executed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, and that such seaman has not been granted a landing certificate, temporarily or to go to ports such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either of the said lists to the immigrant inspector.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which such seaman is reported, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a landing certificate, or to the payment of the commutation provided for in section 36 of the act of February 20, 1917, have been duly executed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, and that such seaman has not been granted a landing certificate, temporarily or to go to ports such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either of the said lists to the immigrant inspector.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien seaman arrived fails to return such alien seaman on the vessel, or fails to detain such alien seaman on board pending the decision on appeal, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien seaman arrived shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to pay the penalty provided for in this subdivision, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum as the collector of customs may require, but not less than $1,000, or the filing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which such seaman is reported, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a landing certificate, or to the payment of the commutation provided for in section 36 of the act of February 20, 1917, have been duly executed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, and that such seaman has not been granted a landing certificate, temporarily or to go to ports such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either of the said lists to the immigrant inspector.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien seaman arrived fails to return such alien seaman on the vessel, or fails to detain such alien seaman on board pending the decision on appeal, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien seaman arrived shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to pay the penalty provided for in this subdivision, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum as the collector of customs may require, but not less than $1,000, or the filing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 8. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the liens required by section 36 of the Act of February 20, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act, shall have been served, the deposit affected in rule 23 has been made.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons on board, specifying the nationality, last residence, and destination of each who has been examined and certified by the consul at the port of departure, and the final port, if any, for which such alien has been certified, and specifying those who are citizens of the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such lists shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof, who shall certify to the correctness of the entries made thereon after the departure of the last immigrant therefrom. Such lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before the inspection of the vessel is completed and before any passengers are landed therefrom, except in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such regulations shall provide for the prompt inspection of all aliens entitled to be landed and for the detention on board or at the discretion of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for examination before a special board of inquiry of those aliens who may be found by the examining officer to belong to any of the classes excluded by law, and for the safeguarding of their baggage. Such regulations shall provide that all aliens detained for special inquiry shall be given all reasonable facilities for communicating with relatives or friends, by telegraph or otherwise, and shall have the right to be represented before the board of special inquiry by counsel or agents of their own choice, who may be present at all sessions of the board while the case is under consideration. All appeals shall be taken within three days after the decision is rendered, unless for good cause additional time be allowed by the Secretary of Labor. Such regulations shall provide that a record shall be kept of all testimony and proceedings in all cases of aliens detained for special inquiry, and that the decision of the board shall be based upon such testimony after due consideration of the whole case. Such record shall show the final action of the board and the reasons therefor. Such record shall be filed with the case of the alien to whom it relates. Such regulations shall provide that the decision of the board of special inquiry shall be final unless reversed on appeal. Such regulations shall provide that in case of the temporary illness of any alien, as certified by the examining surgeon, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived may be required to furnish a bond in such sum not exceeding $500 as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the return of such alien when certified by the surgeon in charge of the hospital where such alien is being treated to be able to be returned without danger to the public health, and upon the payment of the expenses incident to such return, and in default of the execution of such bond the alien may be deported as provided in this act. Such regulations shall provide that the decision of the board of special inquiry in the case of any alien certified by the examining surgeon to be afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease shall be final unless appeal is taken by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived within the time specified for appeals in other cases, and in such case the alien shall be detained in the hospital at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act until the decision of the Secretary of Labor is rendered, and if the decision be adverse and the alien is not landed within the time allowed by the Secretary of Labor, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived fails to return such alien to the country whence he came, or fails to detain such alien on board pending the decision on appeal, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien to be taken from the vessel at the port of arrival and deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act. Such regulations shall provide that the decision of the board of special inquiry shall be final unless reversed on appeal. Such regulations shall provide that in case of the temporary illness of any alien, as certified by the examining surgeon, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived may be required to furnish a bond in such sum not exceeding $500 as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the return of such alien when certified by the surgeon in charge of the hospital where such alien is being treated to be able to be returned without danger to the public health, and upon the payment of the expenses incident to such return, and in default of the execution of such bond the alien may be deported as provided in this act. Such regulations shall provide that the decision of the board of special inquiry in the case of any alien certified by the examining surgeon to be afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease shall be final unless appeal is taken by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived within the time specified for appeals in other cases, and in such case the alien shall be detained in the hospital at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act until the decision of the Secretary of Labor is rendered, and if the decision be adverse and the alien is not landed within the time allowed by the Secretary of Labor, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived fails to return such alien to the country whence he came, or fails to detain such alien on board pending the decision on appeal, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien to be taken from the vessel at the port of arrival and deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act. Such regulations shall provide that the decision of the board of special inquiry shall be final unless reversed on appeal. Such regulations shall provide that in case of the temporary illness of any alien, as certified by the examining surgeon, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived may be required to furnish a bond in such sum not exceeding $500 as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the return of such alien when certified by the surgeon in charge of the hospital where such alien is being treated to be able to be returned without danger to the public health, and upon the payment of the expenses incident to such return, and in default of the execution of such bond the alien may be deported as provided in this act. Such regulations shall provide that the decision of the board of special inquiry in the case of any alien certified by the examining surgeon to be afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease shall be final unless appeal is taken by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived within the time specified for appeals in other cases, and in such case the alien shall be detained in the hospital at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act until the decision of the Secretary of Labor is rendered, and if the decision be adverse and the alien is not landed within the time allowed by the Secretary of Labor, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived fails to return such alien to the country whence he came, or fails to detain such alien on board pending the decision on appeal, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien to be taken from the vessel at the port of arrival and deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act. Such regulations shall provide that the decision of the board of special inquiry shall be final unless reversed on appeal. Such regulations shall provide that in case of the temporary illness of any alien, as certified by the examining surgeon, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which such alien arrived may be required to furnish a bond in such sum not exceeding $500 as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the return of such alien when certified by the surgeon in charge of the hospital where such alien is being treated to be able to be returned without danger to the public health, and upon the payment of the expenses incident to such return, and in default of the execution of such bond the alien may be deported as provided in this act.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearliest to the berth of arrival and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of cabin passengers of alien nationality who may be required to be landed on the dock, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien passenger is required to be detained on board the vessel, a special list must be prepared containing the names of all such passengers and the cabin accommodations assigned to them.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all cabin passengers who may be landed in the United States, and such other information regarding them as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at each port where the vessel is first brought to dock, and no passenger not listed shall be landed until the inspection of the master's company, when and where they were respectively examined and passed upon. Any person who knowingly or willfully lands or attempts to land in the United States from any vessel arriving at any port in the United States any alien not duly listed, or who knowingly or willfully lands or attempts to land any alien at any time or place other than as designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port, or who knowingly or willfully aids or assists any alien to land in the United States in violation of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing an alien who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and who could have known of such affliction by the exercise of reasonable diligence, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing any alien who has been deported under the provisions of this act shall be required to pay the cost of such alien's maintenance while detained by the immigration officers at the port of arrival and the cost of his transportation to the port of foreign residence from which he came, and a lien is hereby imposed upon the vessel for such costs and charges, which may be recovered in any proceeding in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located.

(b) The Secretary of Labor shall prescribe rules and regulations for the administration of the provisions of this section, and shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the detention on board vessels or otherwise of aliens who are ill with any contagious disease, and for the conveyance of aliens who become ill after arrival to the hospital selected by the local authorities of the port for the reception of such aliens. Such rules and regulations shall provide for the safeguarding of aliens detained on account of illness, and for the return of such aliens who may be temporarily landed from vessels, and for the support of such aliens who may become public charges within three years after their arrival in the United States, the cost of which support and return shall be borne by the owners of the vessels bringing such aliens to the United States.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall have granted permission for the landing of any alien on the condition that a bond be given by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamship company bringing such alien to the United States to indemnify the United States against the becoming of such alien a public charge, and such alien shall become a public charge within the period limited by such bond, the obligors on such bond shall be jointly and severally liable to the United States for the payment to the United States of the sum of $1,000 as liquidated damages for such violation of the conditions of such bond, and such sum may be recovered in an action in the name of the United States.

(d) Every alien arriving at a port within the United States who is destined to a point within the United States, including Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and the Canal Zone, shall be inspected by the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival unless such alien shall be in possession of a certificate issued by an American consul, or unless such alien shall be in transit through the United States to a foreign country, or unless such alien arrived on a vessel which does not touch at a port of the United States prior to its arrival at a port in the country to which such alien is destined, or unless such alien arrived in Canada or Mexico by railroad and is in possession of an unexpired permit issued by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such alien arrived in Canada or Mexico by water and is in possession of an unexpired permit issued by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such alien arrived in Canada or Mexico by water and is in possession of an unexpired permit issued by the Secretary of Labor and is seeking admission to the United States solely for the purpose of residence in the Canal Zone, Porto Rico, Hawaii, or Alaska, or is a citizen of the United States, or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence who is returning from a temporary visit abroad.

(e) Any person, including any transportation company or owner of any vessel, who shall bring to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien who is not entitled under the immigration laws then in force to enter the United States, or who shall bring to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien for the purpose of assisting such alien to enter unlawfully the United States, or who shall conceal, harbor, or protect from detection any such alien after unlawful entry into the United States, knowing or having reason to know of the unlawful entry into the United States of such alien, or who shall encourage or induce, in any manner, such alien to enter the United States unlawfully, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(f) Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this act.

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board the vessel such inspection card or cards as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, or who fails to deliver on board the vessel such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and for the payment of the cost of the maintenance, medical treatment, and burial in the United States of such seamen (which inspection by the medical examiners), or who fails to deliver such seamen on board such vessel such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer or to the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers while the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(g) Every alien arriving in the United States who does not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or who was temporarily landed from such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien.

(h) If the Secretary of Labor shall have granted permission for the landing of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived pending his departure on another vessel at a time when the vessel on which he arrived is ready to depart, and such alien shall become a public charge within three years after such landing, the owners of the vessel on which he arrived shall be jointly and severally liable to the United States for the payment of such sum as may be expended by the United States during such three years for the maintenance of such alien, unless such vessel shall have been lost on the voyage to the United States, and such sum may be recovered in an action in the name of the United States.

(i) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require, or authorize the requirement of, a passport visé as a condition precedent to the admission of any alien who is not a native, citizen, subject, or resident of a country with which the United States is at war, or of any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who shall have departed therefrom temporarily.

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board the vessel such inspection card or cards as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, or who fails to deliver on board the vessel such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and for the payment of the cost of the maintenance, medical treatment, and burial in the United States of such seamen (which inspection by the medical examiners), or who fails to deliver such seamen on board such vessel such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer or to the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers while the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien arriving in the United States who does not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or who was temporarily landed from such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien.

(h) If the Secretary of Labor shall have granted permission for the landing of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived pending his departure on another vessel at a time when the vessel on which he arrived is ready to depart, and such alien shall become a public charge within three years after such landing, the owners of the vessel on which he arrived shall be jointly and severally liable to the United States for the payment of such sum as may be expended by the United States during such three years for the maintenance of such alien, unless such vessel shall have been lost on the voyage to the United States, and such sum may be recovered in an action in the name of the United States.

(i) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require, or authorize the requirement of, a passport visé as a condition precedent to the admission of any alien who is not a native, citizen, subject, or resident of a country with which the United States is at war, or of any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who shall have departed therefrom temporarily.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws who has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or intransit to and from legations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board the vessel such inspection card or cards as may be required by the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers while the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien arriving in the United States who does not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or who was temporarily landed from such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien.

(h) If the Secretary of Labor shall have granted permission for the landing of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived pending his departure on another vessel at a time when the vessel on which he arrived is ready to depart, and such alien shall become a public charge within three years after such landing, the owners of the vessel on which he arrived shall be jointly and severally liable to the United States for the payment of such sum as may be expended by the United States during such three years for the maintenance of such alien, unless such vessel shall have been lost on the voyage to the United States, and such sum may be recovered in an action in the name of the United States.

(i) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require, or authorize the requirement of, a passport visé as a condition precedent to the admission of any alien who is not a native, citizen, subject, or resident of a country with which the United States is at war, or of any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who shall have departed therefrom temporarily.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the liens required by section 36 of the Act of September 7, 1916, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by section 36 of said act herein noted, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], do declare that I am the [illegible] of the [illegible] and that the following is a full and true list of all the crew now employed on board the vessel, and of all persons who have been shipped or engaged, and who are to be employed on board the vessel at any port or place during the present voyage.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the necessity for securing treatment for a certified disease or physical condition which has arisen after entry, or for such time as may be necessary to enable the master of the vessel upon which he arrived to secure his discharge or to make other disposition of him as may be required by the immigration laws or regulations or the Secretary of Labor, and such seaman complies with such conditions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the enforcement of this section.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers for the deportation of any such alien seaman if the master of such vessel is shall be the duly of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer or the collector of customs a manifest and certificate in duplicate, in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of such alien employees, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the above, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of such alien employees, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master, he shall be punished by a fine of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers for the destination of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel may not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(b) Proof shall be taken as taken seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was detained by the immigration officer at the port of arrival for examination by the medical officers of the Public Health Service, or in a hospital, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed: and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such alien seamen, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman so unaccounted for. The Secretary of Labor may remit such fine or any part thereof upon the payment of such sum as he may deem reasonable, not exceeding that specified in this section, as he may deem proper, and may also remit the deportation of any such alien seaman upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such vessel owner, agent, consignee, or master, and such vessel is granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's country, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as may be required from time to time by the Commissioner General of Immigration, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, a list containing the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of such alien employees, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such alien seamen, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman so unaccounted for. The Secretary of Labor may remit such fine or any part thereof upon the payment of such sum as he may deem reasonable, not exceeding that specified in this section, as he may deem proper, and may also remit the deportation of any such alien seaman upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form 524) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ... of the ..... do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from application B, rule 7, and copy of sections 13 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 629) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival [illegible]

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [illegible] a complete manifest of all aliens on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively signed or engaged, and absolutely [illegible] to the port of arrival; or [illegible] to the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival [illegible] and such manifest shall be prima facie evidence in the trial of the guilt of such owner, agent, consignee, or master in any proceeding for the enforcement of the penalties provided for by this section: Provided, That the master of any vessel arriving at a seaport of the United States from a foreign port shall not be required to deliver to the principal immigrant inspector at such port a list containing the names of those aliens who have been transferred from other vessels arriving at such port and who are destined to the United States, but such master shall deliver to the principal immigrant inspector at such port a list containing the names of all aliens on board such vessel destined to the United States, and the last port at which each such alien embarked.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary detention as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not embark upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a foreign port or place outside thereof, or that he was removed by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport alien seamen by such master, unless it appears that reasonable efforts were made to secure the attendance of such alien seaman for such deportation.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is detained to such seaman by such cause and for such time as he may deem necessary, the cost of the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines referred to section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been [illegible], and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to final prescribed by section 36 of said Act having been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 13 and 30, that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from and port or place during her present voyage.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Recording on separate manifests immigrants and nonimmigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also recording on separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called tourist class, whose rates bear the initials of technical services, and those whose rates do not bear such initials. The names of all members of a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 2 (Name).—The surname in this column should be extended in type as to the name. The given name or initials and the middle name or initial should appear upon the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 3 (Age).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 4 (Married or single).—The symbol should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 5 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as, for example: Coal engineer, stationary engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, steam boilermaker, steel boilermaker, iron molder, wood turner, etc., and not simply as engineer, boilermaker, tinner, or other indefinite designations.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the farm who operates it.

Column 6 (Nationality).—The entry should be the last country in which alien has been a citizen or subject.

Column 7 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet. The entry should show the race or people as given in said list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which alien is a citizen or subject. For instance, a native of Scotland should be certainly entered by inspectors in this column as "Scotch," not "British"; a native of Wales should be similarly entered as "Welsh," not "British"; a native of Ireland should be entered as "Irish," not "British"; a native of India should be entered as "Hindu," not "East Indian"; a native of Burma should be entered as "Burman," not "East Indian"; a native of Syria should be entered as "Syrian," not "Turkish"; a native of Arabia should be entered as "Arabian," not "Turkish"; IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall be in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of names of alien members of the crew (Form 598) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor from time to time, and at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel it shall be the duty of any such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of the cause, if any, why such have departed or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid or to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel shall, if tendered the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a sum twenty if not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act cannot have been served, the deposit specified in rule 33 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not appear upon the continuous manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, to land as a seaman, shall be returned to the country to which he belongs at the time of his last departure from the United States, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall deposit with the immigration officer at the port of arrival a sum sufficient to pay the cost of such return passage, or shall furnish a bond satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor in such sum as he may require, conditioned upon the return of such alien to the country to which he belongs at the time of his last departure from the United States, unless such alien is sooner returned. Every such alien seaman who shall be found in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported at any time within five years after arrival upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be deported to the country to which he belongs at the time of his last departure from the United States, unless such country refuses to accept him, in which case he shall be deported to such other country as may be designated by the alien and which will accept him.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the payment thereof to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Alfred Gordon Martin, of the Gas-Steamer "Ida", do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly on said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, entered from application B, rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 28, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

Alfred Gordon

Sworn to before me this 2nd day of December, 1924

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of crewmen of alien nationality who are entitled to enter (Form 683) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is ordered "excluded" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively engaged or shipped, and specifying those who are destined in the port of arrival; to list coastwise as much of such information concerning the aliens employed on such vessel as may be required by the rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the uniform operation of the provisions of this section; and to report to such immigration officer in writing any such alien employee who shall fail to deliver to such immigration officer on the vessel's departure the certificate of registry issued to him under the provisions of section 4 of this Act, or who shall fail to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of such desertions from the vessel as the same shall have become known to the master or officers thereof, together with the cause therefor, if known, and the sum, if any, due each employee at the time of his departure or discharge, or desertion, and the sum withheld therefrom and the reason therefor. Any master or person in charge of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver any list required by this section, or who refuses or neglects to report any matter required to be reported by this section, or who knowingly reports falsely or fraudulently in relation to any matter required to be reported by this section, or who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to go on board of such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same, or to question any person on board thereof, or who refuses to detain any alien on board thereof when ordered by the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(b) Proof shall be filed as alien seaman did not object upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master or such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a landing or debarkation within the meaning of this section, and such vessel shall be liable to the penalty provided for the unlawful landing of aliens.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, casualty, or emergency, as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Panama Canal Zone, or the insular possessions of the United States, who fails to depart on board the vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof shall be filed as alien seaman did not object upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master or such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a landing or debarkation within the meaning of this section, and such vessel shall be liable to the penalty provided for the unlawful landing of aliens.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 01 to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 01 to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 01 to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 01 to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act of February 5, 1917, have been paid or the payment guaranteed, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, stating the position in the ship's company, race, and where they were respectively born, and the last foreign port or place from which they severally came to the United States, and the final destination of such persons as far as known from the vessel. The list of changes to alien members to be given (Form 528) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be refused any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act shall have been waived, the deposit specified in rule 23 have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or entering the ports of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his removal to a hospital for treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or for such reasons as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every fine so imposed shall not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which it is thereafter in the United States from such place outside thereof, or shall be new reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seamen by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel is intended to such seamen be next cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board the vessel such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the master fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection is had, shall for each such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), if such inspection is had at the port of arrival, be jointly and severally liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the customs manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board such vessel for departure, unless it appears that the master has been unable to secure his presence by reason of his desertion or absence without connivance on his part, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter within twenty-four hours after the time of his desertion, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of all persons employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively paid off or entered, and describing those so be held on board in the port of arrival: or shall have complied to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor with such regulations prescribed and which shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a complete list of the names of all persons employed on such vessel, stating the position in which they were employed, the nationality of each, the last foreign port from which they severally came to the United States, and the intended destination of each, and such other information as may be required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman if sent home on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as may render his removal on board his vessel unsafe, or because of the necessity of such seaman for the medical treatment of the sick or injured seamen on board such vessel, or for such other reasons as may be deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, but no such seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States for a longer period than may be necessary for the object of his landing, and a sufficient sum of money, not less than $5 for each day of the period specified in such permit, shall be deposited with the immigration officer in charge at the port of landing to insure the return of such seaman on board the vessel on which he arrived, or on board some other vessel, or by some other means at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived. Such seaman shall be returned on board his vessel or other vessel leaving the port of arrival at the earliest practicable time, and the cost of his maintenance while on shore, and of his return on board, shall be paid by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived. Such seaman shall be entitled to a hearing before the Secretary of Labor, if demanded by him, prior to his return on board his vessel, and the decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the right of any seaman to land temporarily in the United States shall be final as to such seaman. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing to the United States any seaman who shall have been refused a permit to land in the United States, or who shall fail to return on board his vessel with reasonable promptness, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the inspector at the port of departure to which he came to obtain a certificate from the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and was not taken aboard such vessel, shall be prima facie evidence to a like effect.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or it be otherwise satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines rendered by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been remitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to some prescribed by section 36 of said Act has been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the grade's company, mess and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor and directed to be furnished on forms by him prescribed; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel. Giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on such vessel, together with their respective ages, sex, nationality, last residence, and intended destination, and the cause of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver a list of the names of any such alien employee as required by this section, and a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and the failure to deliver such lists shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of this section. The list of changes of alien members of the crew and their destination from port to port, as required by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure, shall be delivered to the master of the vessel by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and shall be returned by the master to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure. Any master or other person who refuses to deliver any list required by this section, or who refuses to answer any question concerning the movements of any alien employee, or who knowingly lands any alien employee at any port without delivering the list required by this section, or who knowingly lands any alien employee at any port in violation of the provisions of this section, or who knowingly conceals, harbors, or secretes any alien employee who has deserted or who knowingly assists any alien employee to escape from the vessel, or who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to go on board any vessel at any time for the purpose of boarding the same, or who refuses to answer any question put to him by any such inspector touching any violation of the provisions of this section, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each offense. Any master who fails to deliver the lists required by this section shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a like report is not made as above provided, but such penalty shall not be exacted if it be established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master has used due diligence to prevent the commission of such offense.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nominally the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form 436) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector possessing the power to administer oaths to aliens arriving in the port, and shall on no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of crew is also to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 598) shall not be destroyed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arriving in the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, steamboat, or other vessel, or the agent, consignee, or charterer thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each person who may be allowed to enter the United States, and such information shall be subscribed under oath by the master, commander, purser, or surgeon of such vessel, and primary inspection shall be made of each person listed before he shall be landed from such vessel, and no person shall be admitted to the United States who is not clearly and distinctly entitled to admission under the provisions of this Act. Any person who shall knowingly make a false statement in the list required by this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall refuse to allow any immigrant officer to board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the list or the persons on board thereof, or who shall refuse to detain any alien on board such vessel when ordered so to do by any immigrant officer, or who shall refuse to carry back any alien ordered excluded to the country whence he came, shall pay a penalty of $300 for each and every such offense. The master of any vessel bringing any alien who is afflicted with any loathsome disease, or who is a person who is excluded by law because of being a member of one of the classes of persons excluded from admission to the United States, shall be required to return such alien on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to the country from which he came, and the cost of the maintenance of such alien while on board such vessel shall be borne by the owners of such vessel. Any master who shall refuse to receive on board his vessel any alien who has been ordered by the Secretary of Labor to be returned to the country from which he came, or who shall refuse to take such alien to the port designated by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(c) It shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside the United States to deliver to each alien prior to the time of departure from the last foreign port or place in which such alien has been temporarily landed, a card in quadruplicate, the form and contents of which shall be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, which card shall contain such questions as may be necessary to secure the information required in the manifest of aliens, and such other questions as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of Labor in the enforcement of the provisions of this Act relating to the exclusion of aliens. Such card shall be filled out and signed by such alien, and the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of the vessel shall examine such card before such alien is admitted to the United States, and shall deliver both cards to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry. One card, thus filled out, shall be retained by the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of the vessel, and the other card, similarly filled out, shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry. Any master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver such card to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry, or who shall refuse to detain any alien on board such vessel when ordered so to do by any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse to carry back any alien ordered excluded to the country whence he came, shall be subject to the same penalties as are provided in subdivision (b) of this section for masters of vessels refusing to deliver lists or to detain aliens thereon.

(d) Every alien, as such term is defined in section 3 of this Act, who shall depart from the United States by vessel or aircraft shall be required before departure to deliver to the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of the vessel or aircraft, or to an immigrant inspector at the port of departure, a card in quadruplicate, the form and contents of which shall be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, which card shall contain such questions as may be necessary to secure the information required in the manifest of aliens, and such other questions as may be deemed necessary by the Secretary of Labor in the enforcement of the provisions of this Act relating to the exclusion of aliens. It shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of the vessel or aircraft, or the immigrant inspector, to see that such card is properly filled out by each such alien before departure, and to collect one card so filled out. Such card shall be retained by the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of the vessel or aircraft, and the other card, similarly filled out, shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure. Any master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel or aircraft who shall refuse to deliver such card to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure, or who shall refuse to detain any alien on board such vessel or aircraft when ordered so to do by any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse to carry back any alien ordered excluded to the country whence he came, shall be subject to the same penalties as are provided in subdivision (b) of this section for masters of vessels refusing to deliver lists or to detain aliens thereon.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that the master of any vessel or aircraft or transportation company has complied with the provisions of this section relating to the delivery of lists or cards for passengers and crew, and has caused to be delivered to each person required to execute the same such lists or cards, and that such master or company has established such reasonable rules, regulations, and instructions as will be likely to secure compliance by such passengers and crew with the provisions of this section, and has delivered to such passengers and crew such lists or cards, such master or company shall not be subject to the penalties provided for in this section except upon specific notice given by the Secretary of Labor after investigation, and failure to comply therewith.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector possessing the power to administer oaths to the aliens mentioned, and not then unless notice of inability to do administrative and prescribed by said section or to the same prescribed by section 36 of said Act, and the deposit specified in rule 22 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 31. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside the United States, except seamen employed on board vessels of countries contiguous to the United States, and no transportation company of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside the United States shall employ any alien seaman unless such seaman is in possession of a valid seaman's identification certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor, or by such person as he may designate for the purpose, in such form as he may prescribe, containing a description of such alien seaman, together with such other data as the Secretary of Labor may deem necessary for the identification of such alien seaman, and a photograph of such alien seaman. Such certificate shall be issued only upon the application of such alien seaman, and only after he has been examined by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service and found to be physically and mentally clear, except that such certificate may be issued prior to the completion of the medical examination in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor in any case in which he finds that the delay incident to such completion would result in undue hardship to such alien seaman. Such certificate shall be valid for a period of four months from the date of issuance, unless sooner revoked by the Secretary of Labor, and may be renewed by the Secretary of Labor upon the production of such certificate and the submission of such other evidence as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such certificate shall be surrendered to the master of the vessel upon which the alien seaman is employed when he is ready to leave the United States, and by such master delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure from the United States. Any alien seaman who fails to obtain such certificate before departure from the United States shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended, and the cost of his maintenance while detained awaiting deportation shall be borne by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any master who employs any alien seaman in violation of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman employed, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who fails to detain any alien seaman on board his vessel when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or who fails to deliver such alien seaman to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure when required so to do, shall be subject to the penalties provided for in this section for the employment of such alien seaman. Any alien seaman who fails to secure a certificate as required by this section, or who fails to present such certificate to the master of the vessel upon which he is employed when ready to leave the United States, or who fails to present such certificate to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure from the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended, and the cost of his maintenance while detained awaiting deportation shall be borne by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any alien seaman who shall desert while in the United States shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended, and the cost of his maintenance while detained awaiting deportation shall be borne by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States after the vessel on which he arrived therein has departed without the permission of the Secretary of Labor shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended, and the cost of his maintenance while detained awaiting deportation shall be borne by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any alien seaman who shall desert while in the United States shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended, and the cost of his maintenance while detained awaiting deportation shall be borne by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States after the vessel on which he arrived therein has departed without the permission of the Secretary of Labor shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended, and the cost of his maintenance while detained awaiting deportation shall be borne by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any alien seaman who shall desert while in the United States shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended, and the cost of his maintenance while detained awaiting deportation shall be borne by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States after the vessel on which he arrived therein has departed without the permission of the Secretary of Labor shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended, and the cost of his maintenance while detained awaiting deportation shall be borne by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Arnold Turete, of the M.S. IVER FOSS, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 19 and 20, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

Arnold Turete

Sworn to before me this JUN 5 - 1941 day of JUN 5 - 1941, 19....

[signature]
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 689) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act having been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT TO THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Oswald Lewis, of the M.S. VIKER FROST do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from and port to which entered last previous thereto. I have made diligent search and inquiry, and to the best of my knowledge and belief no seaman or other person required by the Act of February 5, 1915, entered from application B, rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 28, Act of May 28, 1924, as amended, to be entered in the list has been shipped or entered on board the said vessel before the hour of sailing, and that no change in the crew has been made except as noted above.

Oswald Lewis

Immigrant Inspector.

SEC. 28. That every alien arriving at a seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be required, in addition to the physical examination by the boards of special inquiry provided for in section 16 of this Act, to undergo examination as to his admissibility into the United States by one of the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival, which examination shall be conducted in the English language and shall be recorded in the manner hereinafter provided. Such examination shall be conducted by the chief inspector at the port of arrival, or by such assistant inspector as he may designate for the purpose, and shall be completed within two hours after the vessel upon which the alien arrives has been docked and the gangway connected therewith, unless the chief inspector shall extend the time in his discretion. Every alien arriving at a seaport of the United States from any foreign country shall be examined before he is admitted or detained, and no alien shall be admitted or detained except upon the certificate of the immigrant inspector examining him that he has been examined in accordance with the provisions of this Act: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, order that the examination of aliens arriving at ports of the United States specified by him, or at all ports, shall be made by boards of special inquiry without previous examination by immigrant inspectors.

(a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof (other than persons specifically exempted from the provisions of this section) any alien who is destined to or detained at a port of the United States shall take such alien on board prior to the departure of such vessel from such foreign port or place and shall prevent the departure of such alien therefrom until such time as he may be admitted or removed from the United States under the provisions of this Act, and shall provide such alien with such food, shelter, and other necessaries of life as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor during the detention of such alien on board such vessel or at such port or place. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to perform any of the duties imposed upon him by this section, or by the rules and regulations made pursuant thereto, or who shall interfere with or obstruct or hinder or delay the performance of any such duties, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in any court of the United States shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien in respect of whom any such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the master thereof has paid any fine imposed upon him or any sum required for the maintenance of any alien pending the determination of his case, or has given a bond to the collector of customs of the district in which the port is situated with sufficient sureties in such sum as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned for the payment of such fine or sum.

(b) Every alien and every person accompanying him shall be examined as to his nationality, race, and last residence before he shall be admitted into the United States. Such examination shall be made by one or more immigrant inspectors, and shall be conducted orally and shall be recorded in the English language by the inspector conducting the same, and shall be signed by the alien or person accompanying him and by the inspector who conducts the examination. Such record shall contain such facts concerning each alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall determine that any alien concerning whom correct data are not delivered to a duly authorized officer of the United States at the time of the departure of the vessel upon which such alien arrives in the United States, or concerning whom such data are found to be incorrect, such vessel shall be required to return such alien to the port from which he came, at the cost of the vessel, and such alien shall be deported as provided by law. Any vessel which shall refuse to receive such alien on board, or which shall fail to return him to such port, shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each alien concerning whom correct data are not delivered to a duly authorized officer of the United States at the time of the departure of the vessel upon which such alien arrives in the United States, and such penalty shall be a lien upon such vessel, for which it may be libeled in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of the port at which such vessel may arrive. Provided, however, That no such penalty shall be imposed if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that it was impossible for the master of such vessel to obtain correct data concerning such alien prior to the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place at which she touched.

Sec. 32. That every alien arriving at a seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be required, in addition to the physical examination by the boards of special inquiry provided for in section 16 of this Act, to undergo examination as to his admissibility into the United States by one of the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival, which examination shall be conducted in the English language and shall be recorded in the manner hereinafter provided. Such examination shall be made by the chief inspector at the port of arrival, or by such assistant inspector as he may designate for the purpose, and shall be completed within two hours after the vessel upon which the alien arrives has been docked and the gangway connected therewith, unless the chief inspector shall extend the time in his discretion. Every alien arriving at a seaport of the United States from any place outside thereof (other than persons specifically exempted from the provisions of this section) shall be examined before he is admitted or detained, and no alien shall be admitted or detained except upon the certificate of the immigrant inspector examining him that he has been examined in accordance with the provisions of this Act: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, order that the examination of aliens arriving at ports of the United States specified by him, or at all ports, shall be made by boards of special inquiry without previous examination by immigrant inspectors.

(d) Every alien and every person accompanying him shall be examined as to his nationality, race, and last residence before he shall be admitted into the United States. Such examination shall be made by one or more immigrant inspectors, and shall be conducted orally and shall be recorded in the English language by the inspector conducting the same, and shall be signed by the alien or person accompanying him and by the inspector who conducts the examination. Such record shall contain such facts concerning each alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall determine that any alien concerning whom correct data are not delivered to a duly authorized officer of the United States at the time of the departure of the vessel upon which such alien arrives in the United States, or concerning whom such data are found to be incorrect, such vessel shall be required to return such alien to the port from which he came, at the cost of the vessel, and such alien shall be deported as provided by law. Any vessel which shall refuse to receive such alien on board, or which shall fail to return him to such port, shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each alien concerning whom correct data are not delivered to a duly authorized officer of the United States at the time of the departure of the vessel upon which such alien arrives in the United States, and such penalty shall be a lien upon such vessel, for which it may be libeled in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of the port at which such vessel may arrive. Provided, however, That no such penalty shall be imposed if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that it was impossible for the master of such vessel to obtain correct data concerning such alien prior to the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place at which she touched.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 4. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 28 of the Act of February 5, 1917, shall have been completed, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by section 32 of said Act, and by section 18 of the Act approved May 26, 1924, shall be posted in a conspicuous place on board such vessel, the said notice specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 11. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States unless such alien seaman is employed on board a vessel of the nationality to which such seaman belongs, or on board a vessel of the country of which such seaman is a subject or citizen, or on board a vessel of that country which can and will accept such seaman at the lowest current rate of wages for such grade or class of service, or on board a vessel of the country to which such seaman desires to proceed and which will accept such seaman at such rate of wages, or on board a vessel of the country in which such seaman has resided for the two years next preceding his application for admission to the United States and which will accept such seaman at such rate of wages, or on board a vessel of the country in which such seaman was born and which will accept such seaman at such rate of wages, or on board a vessel of the country in which such seaman has a wife or child who is a citizen or subject of such country and which will accept such seaman at such rate of wages.

(b) Every alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be deported on board the vessel bringing him to the United States, or on board any vessel of the nationality to which such seaman belongs, or on board any vessel which will accept such seaman at the lowest current rate of wages for such grade or class of service, or on board any vessel of the country to which such seaman desires to proceed and which will accept such seaman at such rate of wages, or on board any vessel of the country in which such seaman has resided for the two years next preceding his application for admission to the United States and which will accept such seaman at such rate of wages, or on board any vessel of the country in which such seaman was born and which will accept such seaman at such rate of wages, or on board any vessel of the country in which such seaman has a wife or child who is a citizen or subject of such country and which will accept such seaman at such rate of wages, at the cost of the vessel bringing such seaman to the United States, unless such seaman elects to remain in the United States and deposits with the Secretary of Labor such sum of money as the Secretary of Labor shall determine to be sufficient to defray the cost of his maintenance for a period not exceeding six months, pending the procurement of passage for his return to the country of which he is a subject or citizen.

(c) The Secretary of Labor shall not be required to maintain any alien excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws in any hospital or other institution, or to support any such alien otherwise than temporarily pending the arrangement for the departure of such alien from the United States.

The list described below must be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector stationed at the port of arrival, but in no case to be delivered on board the vessel. The list is dropped to the immigrant inspector, who will then go on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien member of the crew "MONTANA" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 18. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States to detain such alien on board or at quarantine or such other place as may be designated by the medical officer in charge of the port, pending the physical examination of such alien by the said medical officer, and it shall be unlawful for any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to land or permit to be landed any alien before such alien shall have been examined and admitted by the said officer or his assistants, at the port of arrival, and certificates in duplicate for each alien landed shall be issued by said officer, one of which certificates shall be delivered to the master of the vessel before such alien lands, and shall be surrendered by him to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry. Such certificates shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall state the name of the vessel, the name, nationality, race, last residence, and intended destination of each alien described therein, and such other facts concerning each alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Upon the refusal by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to detain any alien as required by this section, or upon the landing or attempted landing of any alien by any such master, agent, consignee, or owner without certificate from the medical officer in charge of the port, or upon the landing or attempted landing of any alien who has been certified to by the medical officer in charge of the port as afflicted with any contagious disease, such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is situated the sum of $500 for each alien so landed or attempted to be landed: Provided, however, That if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that any such alien had a contagious disease at the time of embarkation, which could not be detected by the medical officer at the port of departure by the use of reasonable diligence, and that the master, agent, consignee, and owner of the vessel have complied with the provisions of this Act relative to the detention of aliens on board vessels, the Secretary of Labor may remit the fine or any part thereof imposed upon the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on account of the presence of such alien: Provided further, That no fine shall be imposed upon the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel for the presence of any alien suffering from mental disease not discoverable by the means ordinarily employed for the physical examination of aliens, or for the presence of any alien who becomes ill with such disease after the arrival of the vessel at a port of the United States and during the detention of such alien in accordance with the provisions of this Act, if such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall have complied with the provisions of this Act relative to the detention of aliens on board vessels, and shall report and deliver to the medical officer in charge of the port every alien so ill with such disease, and shall furnish such information in his possession concerning the case as may be required by such officer.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless and until the master, purser, or agent of the vessel shall have furnished a bond or undertaking to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, in such sum not exceeding $1,000 as he may require, conditioned that such seaman will be returned on board when the vessel sails from such port, or that if prevented by such illness or injury from proceeding on board the vessel he will be returned to the country to which he belongs or in which he shall have been naturalized, or that he will pay the cost of his maintenance while he remains in the United States, unless in the meantime he has been granted permission to land temporarily by the Secretary of Labor or by such officer as he may designate for the purpose, or has been granted a discharge by a United States court or commissioner in accordance with the provisions of section 4 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or has been granted a discharge by the Commissioner of Immigration at the port of arrival after examination by a medical officer of the Public Health Service, which discharge shall be granted only upon the certificate of such medical officer that such seaman is not afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be the cause of his exclusion from the United States under the provisions of section 3 of the Immigration Act of February 5, 1917, or with tuberculosis in any form or with any dangerous contagious disease. Any vessel which shall refuse or neglect to deport any seaman specified in this section when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor shall be denied clearance pending the determination of the question upon application therefor, but such refusal shall not affect the right to issue clearance upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. Pending the payment of a fine or the execution of a bond for the payment thereof, no vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any question relative to the bond or undertaking required of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel in connection with the removal from the United States of any alien seaman who may be ordered deported under the provisions of this section, except upon a certificate from the Secretary of Labor or a commissioner of immigration to the effect that the case of such alien seaman has been given due consideration by the Department of Labor and that the presence of such alien seaman is required as a witness in connection with the prosecution of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived for violation of the immigration laws, or that the testimony of such alien seaman is required in connection with the prosecution of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer for violation of the immigration laws, and that the Secretary of Labor is satisfied that such alien seaman will be returned to the United States when required for the purpose of such prosecution.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in any port of the United States shall be deported as provided in this section in the case of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel and found ashore within three years after such desertion, unless such alien seaman shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he did not wilfully desert or that he had reasonable cause to believe and did believe that he was entitled to remain in the United States, or that he had the consent of the master to remain, or that he shipped in good faith on another vessel which sailed subsequently from a port in the United States and that he has not since remained in the United States for more than ten days after the departure of such vessel. Any such alien seaman who shall be found in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of February 5, 1917, to the country in which he was born or in which he resided at the time of his last entry into the United States, at the option of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor or the immigration officer in charge at any port of arrival shall have reason to believe that any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving at such port is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities specified in section 3 of the Immigration Act of February 5, 1917, or is afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with any dangerous contagious disease, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel or at such other place as he may designate for the purpose of examination by medical officers of the Public Health Service, and for the certification by such medical officers as to the existence of any such disease or defect. Any alien seaman who shall be certified by any such medical officer to be afflicted with any such disease or defect shall be deported in the manner provided by this section, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall furnish a bond in such sum not exceeding $1,000 as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned that such alien seaman will not become a public charge within three years after the date of his entry into the United States, and that he will not leave the United States at any time before the expiration of such three years without the consent of the Commissioner of Immigration of the United States, to the satisfaction of such Commissioner. Upon the refusal to furnish or renew any such bond when required as herein provided, the Commissioner of Immigration may cause any such alien seaman to be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of seamen who have been employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States and who have been found ashore within three years after the departure of the vessel on which they arrived in the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the listing required by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been completed, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act, having been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 30. That upon arriving at the United States from a foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing such names of all aliens employed on board any vessel, arranged in such groups, and showing such particulars as the Secretary of Labor may by regulations prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer at such port as may be designated for the purpose, or has been granted a discharge by a medical officer in charge at the port of arrival, all aliens employed on board such vessel who were not reported by the master of the vessel on the lists required to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and for each and every such alien not reported a penalty of $10 (not to exceed $200 for any one vessel) may be imposed, which may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just, and shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department; and he needs for verification of the immigration inspector boarding the vessel in the port to which it arrives, and in all cases of failure to furnish correct list. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form 528) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. Attention is directed to section 30 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917, which reads as follows:

SEC. 30. That upon arriving at the United States from a foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing such names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and such particulars of each alien on board as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer at such port as may be designated for the purpose, or has been granted a discharge by a medical officer in charge at the port of arrival, the name of every alien employed on board such vessel who may have been discovered, all cases of illness or injury which may occur to any such alien before the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, and the name of every such alien who may be ill on board at the time of the vessel's departure, and the intended destination of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to the identification of such alien as the Secretary of Labor may require, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification; and for every failure to report any such alien seaman as discovered, all cases of illness or injury, and the name of every such alien seaman who may be ill on board at the time of the vessel's departure, and the intended destination of such alien, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall be liable to a penalty of $100, which may be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just, and shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the West Indies, except Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Central or South America, or the Canal Zone, or on board any vessel leaving the United States for any such place, or transferred from one vessel to another in the United States, or to be discharged in the United States, or to be detained on board vessel while in port, unless such alien has been registered and has received a certificate of identification vised by the consular officer of the country to which the vessel belongs, or, if there be no consular officer of such country there, then by the consular officer of some friendly country, and unless such alien is in possession of a valid passport duly vised by a consular officer of the United States: Provided, That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may by regulations prescribe the manner in which the provisions of this section shall be enforced, and may except from the operation thereof aliens employed in such manner on such vessels as he may designate, and may by regulations provide for the refusal or withdrawal of the certificate of identification provided for in this section in the case of any alien who has been convicted of violating the provisions of this section, and may prescribe a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each violation thereof by any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel, or any officer thereof, and a fine not exceeding $500 for each violation by any alien seaman of the provisions of this section. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the infliction of fine or withholding of clearance in any case where a fine has been imposed, until the fine has been paid or sufficient security given therefor. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may issue rules and regulations governing the admission, detention, and deportation of alien seamen, and the refusal of clearance to vessels for the failure of masters to deliver such aliens for deportation when required so to do, and shall have the power to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence of any matters which may be material or necessary to the proper administration of this section and any rules and regulations issued thereunder, and any person who shall knowingly make false oath or give false testimony in any such matter before any person duly authorized to administer oaths for the purposes of this section shall be deemed guilty of perjury and shall be punished accordingly. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may cancel any certificate issued under the provisions of this section upon the application of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived, or any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel on board of which the alien seaman is employed, or may grant to any such alien seaman the right to land temporarily in the United States solely for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, and may issue such certificate of identification for the period of such treatment: Provided, That no such certificate shall be granted to any alien who has been convicted of violating the provisions of this section, or who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who is a member of the anarchistic or other class of aliens excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws: Provided further, That no such certificate shall be granted to any alien who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, unless the Secretary of Labor, in his discretion, shall be satisfied that the ends of justice and the interests of the United States require that such certificate be granted.

SEC. 30. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the West Indies, except Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Central or South America, or the Canal Zone, or any owner, master, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel leaving the United States for any such place, who knowingly employs or has in his employment on board such vessel any alien seaman who has been refused a certificate of identification by the Secretary of Labor, or any alien seaman who has been landed temporarily for medical treatment, or any alien seaman who has been certified by the Secretary of Labor as a deserter, or any alien seaman who has been ordered deported, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien employed, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and such alien seaman shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act. Any such alien seaman shall be taken on board such vessel by the master thereof before it departs from any port in the United States, and in default thereof shall be arrested and taken on board by any immigrant inspector, and the master shall pay the cost and expenses incurred in such arrest. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of this section in the case of any vessel which touches at ports in the United States solely for the purpose of taking on board seamen for the purpose of replacing alien seamen who have been left behind involuntarily, or who have been discharged in accordance with the provisions of section 16 of this Act, or for the purpose of shipping seamen for the national defense or in case of other emergency.

(b) Every alien seaman who is ordered deported from the United States under the provisions of this Act, or who is granted a permit to land temporarily as a sick seaman, shall be immediately deported upon the vessel on which he arrived, or any other vessel which may be obtained for that purpose, unless the Secretary of Labor shall determine that he is not a member of the class which may be excluded under the provisions of this Act, or that he is duly admissible under the provisions of this Act, or that he has been granted the right to enter the United States temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment, or that he is a bona fide member of the crew of a vessel which will depart from a port of the United States within thirty days after the date of the determination of the Secretary of Labor, and that he will be deported on such vessel or another vessel: Provided, That no such alien seaman shall be granted a permit to land temporarily for the purpose of medical treatment if he is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or if the Secretary of Labor shall be of the opinion that the cost of providing for his proper care while in the United States will be unduly burdensome, or that his presence in the United States will endanger the welfare of the country, or that he is likely to become a public charge, or that he is a member of the anarchistic or other class of aliens excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws.

(c) Every alien seaman who is ordered deported from the United States under the provisions of this Act, or who is granted a permit to land temporarily as a sick seaman, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived shall pay the cost of his deportation, or shall deposit sufficient funds for that purpose, or shall furnish a bond satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor conditioned upon the deportation of such alien seaman within such time as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor. The cost of the deportation of any alien seaman who shall have been granted a permit to land temporarily as a sick seaman, or who shall have been certified by the master of the vessel on which he arrived as a deserter, shall be paid by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel before such vessel shall be granted clearance papers, and any violation of this provision shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to a port to which he was destined as above required, and in addition by the withholding of clearance papers for the vessel on which he arrived on any subsequent voyage until such fine has been paid. Any person who shall knowingly make false oath or give false testimony concerning any matter under the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of perjury and shall be punished accordingly. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may issue rules and regulations governing the admission, detention, and deportation of alien seamen, and the refusal of clearance to vessels for the failure of masters to deliver such aliens for deportation when required so to do, and shall have the power to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence of any matters which may be material or necessary to the proper administration of this section and any rules and regulations issued thereunder, and any person who shall knowingly make false oath or give false testimony in any such matter before any person duly authorized to administer oaths for the purposes of this section shall be deemed guilty of perjury and shall be punished accordingly. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may cancel any certificate issued under the provisions of this section upon the application of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived, or any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel on board of which the alien seaman is employed, or may grant to any such alien seaman the right to land temporarily in the United States solely for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, and may issue such certificate of identification for the period of such treatment: Provided, That no such certificate shall be granted to any alien who has been convicted of violating the provisions of this section, or who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who is a member of the anarchistic or other class of aliens excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws: Provided further, That no such certificate shall be granted to any alien who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, unless the Secretary of Labor, in his discretion, shall be satisfied that the ends of justice and the interests of the United States require that such certificate be granted.

(d) Every alien shall be subject to a head tax of $8, to be collected by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrives at the United States from any place outside the West Indies, except Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Central or South America, or the Canal Zone, or on board any vessel leaving the United States for any such place, or transferred from one vessel to another in the United States, or to be discharged in the United States, or to be detained on board vessel while in port, to be paid before any such alien shall be granted a landing permit. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the infliction of fine or withholding of clearance in any case where a fine has been imposed, until the fine has been paid or sufficient security given therefor. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may issue rules and regulations governing the admission, detention, and deportation of alien seamen, and the refusal of clearance to vessels for the failure of masters to deliver such aliens for deportation when required so to do, and shall have the power to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence of any matters which may be material or necessary to the proper administration of this section and any rules and regulations issued thereunder, and any person who shall knowingly make false oath or give false testimony in any such matter before any person duly authorized to administer oaths for the purposes of this section shall be deemed guilty of perjury and shall be punished accordingly. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may cancel any certificate issued under the provisions of this section upon the application of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which the alien seaman arrived, or any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel on board of which the alien seaman is employed, or may grant to any such alien seaman the right to land temporarily in the United States solely for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, and may issue such certificate of identification for the period of such treatment: Provided, That no such certificate shall be granted to any alien who has been convicted of violating the provisions of this section, or who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who is a member of the anarchistic or other class of aliens excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws: Provided further, That no such certificate shall be granted to any alien who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, unless the Secretary of Labor, in his discretion, shall be satisfied that the ends of justice and the interests of the United States require that such certificate be granted.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will endanger the welfare of such vessel, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel: Provided, That clearance papers shall not be granted such vessel until the alien seaman has been deported.

SEC. 31. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be arrested in the United States and taken before any United States commissioner, judge, or court having jurisdiction of the case, on board such vessel or otherwise, and may be required to enter into a bond in the sum of $1,000 for each such alien seaman, conditioned upon the return of such alien seaman to the country whence he came, or to any country willing to receive him, if such alien seaman is refused a landing permit or is ordered deported within five years after the entry of such alien seaman, and upon the payment of the cost of his deportation. Such bond shall be void if such alien seaman shall depart to the country whence he came, or to any country willing to receive him, if such alien seaman is refused a landing permit or is ordered deported within five years after the entry of such alien seaman, and upon the payment of the cost of his deportation. Such bond shall be void if such alien seaman shall depart to the country whence he came, or to any country willing to receive him, if such alien seaman is refused a landing permit or is ordered deported within five years after the entry of such alien seaman, and upon the payment of the cost of his deportation.

(b) Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who refuses or neglects to enter into such bond or to pay the cost of such alien seaman's deportation shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman, and such alien seaman shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act. Any such alien seaman shall be taken on board such vessel by the master thereof before it departs from any port in the United States, and in default thereof shall be arrested and taken on board by any immigrant inspector, and the master shall pay the cost and expenses incurred in such arrest. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of this section in the case of any vessel which touches at ports in the United States solely for the purpose of taking on board seamen for the purpose of replacing alien seamen who have been left behind involuntarily, or who have been discharged in accordance with the provisions of section 16 of this Act, or for the purpose of shipping seamen for the national defense or in case of other emergency.

The list described below must be prepared on plain white unruled paper and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Use plain black ink or indelible pencil. The list of persons to alien members of the crew (Form 568) and not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any alien seaman entering the United States in violation of the provisions of this section shall be deported as provided in section 19 of the Act of February 5, 1917.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively born, their last permanent residence, whether they have been in the United States previously, and if so, how long, whether they have been connected with any criminal institution or institution for the care of the insane or supported by charity, whether they are in possession of money and how much, whether they are going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and what their destination is, whether they have been assisted to come, and if so, by whom, whether they are coming under contract or agreement to perform labor, their calling or occupation, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity within the past year, whether they are connected with any anarchistic or other class of persons excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, whether they are polygamists, whether they are under sentence of death or have been convicted of felony or other infamous crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and whether they have been deported, and if so, whether at the public expense or not, and the reasons therefor, and whether they have ever been in the United States before, at what time or times, and how long they remained on each occasion, and whether they have been engaged in any form of anarchistic or revolutionary propaganda, and such other information regarding the history, character, and identity of such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such lists shall be verified by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, or by the chief officer thereof, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be in such form as the Secretary of Labor shall prescribe. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who delivers incomplete lists, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, and in addition shall be liable to the United States for a sum equal to the cost of bringing back to the port from which they came any aliens who may be deported within three years after their arrival at such port, which cost shall be a lien upon the vessel, and shall be recovered in the name of the United States in any district court of the United States within any district in which such vessel may be found. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of this section in the case of any vessel which touches at ports in the United States solely for the purpose of taking on board seamen for the purpose of replacing alien seamen who have been left behind involuntarily, or who have been discharged in accordance with the provisions of section 16 of this Act, or for the purpose of shipping seamen for the national defense or in case of other emergency.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or proceeding to the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such refugees as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who lands or attempts to land on board thereof any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall furnish information officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected each seaman (after inspection at all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or the Secretary of Labor, so do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination on such deposit such sum as the Secretary of Labor may require, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) From fines so paid, refunded, or remitted on account of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or the owner, charterer, agent, or consignee thereof, the collector of customs shall pay to the master of such vessel $8 for each alien seaman on board at the time of arrival for the cost of maintenance and transportation of such alien, together with the consular charges, if any, of the country to which he belongs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that fines have been improperly paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not furnished, or the amount of fines paid, but such remission shall not be made as to any alien concerning whom the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel fails to furnish information required by the Secretary of Labor, or as to whom the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel fails to prove that reasonable care has been exercised by him and by the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to detect illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; but no fine shall be imposed under this subdivision if the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall prove that such alien had been in the United States for a period of more than one year prior to the date of such vessel's departure, and was at the time of such departure lawfully entitled to return to the United States, regardless of whether or not such alien was in possession of an unexpired immigration visa at the time of such departure.

(d) From fines so paid, refunded, or remitted on account of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or the owner, charterer, agent, or consignee thereof, the collector of customs shall pay to the master of such vessel $8 for each alien seaman on board at the time of arrival for the cost of maintenance and transportation of such alien, together with the consular charges, if any, of the country to which he belongs.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that fines have been improperly paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not furnished, or the amount of fines paid, but such remission shall not be made as to any alien concerning whom the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel fails to furnish information required by the Secretary of Labor, or as to whom the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel fails to prove that reasonable care has been exercised by him and by the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to detect illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; but no fine shall be imposed under this subdivision if the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall prove that such alien had been in the United States for a period of more than one year prior to the date of such vessel's departure, and was at the time of such departure lawfully entitled to return to the United States, regardless of whether or not such alien was in possession of an unexpired immigration visa at the time of such departure.

SEC. 36. That upon arriving at every port in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of every vessel bringing an alien to the United States to file with the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the name of every such alien and such information as the Secretary of Labor shall require to be set down in relation thereto; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, at such port, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; but no fine shall be imposed under this section if it shall be proved that such alien had been in the United States for a period of more than one year prior to the date of such vessel's departure, and was at the time of such departure lawfully entitled to return to the United States, regardless of whether or not such alien was in possession of an unexpired immigration visa at the time of such departure. The list of changes of alien members of the crew reported to the immigrant inspector at each port of arrival shall be delivered by the master to the proper immigration officer at the port of departure (Form 632) and shall not be destroyed or mutilated, but shall be delivered by the master to the proper immigration officer at the port "reported" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared in plain form and typewritten and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not in all instances be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew reported at each port of arrival, and not taken on the inward voyage, is liable to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said act unless such changes are noted, the penalty specified in title 55 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 4. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been tendered, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said act unless such fine has been made.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Forest Ford, of Alaska Pacific Steamship Co. do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from and port or place granted for present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 28, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, during such time as the vessel remains in port, unless such seaman has been lawfully admitted to the United States, or shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or to secure necessary surgical relief, or unless he has been granted shore leave pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, or unless he shall be in possession of a valid seaman's passport and shall have been issued a nonimmigrant visa by the consular officer at the port from which he last departed, or by the consular officer at the port at which he enters the United States, stating that he is destined to the United States temporarily and solely in pursuance of his calling as a seaman, and specifying the vessel on board which he arrived and the vessel on board which he intends to depart from the United States, and establishing to the satisfaction of the immigrant inspector at the port of entry his identity as a seaman entitled to the status conferred by this section. Such seaman shall be granted shore leave only from vessels arriving at ports designated by the Secretary of Labor, and only when the immigration officer at the port of entry is satisfied that such shore leave will not be harmful to the interests of the United States. Such seaman shall be deported in the same manner as provided for aliens in section 19 hereof, and shall be deported only upon a vessel upon which he is employed or which has been chartered by the owners, agents, consignees, or masters of such vessel. Such seaman shall be deported to the country whose seaman's passport he bears, to the country in which he shipped, or to any country which will accept him, at the option of the master of the vessel upon which he arrived. Any seaman who fails to depart from the United States with the vessel upon which he arrived, or upon the vessel upon which he shall thereafter ship, or who fails to depart on any other vessel within thirty days after being ordered to do so by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof, and in addition thereto shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master who fails to report the illegal landing of any seaman, or who fails to detain any seaman specified by the Secretary of Labor as a witness in connection with the prosecution of any charge made against any master under this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master who fails to deliver to the Secretary of Labor for each seaman employed on board his vessel at the time of her departure from a port of the United States a list containing the name of each seaman employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure from such port, or who fails to report the illness or injury of any seaman, or his disappearance, desertion, or death, or who fails to make any other report required by the Secretary of Labor relative to seamen, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each offense. Any master who fails to deliver to any seaman employed on board his vessel when discharged a certificate of identity in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, containing the name, age, nationality, and personal description of such seaman, and the name and official number of the vessel on board which such seaman was employed, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each offense. Any master who fails to report the illness or injury of any seaman, or his disappearance, desertion, or death, or who fails to make any other report required by the Secretary of Labor relative to seamen, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each offense. Any master who fails to deliver to any seaman employed on board his vessel when discharged a certificate of identity in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, containing the name, age, nationality, personal description, and last permanent residence of such seaman, and the name and official number of the vessel on board which such seaman was employed, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each offense. Any master who fails to deliver to any seaman employed on board his vessel when discharged a certificate of identity in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, containing the name, age, nationality, and personal description

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except a seaplane, or vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring hospital treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the voluntary departure of an alien crewman, or pursuant to a bond filed as provided by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the temporary landing of aliens employed on vessels arriving at ports of the United States for the purpose of taking on board and departing with such aliens for foreign ports.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel departing from a place outside thereof, or shall be found to have remained in the United States for a longer period than that for which he was temporarily admitted, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have been found to be in the United States in violation of this Act, but the cost of such deportation shall be paid from the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is unable to obtain or depart from a place outside thereof, or shall be found to have remained in the United States for a longer period than that for which he was temporarily admitted, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport. If the Secretary of Labor finds that an alien seaman did not depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport. If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is unable to obtain or depart from a place outside thereof, or shall be found to have remained in the United States for a longer period than that for which he was temporarily admitted

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall on all occasions be taken from the vessel. The list of cabin passengers or alien members of crews (form 688) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When no such officer is present, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively taken on board, and whether they have been in the port of arrival; or if there contraband be found in the port of arrival: or if there contraband be found to be on board in the opinion of such officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed fourteen at the time of arrival but who will leave port fourteen at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on board for the purpose of transporting them to the United States; and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any alien vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, when required by the Secretary of Labor, a like list of the crew, officers, and passengers, and such other information relative thereto as may be required by the Secretary of Labor to do so. Until the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien assumed in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every fine or sum assessed and not remitted upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or fine so exacted by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport any alien concerning whom complaint is made by the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien cannot be had upon the vessel on which he arrived, such vessel shall be required to remain in port at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, pending the final determination of the case, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains pending, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the sufficient detention, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every fine or sum assessed and not remitted upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or fine so exacted by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport any alien concerning whom complaint is made by the Secretary of Labor pending the final determination of the case, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains pending, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded; and no clearance shall be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien cannot be had upon the vessel on which he arrived, such vessel shall be required to remain in port at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, pending the final determination of the case, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains pending, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded; and no clearance shall be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines remitted by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been imposed, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act of February 5, 1917, have been imposed, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the Immigration Inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and in advance of clearance from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members (from 958) shall not be required to be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (from outside of limits of the administrative area prescribed by section 28 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative area prescribed by section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative area prescribed by said section or to some other section of the said Act has been made.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

FEB. 2. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the alien tendered by section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative area prescribed by said section or to some other section of the said Act has been made.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, steamship owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the ports at which they are severally to be discharged in the port of arrival: or if said consignee do much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, consignee, or agent to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed fourteen at the time of the arrival but who will leave port fourteen at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been shipped, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such master, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists he, or in the event such fine is imposed, while if remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon depositing a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 41. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such alien's necessary detention as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(d) Every such alien seaman did not appear upon the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States upon the inspection of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of the provisions of this section.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue and unreasonable delay in the departure of such vessel, or if he is satisfied that sufficient guaranty has been given for the return of such alien seaman when required, he may cause him to be detained on board such vessel or at such other place as he may designate pending the decision as to the deportation of such alien seaman, or may, in his discretion, parole such alien seaman to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel upon the payment by such master, agent, consignee, or owner of the sum of $10 for each alien seaman so paroled, which sum shall be returned to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel upon the departure of such alien seaman on such vessel, or upon the deportation of such alien seaman if he shall be deported before the departure of such vessel. Such sum shall not be returned unless such alien seaman has been actually removed from the United States within two months after the date of his parole, or unless the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that such alien seaman has been prevented from departing from the United States within such period by sickness or accident, or by the act of God or the public enemy, or other cause beyond the control of such master, agent, consignee, or owner. Any such sum not returned shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States and shall be available for the expenses of the service of the Department of Labor in the enforcement of the provisions of this section.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship, such alien seaman may be paroled to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, but such alien seaman shall not be returned to the United States by any vessel owned in whole or in part by such master, agent, consignee, or owner, or by any vessel on which such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall be interested as master, agent, consignee, or owner, without the consent of the Secretary of Labor.

(f) Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made thereunder, or who shall refuse to detain any alien seaman on board such vessel when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to pay the head tax levied by section 2 of this Act for each alien seaman, or who shall refuse to deliver to the Secretary of Labor the sum of $10 for each alien seaman paroled as provided in this section, or who shall refuse to deliver to the Secretary of Labor the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman who shall not be returned to the United States by such master, agent, consignee, or owner as provided in this section, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense.

(g) The Secretary of Labor shall make such regulations and prescribe such forms of bond, reports, entries, and clearance papers as he may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, and may amend and change the same from time to time. Bonds or undertakings given to the Secretary of Labor under the provisions of this section may be sued in the name of the United States, and may be prosecuted and recovered in the manner provided by law for the prosecution and recovery of other bonds given to the United States.

(h) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel employed solely in trade between ports of the United States, or between the United States and the Panama Canal Zone, or between the United States and its possessions, except that the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, apply all or any of the provisions of this section to any vessel employed in trade between the United States and any of its possessions.

(i) The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refuse clearance to any vessel the master, agent, consignee, or owner of which shall have failed to comply with the provisions of this section, or with any rule or regulation made thereunder, and may withhold clearance from any vessel touching at a foreign port or place on account of the failure of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to comply with the provisions of this section, or with any rule or regulation made thereunder.

(j) Any person who shall willfully aid or assist any alien to land in the United States in violation of law, or who shall willfully conceal, harbor, or shield from detection any such alien seaman in the United States, knowing or having reason to believe that he is an alien seaman who has been ordered deported from the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both.

(k) Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to pay the head tax levied by section 2 of this Act for each alien seaman, or who shall refuse to deliver to the Secretary of Labor the sum of $10 for each alien seaman paroled as provided in this section, or who shall refuse to deliver to the Secretary of Labor the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman who shall not be returned to the United States by such master, agent, consignee, or owner as provided in this section, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such offense.

(l) The Secretary of Labor shall make such regulations and prescribe such forms of bond, reports, entries, and clearance papers as he may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, and may amend and change the same from time to time. Bonds or undertakings given to the Secretary of Labor under the provisions of this section may be sued in the name of the United States, and may be prosecuted and recovered in the manner provided by law for the prosecution and recovery of other bonds given to the United States.

(m) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel employed solely in trade between ports of the United States, or between the United States and the Panama Canal Zone, or between the United States and its possessions, except that the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, apply all or any of the provisions of this section to any vessel employed in trade between the United States and any of its possessions.

(n) The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refuse clearance to any vessel the master, agent, consignee, or owner of which shall have failed to comply with the provisions of this section, or with any rule or regulation made thereunder, and may withhold clearance from any vessel touching at a foreign port or place on account of the failure of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to comply with the provisions of this section, or with any rule or regulation made thereunder.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless specifically certified by the Secretary of Labor to the Secretary of the Treasury as a person who may be treated as an alien crew member entering temporarily as a member of the crew or otherwise to proceed in pursuance of law to a specified foreign port. Any such alien seaman remaining in the United States beyond the time certified by the Secretary of Labor shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except as provided in this section, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both.

(b) Front fines on alien seamen did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or fines for new reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be paid from such evidence to a limit of $1,000 for each alien seaman, and clearance of the vessel on which he arrived may be withheld pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such reimbursement shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act accompanies such application for clearance.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or consignee, or person in charge of the port of arrival, and each and every master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States shall, before any such alien shall be landed, cause a complete list to be made, containing the name, age, sex, calling, or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of every such alien, and the name of the vessel in which he arrives, and the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each alien, and shall cause such list to be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection of such vessel, and no such alien shall be allowed to land in the United States unless and until such list shall be produced to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection of such vessel, and such inspector shall indicate in such list the manner in which such inspection is made, and shall certify to the correctness of such list by his signature thereto, and no such alien shall be allowed to land in the United States if the immigrant inspector certifies that in his opinion such alien belongs to any of the classes excluded by this Act from admission into the United States, unless such alien shall be subsequently certified by a board of special inquiry to be entitled under the provisions of this Act to enter the United States. The manifest required by this section shall be in addition to any other list or manifest required by law. The master of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver such list, or who shall refuse to subscribe and deliver the certificate required in this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest (Form 583) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port, or other immigration officer designated by him. Such officer will then return the list to the master, retaining a duplicate copy for the files of the immigration service at that port. When no immigration officer is present, the list shall be delivered by the master to the collector of customs.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, officer, or consignee of such vessel, another list containing the names of all persons employed on board the vessel, and specifying the positions they respectively hold in the service of the vessel; the names of all persons employed on such vessel, another list containing the names of all persons employed on board the vessel, and specifying the positions they respectively were employed, and where they were born, and the last foreign residence of each person, which list shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival with the list of passengers required by section 12 of this Act to be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival; and such further information shall be furnished by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of the vessel in relation to the persons named in said lists as the Secretary of the Treasury may require, which list and information shall be in such form and contain such particulars as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe: and every such master shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the list required by this section, and shall subscribe and verify the same by his oath administered by such officer, and shall indorse upon said list the name of every alien included therein who may be entered in the United States after the departure of the vessel from the foreign port from which she sailed, and the name of the port in which such alien was entered, and shall report to the Secretary of the Treasury the name of every alien who may have been entered or landed unlawfully from said vessel, and such other information respecting the same as the Secretary of the Treasury may require. And the master of every such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list, or who shall refuse or neglect to indorse and report any such additional alien, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer questions or furnish information in relation to any such alien or aliens required by the Secretary of the Treasury or any person authorized by him to make such demand, shall pay to the collector of customs for each and every such alien concerning whom information is required which may be landed from said vessel before a permit from the Secretary of the Treasury or other officer authorized by him for the landing of such alien shall be delivered to the master of said vessel, the sum of $10

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector possible the vessel at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of charges to alien members for a consular (Form 683) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien has "workmen" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; to make oath to the correctness of such lists, and to answer such questions in relation to such immigration officer, in writing, as may be required by him, which lists and answers shall be filed with the records of the office of such immigration officer; and any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse to deliver to such immigration officer, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has not been listed as aforesaid, or who shall refuse to answer such questions, or who shall make false answers in relation thereto, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a certificate of discharge or a certificate from the consular officer of the country to which the alien seaman belongs or from which he last came to the United States, stating that such certificate was not demanded by him.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived was caused by the negligence of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in failing to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the name of the alien seaman, or the vessel in which he arrived, or in the event such alien is found to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease which would be detected by the examination provided for in this section if such examination were made at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port touched by it, or in the event such alien is found to be afflicted with any such disease at the time of his application for admission to the United States, unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel could not have known of the existence of such disease or defect, such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall pay to the collector of customs a sum equal to the cost of the return of such alien to the country whence he came, in addition to any other penalty or liability imposed by this section. The Secretary of Labor is authorized to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the execution of the provisions of this section.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a certificate from the consular officer of the country to which the alien seaman belongs or from which he last came to the United States, stating that such certificate was not demanded by him.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived was caused by the negligence of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in failing to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the name of the alien seaman, or the vessel in which he arrived, or in the event such alien is found to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease which would be detected by the examination provided for in this section if such examination were made at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port touched by it, or in the event such alien is found to be afflicted with any such disease at the time of his application for admission to the United States, unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel could not have known of the existence of such disease or defect, such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall pay to the collector of customs a sum equal to the cost of the return of such alien to the country whence he came, in addition to any other penalty or liability imposed by this section. The Secretary of Labor is authorized to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the execution of the provisions of this section.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a certificate from the consular officer of the country to which the alien seaman belongs or from which he last came to the United States, stating that such certificate was not demanded by him.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived was caused by the negligence of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in failing to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the name of the alien seaman, or the vessel in which he arrived, or in the event such alien is found to be afflicted with any such disease at the time of his application for admission to the United States, unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel could not have known of the existence of such disease or defect, such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall pay to the collector of customs a sum equal to the cost of the return of such alien to the country whence he came, in addition to any other penalty or liability imposed by this section. The Secretary of Labor is authorized to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the execution of the provisions of this section.

SEC. 39. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a certificate from the consular officer of the country to which the alien seaman belongs or from which he last came to the United States, stating that such certificate was not demanded by him.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived was caused by the negligence of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in failing to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the name of the alien seaman, or the vessel in which he arrived, or in the event such alien is found to be afflicted with any such disease at the time of his application for admission to the United States, unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel could not have known of the existence of such disease or defect, such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall pay to the collector of customs a sum equal to the cost of the return of such alien to the country whence he came, in addition to any other penalty or liability imposed by this section. The Secretary of Labor is authorized to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the execution of the provisions of this section.

SEC. 41. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons to be taken on shore (Form 528) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. "NONE" on arriving seamen is a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company; their nationality; the ports at which they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those so to be landed in the port of arrival; to list containing as much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each such master, agent, consignee, or owner, to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on such subsequent list of those, if any, who have deserted, and the circumstances of such desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, be punished by a fine of not exceeding $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a fine thereof is not made as above provided; but no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative unit prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said act prevail, been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, or bringing to such territory as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof shall be on alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a landing by such alien seaman in violation of law.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the owner of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien who is to be landed at that port, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have the right to require the master to verify such lists by his oath and to take such other and further proof concerning the right of any alien to enter the United States as may be deemed necessary: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe the forms of such lists and the additional information to be furnished, and may require the same to be certified by the consular officer last visited by the alien prior to embarkation: Provided further, That the master of any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each such alien, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension of any alien illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension: And provided further, That the master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to any such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel who were not employed foreign at the time of the arrival but who will leave port foreign at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been landed, and the ports where landed: and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to so deliver lists of the aliens employed, the master shall be liable to such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival in the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien assumed to be in the employment of such master, agent, consignee, or master to the effect that such alien has been refused a landing by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and the master of such vessel shall be required to return such alien on board the vessel that brought him to the port of arrival at his own expense: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe: And after the first day of July, nineteen hundred and seventeen, no master of any vessel shall be granted clearance papers until he shall have delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each such alien, and the amount of money in possession of each alien, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure shall have the right to require the master to verify such lists by his oath and to take such other and further proof concerning the right of any alien to depart from the United States as may be deemed necessary: Provided, That the master of any vessel may in case of the failure of any such alien to depart at the time of the departure of the vessel deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure a certified list containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel who have failed to depart with the vessel, and the cause for such failure so far as known or believed by the master, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure may thereupon grant clearance papers to such master: Provided further, That the master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required of him by this section shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien with respect to whom such list should have been delivered, but clearance papers may be granted by the collector of customs upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof before the departure of the vessel, and the decision of the collector of customs shall be final as to the amount of fine or penalty to be remitted or refunded: Provided further, That no fine shall be imposed while it remains unpaid upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which the alien arrived in the United States from which clearance is granted, or if such be not available, upon the inbound manifest of the vessel on which the alien departed from the United States, if the master shall furnish a certified copy of the list delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival: And provided further, That no fine imposed upon the master of a vessel arriving from a foreign port at a port of the United States shall be remitted or refunded except upon the production of a certificate from the immigration officer at the port of departure that the master has complied with the provisions of this section to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(b) The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund any fine or head tax erroneously collected, or remit any fine or head tax imposed, or any bond given, under the provisions of this section or of section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and he may prescribe rules and regulations governing the remission of fines and the refunding of head taxes and bonds.

SEC. 37. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws who may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

Such list is in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form 588) shall not be terminated on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an entirely accurate "nothing" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board the vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the said aliens who are to be discharged in the port of arrival; to list shall contain so much of such information as may be obtained by reasonable inquiry from the master, owner, consignee, or agent to whom the master of the vessel is subject in the usual course of business as to the nationality and last permanent residence of such aliens, and as to whether they have in their possession or have procured a ticket through to their ultimate destination, and as to whether they have the amount of money required by this Act in their possession or have been assisted by any other person or society in the payment of their passage or otherwise, and as to whether they are going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their names and complete addresses so far as known, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor from time to time to secure the proper execution of the immigration laws. Any master who refuses to deliver such list, or who refuses to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge any question therein propounded by any immigrant inspector, or who refuses to allow any such inspector to come on board for the purpose of examining any or all persons on board, or who refuses to detain any alien on board his vessel when requested so to do by any such inspector, or who refuses to deliver to any such immigrant inspector any alien on board his vessel when requested so to do by such inspector, or who refuses to detain any alien on board his vessel after notification not to land such alien from the United States, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom any failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of such sum as a bond duly approved by the Secretary of Labor may require and in such form as he may prescribe sufficient to secure the payment thereof. Clearance may also be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond duly sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Fines shall be liens against the vessels which may be libeled and collected in the district court of the district in which the vessel may arrive or depart, and clearance may be withheld from the vessel while any fine remains unpaid, except as provided in subdivision (c) hereof.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall find after investigation of the facts in any case that any fine imposed by this section should be remitted or mitigated, he shall certify his reasons therefor to the Secretary of the Treasury, who may thereupon remit or mitigate such fine upon such terms as he shall deem just.

SEC. 31. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place in the possession of the United States, except Panama, or the Canal Zone, or the Virgin Islands, or Puerto Rico, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or by reason of the public necessity, or in case of the substitution of such alien seaman for another seaman, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the protection of such alien seaman.

SEC. 32. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall bring to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall pay to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (unless such alien seaman is a resident alien entitled to land temporarily or permanently under the immigration laws) a hospital tax of $8 for each such alien seaman, which tax shall be a lien upon the vessel, and clearance may be withheld pending the payment thereof. Such tax shall be paid to the collector of customs and by him deposited in the Treasury of the United States and accounted for as a part of the head tax fund. Such alien seaman shall be entitled to hospital treatment at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived until he is adjudged by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to be cured of any disease or infirmity with which he may be found afflicted, and not found suffering from any disease which would endanger the public health, and shall be entitled to be returned to the country to which he belongs, or to the country in which he shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the said aliens who are to be landed in the United States, except upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor or such officer as he may designate that the case of such alien seaman has been given careful consideration, that adequate provision has been made for his proper care while in the United States, and that his presence therein is not unlawful to the interests of the United States, and then only for the period named in such certificate. Such certificate may be revoked at any time and the alien ordered deported after a hearing before a special board of inquiry appointed by the Secretary of Labor. Pending such hearing and decision thereon, such alien seaman shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall be liable to the United States for the cost of such detention. Upon the deposit of the cost of detention for a period not exceeding ten days in advance with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and at the end of each ten days thereafter during the detention, the vessel shall be granted clearance, unless sooner released or otherwise provided for by the Secretary of Labor. Such deposits shall be refunded less the cost of detention at the end of the period of detention. Clearance may be granted to the vessel upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or upon the filing of a bond or undertaking approved by the Secretary of Labor with sufficient surety to secure the payment of such cost when finally determined. Such seaman detained for observation in connection with any proceeding under this section shall not be deemed to have been landed in the United States during the period of such detention.

(b) Any master, agent, owner, charterer, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver any such alien seaman for hospital treatment, detention, or deportation in accordance with the provisions of this section, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with any regulation of the Secretary of Labor governing the administration of this section, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such refusal or failure.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find after investigation of the facts in any case that any fine imposed by this section should be remitted or mitigated, he shall certify his reasons therefor to the Secretary of the Treasury, who may thereupon remit or mitigate such fine upon such terms as he shall deem just.

(d) Fines shall be liens against the vessels which may be libeled and collected in the district court of the district in which the vessel may arrive or depart, and clearance may be withheld from the vessel while any fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of such sum as a bond duly approved by the collector of customs.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall find after investigation of the facts in any case that any fine imposed by this section should be remitted or mitigated, he shall certify his reasons therefor to the Secretary of the Treasury, who may thereupon remit or mitigate such fine upon such terms as he shall deem just.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board the vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the said aliens who are to be landed in the United States, except upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor or such officer as he may designate that the case of such alien seaman has been given careful consideration, that adequate provision has been made for his proper care while in the United States, and that his presence therein is not unlawful to the interests of the United States, and then only for the period named in such certificate. (d) Fines shall be liens against the vessels which may be libeled and collected in the district court of the district in which the vessel may arrive or depart, and clearance may be withheld from the vessel while any fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of such sum as a bond duly approved by the collector of customs.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall find after investigation of the facts in any case that any fine imposed by this section should be remitted or mitigated, he shall certify his reasons therefor to the Secretary of the Treasury, who may thereupon remit or mitigate such fine upon such terms as he shall deem just.

SEC. 37. That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations for the enforcement of the provisions of this Act, and shall have charge of all matters relating to the administration thereof, and may employ such assistants, clerks, and other employees as may be authorized by appropriations made for the purpose.

SEC. 38. That the Commissioner-General of Immigration shall annually make a report to the Secretary of Labor, to be by him transmitted to Congress, containing such information and data, in addition to that required in the body of this Act, as may be considered valuable in the administration of the immigration laws, and such recommendations as he may deem advisable.

SEC. 39. That the Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with any transportation company now engaged in bringing aliens to the United States for the return to the countries whence they came of aliens who may be excluded from admission to the United States or the Canal Zone, or the Virgin Islands, or Puerto Rico, or who may become public charges within two years after their entry into the United States, the cost of such return to be borne by the owners of the vessels on which they came: Provided, That no such contract shall be made with any transportation company now engaged in bringing aliens to the United States which refuses or neglects to enter into such contract when requested by the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 40. That the Secretary of Labor may enter into contracts with any State, Territory, or possession of the United States, or political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, for the support and care of persons who may become insane within five years after their entry into the United States, and who become public charges at the time they develop insanity, the cost of such support and care to be borne by the United States for a period not exceeding five years: Provided, That no such contract shall be made with any State, Territory, possession, political subdivision, or the District of Columbia which refuses or neglects to enter into such contract when requested by the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 41. That the Secretary of Labor may, upon the recommendation of the Commissioner-General of Immigration, establish such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as he may deem necessary for the protection of aliens in the United States and for the enforcement of the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 42. That the Secretary of Labor may, upon the recommendation of the Commissioner-General of Immigration, establish such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as he may deem necessary for the protection of aliens in the United States and for the enforcement of the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 43. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 31. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the sole ultimate deportation, removal, or departure of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 32. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall bring to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall pay to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (unless such alien seaman is a resident alien entitled to land temporarily or permanently under the immigration laws) a hospital tax of $8 for each such alien seaman, which tax shall be a lien upon the vessel, and clearance may be withheld pending the payment thereof. Such tax shall be paid to the collector of customs and by him deposited in the Treasury of the United States and accounted for as a part of the head tax fund. Such alien seaman shall be entitled to hospital treatment at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived until he is adjudged by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to be cured of any disease or infirmity with which he may be found afflicted, and not found suffering from any disease which would endanger the public health, and shall be entitled to be returned to the country to which he belongs, or to the country in which he shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the said aliens who are to be landed in the United States, except upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor or such officer as he may designate that the case of such alien seaman has been given careful consideration, that adequate provision has been made for his proper care while in the United States, and that his presence therein is not unlawful to the interests of the United States, and then only for the period named in such certificate. Such certificate may be revoked at any time and the alien ordered deported after a hearing before a special board of inquiry appointed by the Secretary of Labor. Pending such hearing and decision thereon, such alien seaman shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and the master, agent, owner, charterer, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived shall be liable to the United States for the cost of such detention. Upon the deposit of the cost of detention for a period not exceeding ten days in advance with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and at the end of each ten days thereafter during the detention, the vessel shall be granted clearance, unless sooner released or otherwise provided for by the Secretary of Labor. Such deposits shall be refunded less the cost of detention at the end of the period of detention. Clearance may be granted to the vessel upon the deposit of such sum as a bond duly approved by the collector of customs and sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Fines shall be liens against the vessels which may be libeled and collected in the district court of the district in which the vessel may arrive or depart, and clearance may be withheld from the vessel while any fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of such sum as a bond duly approved by the collector of customs.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall find after investigation of the facts in any case that any fine imposed by this section should be remitted or mitigated, he shall certify his reasons therefor to the Secretary of the Treasury, who may thereupon remit or mitigate such fine upon such terms as he shall deem just.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the fines imposed by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been paid, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act of May 26, 1924, has been made.

Write in the entries immediately above "NOTHING" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list or manifest of all the aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively examined by a medical officer, and the result of such examination, and such other information regarding them as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of such vessel at any such port it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who may have been employed thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of all such alien employees who have died during the period between the arrival and departure, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report is not made as above as to the payment of such penalty to such person as may cause him to be detained on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrives, but such vessel shall not be cleared by the collector of customs

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

(b) The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may prescribe rules governing the admission of aliens coming to the United States from foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands not specifically enumerated in section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and the transportation of such aliens across the borders of the United States, and the method of inspecting them at the ports of arrival, and may modify the provisions of section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, with respect to the literacy test of aliens coming from such territory or islands, but only to the extent necessary to prevent the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(c) Any person, including any transportation company, who shall bring to the United States any alien not duly admissible under the immigration laws, or any alien for the admission of whom a certificate is required by the Commissioner General of Immigration or the Secretary of Labor, which certificate has not been issued, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

(d) Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this Act shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and regulations made thereunder.

(e) Any alien who shall be found in the United States in violation of this Act or any amendment thereto shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and regulations made thereunder.

(f) Any alien who shall, after his entry into the United States, become a public charge from causes not affirmatively shown to have arisen subsequent to his entry shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and regulations made thereunder.

(g) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien assumes on the vessel or which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such person as may cause him to be detained on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrives, but such vessel shall not be cleared by the collector of customs

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seaman.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such person as may cause him to be detained on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrives, but such vessel shall not be cleared by the collector of customs

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such alien seaman.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be treated as clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

TAX. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens levied by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been terminated, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act therein, has been served, the deposit objected in rule 33 has been made.

That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the sixth company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the said aliens, if any, who have been detained in the port of arrival; or state conspicuously on such lists that no such aliens are employed on such vessel, which lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before any such alien shall be allowed to land, and such officer shall indorse upon such lists the name of every alien allowed to land, and shall report to the Secretary of Labor such other information likely to lead to his apprehension; and every owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel, and specifying the additional information required by the preceding clause of this section in respect of such aliens. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly authorized officer, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector assigned to this port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of members of the crew (Form 688) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is to be "worked" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in and now on board from and port to these ports; and I have read section 38 of the United States Immigration Law and of paragraph 2, subdivision (b), of Immigration Rule 8, which appears below.

Sworn to before me this ..... day of ..... 19..

..... Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of members of crew (Form 434) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an alternate address is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival lists containing the name of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively engaged or shipped, and absolutely those to be hand on and discharged in the port of arrival; or else containing the names of all the persons on board the vessel, stating whether they are citizens of the United States or aliens, and if aliens, whether they are in possession of immigrant visés or not, and such other information in regard to them as the Secretary of Labor may require for the proper administration of the immigration laws. Such lists shall be produced at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, or at such time before the arrival as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who are then about to depart on such vessel, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens employees with the intent that they shall not be detected in violation of the provisions of this Act, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien so to be landed, or who the time required by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor shall have elapsed after the vessel has been reported ready to depart, and in addition thereto the sum of $1,000 for each alien employee who shall have been discharged or who shall have deserted such vessel without having been granted a certificate from the Secretary of Labor, or from a person duly authorized by him to issue such certificate, and who shall depart on such vessel or any other vessel before a certificate shall have been granted by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized agent: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Head taxes as alien seamen did not obtain upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any three months' foreign, or from any port in Canada, Mexico, Cuba, or adjacent islands, or from any port through which he passed en route to the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or if he shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he was destroyed by accident while on board such vessel, or that he was taken sick and died on board and was treated at the expense of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, he shall not be liable to the head tax imposed by this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the time required by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to make such examination, or by reason of the refusal of such vessel to wait, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival is satisfied that such seaman intends to depart from the United States on another vessel within a reasonable time, and that such seaman has sufficient means to pay the head tax imposed by this section, he may cause such seaman to be detained on board such vessel or at the expense of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel pending the determination of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 33 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees, and masters, and as to all seamen, arriving at the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 8

SEC. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the taxes required by section 36 have been collected, and not then unless the master of the vessel or his authorized representative has prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 have been entered, and the deposit thereof in lieu of head taxes, if any, required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is refunded, but shall remain in force as to all vessels, their owners, agents, consignees, and masters, and as to all seamen, arriving at the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such relief as may be necessary on account of shipwreck, and no alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be granted a landing permit, or be permitted to land temporarily as provided in section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1917, unless and until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has investigated such alien seaman and found that such alien seaman is not excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, and that such alien seaman is in possession of a valid passport viséed by the consular officer at the port or place where such alien seaman last embarked, or that such alien seaman is in possession of a valid passport viséed by the consular officer at the port or place where such alien seaman first embarked on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or that such alien seaman is in possession of such other document as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor: Provided, That no such visé shall be required in the case of any such alien seaman who is in possession of a certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized agent, stating that the immigration officer at the port of arrival is satisfied that the alien is a bona fide seaman entitled to shore leave, and that the granting of such shore leave will not be inconsistent with the interests of the United States: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, by regulation, prescribe the conditions under which such shore leave may be granted, and the classes of seamen to whom such shore leave may be granted, and the ports at which such shore leave may be granted such classes of seamen: Provided further, That no such visé shall be required in the case of any such alien seaman who is in possession of a valid seaman's identity certificate issued pursuant to the provisions of section 2 of the Seamen's Act of March 4, 1915, as amended by section 13 of the Act of November 4, 1919, and who is in all respects entitled to the benefits of such Act, as amended.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate deportation, temporary, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was refused, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that a deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived if located the sum of $10 to not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Section 33 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all vessels that owners, agents, consignees, masters, and each and every of them shall remain liable to the payment of such fine, penalty, or forfeiture as may have been incurred under the provisions of such section prior to the enactment of this Act.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Any such blank in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of which members of crews (Form 524) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alleged accepted "stowaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, or the insular possessions of the United States, except seamen employed on board vessels touching at ports of the United States solely for the purpose of replacing members of the crew, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless specifically admitted as a non-quota immigrant under section 4 (c) of the immigration act of 1924, or specifically admitted as a seaman (other than a temporary visitor of the class described in section 3 of the immigration act of 1924) by the Secretary of Labor, or specifically admitted in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor and under such conditions as he may prescribe, to ship in the same capacity in which employed on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the immigration act of 1917, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, or the insular possessions of the United States, except seamen employed on board vessels touching at ports of the United States solely for the purpose of replacing members of the crew, shall before the departure of such vessel from any port in the United States cause all alien seamen employed on such vessel (except alien seamen employed on board vessels touching at ports of the United States solely for the purpose of replacing members of the crew, and alien seamen employed on board vessels touching at ports of the United States solely for the purpose of replacing members of the crew who have been previously inspected and admitted to the United States) to be inspected by the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and no alien seaman shall be permitted to depart from the United States unless and until he has been so inspected and admitted by the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may by regulation prescribe the ports at which such inspection of alien seamen shall be made, and may by regulation prescribe the time within which such inspection of alien seamen shall be made prior to the departure of the vessel from the port of departure, and may also prescribe the manner in which such inspection shall be conducted: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the physical examination of alien seamen in respect of whom such examination is unnecessary or impracticable by reason of the brief period of time such seamen intend to remain in the United States, or by reason of the infrequency with which such seamen visit the United States, or by reason of the fact that such seamen intend to depart from the United States within a period of time specified by the Secretary of Labor, or by reason of the fact that such seamen intend to depart from the United States at a port where such examination is unnecessary or impracticable, or by reason of the fact that such seamen intend to depart from the United States at a port where such examination is not required by the Secretary of Labor

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall have been reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport either after such requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel in which any alien shall come to the United States from any foreign port or place to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, their nationality, the countries they were respectively destined to, whether they have been in the United States previously and how long, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they have been in the United States or are going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and whether going to join relatives or friends or otherwise, and such other information as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the aliens named in said lists before the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival; and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall report to the Secretary of Labor all aliens who have been reported to him as being in the United States unlawfully, and all aliens who have been found by him to be in the United States in violation of this Act or of any other law, and all aliens who have been deported from the United States, stating the cause for such deportation, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien who is not in possession of the unexpired immigration visa required by section 2 of this Act, or who is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is an anarchist, or who believes in or advocates or is affiliated with any organization that believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who advocates or teaches the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, shall, in addition to any penalty prescribed by this Act, pay a tax of $10 for each such alien, which shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of the payment of the tax, and shall not be returned to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien arrived, but shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States to the credit of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver lists containing the names of all such aliens employed on such vessel, or to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to pay such tax shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each such alien, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such penalty and tax have been paid or the payment thereof guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien mentioned on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien he may cause him to be reported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to the country to which such alien belongs or the country in which he resided previously, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or it has furnished security to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 41. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the admissible detention of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on any vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall leave a hospital to which he was taken for treatment, or who shall leave the United States within five days after he has been certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital to which he was sent for treatment as able to depart, shall be taken into custody and deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to the country to which such seaman belongs or the country in which he resided previously, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or it has furnished security to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the admissible detention of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States on any vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall leave a hospital to which he was taken for treatment, or who shall leave the United States within five days after he has been certified by the medical officer in charge of the hospital to which he was sent for treatment as able to depart, shall be taken into custody and deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to the country to which such seaman belongs or the country in which he resided previously, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or it has furnished security to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any foreign port or place to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, their nationality, the countries they were respectively destined to, whether they have been in the United States previously and how long, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they have been in the United States or are going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and whether going to join relatives or friends or otherwise, and such other information as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the aliens named in said lists before the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival; and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall report to the Secretary of Labor all aliens who have been reported to him as being in the United States unlawfully, and all aliens who have been found by him to be in the United States in violation of this Act or of any other law, and all aliens who have been deported from the United States, stating the cause for such deportation, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien who is not in possession of the unexpired immigration visa required by section 2 of this Act, or who is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is an anarchist, or who believes in or advocates or is affiliated with any organization that believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who advocates or teaches the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, shall, in addition to any penalty prescribed by this Act, pay a tax of $10 for each such alien, which shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of the payment of the tax, and shall not be returned to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien arrived, but shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States to the credit of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver lists containing the names of all such aliens employed on such vessel, or to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to pay such tax shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each such alien, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such penalty and tax have been paid or the payment thereof guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department, and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector, posting the vessel at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members (Form 583) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien "woman" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, arranged and bracketed in the port of arrival in the order prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and showing the following additional information concerning each of such aliens: Full name, age, sex, marital status, calling or occupation, nationality, last residence, seaport for landing in the United States, final destination if known, whether in possession of a ticket prepaid to final destination, whether in possession of $50 and whether not over 16 years of age, whether going to join a husband, father, wife, mother, child, brother, sister, grandparent, uncle, aunt, nephew, niece, or cousin, and if so, the name, relationship, and last known address of such relative, whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when and where, whether ever before refused admission to the United States or deported, and if so, when and where, whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, the name and complete address of such relative or friend, whether the alien has a ticket to such destination, whether the alien has been assisted by any other person or corporation in coming, and if so, what person or corporation, whether the alien intends to become a citizen of the United States, whether the alien is coming for labor or any other purpose, whether the alien has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under a contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, whether the alien has a specific skill, and if so, what, whether the alien has been in the United States previously, and if so, when, how long he remained, and what occupation he followed while here, whether he intends to return to his former home after performing labor or service in the United States, whether the alien is a stowaway, whether the alien is coming in pursuance of a prepaid railroad ticket purchased by another person in the United States, and if so, the name of such person, whether the alien is in possession of a railroad ticket reading to a point beyond the boundaries of the United States, and if so, to what point, whether the alien has ever been in receipt of support from any charitable institution, public or private, and if so, what institution, whether the alien is a member of the anarchistic class or a believer in the practicability or propriety of overthrowing by force or violence the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether the alien is a member of the class of persons coming within the terms of the immigration act of February 5, 1917, relative to illiterates, and whether the alien is in possession of a certificate of admission issued by the proper consular officer, and the date and place of issuance of such certificate, and such other information regarding the identity, nationality, and history of such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States shall, before the departure of the vessel from the foreign port from which the vessel sails for the United States, report the name of all aliens employed on board such vessel, and the information required by this section concerning them, to the United States consul at such port, and no such alien shall be admitted to the United States from such vessel unless such report has been made: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly authorized immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the foreign port, and $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to the master at the time of departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, and $10 for each alien concerning whom any other error is made in the lists delivered to the master at the time of departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, which penalties shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be sued for and recovered by the United States in any district court of the United States within whose jurisdiction the vessel may arrive: Provided further, That clearance may be granted the vessel prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalties: And provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalties and the head tax provided for in section 2 of this Act: And provided further, That no vessel shall be granted clearance by reason of the provisions of this section while detained at quarantine on account of the existence of any infectious or contagious disease.

SEC. 37. That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, and under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, establish in connection with any United States immigrant station such hospital facilities as may be necessary for the proper medical examination of aliens detained at such stations under the provisions of this Act or the rules and regulations made hereunder, and may appoint such boards of special inquiry, consisting of not more than three members, as may be necessary to examine aliens regarding whom the immigrant inspectors in charge may entertain doubt as to the admissibility of such aliens into the United States.

(b) Every alien arriving in the United States from foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, shall be examined by the immigrant inspectors at the time of arrival, and if not clearly and beyond doubt entitled to admission shall be detained for further examination by the boards of special inquiry, and no such alien shall be admitted to the United States unless the decision of such boards be favorable to his admission: Provided, That such decision may be reversed by the Secretary of Labor on appeal taken by the alien or by any person in his behalf from the decision of the immigrant inspectors or boards of special inquiry within such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien arrested on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would cause undue hardship to such alien because he was employed on such vessel at the expense of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens employed on board the vessel (Form 628) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "foreman" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board the vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's company, when and where they were respectively examined and admitted, and their intended final destination, so far as known or ascertainable, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor from time to time. Any master who refuses to deliver such lists, or who refuses or neglects to report any alien employed on board his vessel, or who refuses to pay the tax imposed by this section, or who refuses to detain on board his vessel any alien when ordered by the Secretary of Labor, or who refuses to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival any alien on board his vessel when required by the Secretary of Labor so to do, or who refuses to detain such alien on board his vessel after notification by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof shall be filed as to seamen who do not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place or time which the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and a penalty of $1,000 shall be imposed upon the master for each such failure to so report any seaman on board such vessel unless such seaman shall have been left behind because certified by the medical officer at the port of departure to be unable to proceed on account of sickness or injury, and has been duly reported to the Secretary of Labor and his certificate procured and filed with the master's report, stating the name and last known address of such seaman, the port where left, and the sickness or injury complained of, and that he was personally examined by such medical officer and found unable to proceed on account of such sickness or injury, and that in his opinion he will probably be unable to proceed within two months after such report. Upon the receipt of such report the Secretary of Labor may require the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of maintenance and return to the country to which such seaman belongs, and such sum may be recovered from the vessel or master by suit or in admiralty, unless such seaman shall sooner have been returned to the country to which he belongs or have procured employment in the United States and been admitted therein by the proper immigration officer. Such deposit may be remitted in whole or in part by the Secretary of Labor if, in his opinion, the circumstances of the case justify such action.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, or that such seaman could not be returned to the country to which he belongs or from which he came within a reasonable time, and that such seaman is not likely to become a public charge, and that his testimony will be necessary in any prosecution of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived for violation of the immigration laws, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board or at such other place as he may designate pending the prosecution and disposition of such case, and such seaman shall be entitled to recover from the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel such sum as may be allowed by the court, not exceeding $5 per day for the time he is detained, as a witness fee, which shall be paid before the vessel shall be granted clearance. Such seaman shall be furnished by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel with such food as may be required to maintain him in health during the time he is detained on board the vessel or in such hospital or other place of detention as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be given all reasonable facilities to communicate with his counsel and friends, and to obtain such evidence as may be necessary for the preparation of his case, and shall be returned to the custody of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel upon the request of such master, agent, consignee, or owner, when the testimony of such seaman is no longer necessary, or upon the final conclusion of such case, and the payment of the witness fees of such seaman shall be recoverable from the vessel on which he arrived in the United States in the same manner as seamen's wages are recoverable.

SEC. 37. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board the vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's company, when and where they were respectively examined and admitted, and their intended final destination, so far as known or ascertainable, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor from time to time. Any master who refuses to deliver such lists, or who refuses or neglects to report any alien employed on board his vessel, or who refuses to pay the tax imposed by this section, or who refuses to detain on board his vessel any alien when ordered by the Secretary of Labor, or who refuses to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival any alien on board his vessel when required by the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof shall be filed as to seamen who do not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who were reported by the immigration officer at the port of arrival as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of the provisions of this section relating to the bringing in of such seaman, and a penalty of $1,000 shall be imposed upon the master for each such failure to so report any seaman. Clearance shall not be granted to any vessel until the master shall produce to the proper officer the certificate of the immigration officer at the port of arrival showing the shipping commissioner's agreement with each seaman discharged in the port, or explaining the absence of any seaman, and shall pay or secure to be paid to the Secretary of Labor the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a like report if none is made as above required; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid no such vessel shall be permitted to depart except in ballast, and such fine shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by process in admiralty.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted the vessel until the liens required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act already been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, certified by the Secretary of Labor from time to time, unless such seaman is in possession of a valid passport viséed by the American consul at the last port from which such seaman departed, if such a passport viséa is required by the provisions of this Act, or by such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and unless such seaman is in possession of a certificate from a consular officer of the United States at the last port from which such seaman departed, stating that such seaman has been found admissible to the United States under the provisions of this Act, or by such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and unless such seaman is in possession of a certificate from the immigration officer at the port of arrival

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 689) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

Sec. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said act having been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

Sec. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the persons named in the lists who are to be landed in the port of arrival; to list separately all aliens employed as members of the crew (Form 598) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien member of the crew is discharged from the vessel, either a description of such alien, together with the information likely to lead to his apprehension; and if illegally landed from the vessel, it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which the said alien had been concealed, and to report to such immigration officer before the departure of the said vessel from the port all aliens employed as members of the crew who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been landed, and the reasons therefor. It shall be the duty of the master of such vessel to report the illness or injury of any alien employed thereon, and the cause thereof, if known, and the name and destination of any alien who may die on board during the voyage, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the certificate of the cause of death required by the health officer at the port of departure. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined for each offense not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year, or both.

SEC. 37. That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper execution of the provisions of this act relating to the entry of aliens.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been paid or sufficient bond given to secure the payment thereof, unless notice of appeal has been taken as provided in section 25 of said Act, and in such case clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, or entering any port of the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of actual necessity, by order of the Secretary of Labor, or such person as he may designate for the purpose, under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof shall be filed as soon as practicable that no shipper upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such seaman as required by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every fine, or any portion thereof, which may be imposed upon the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel for bringing an alien who is not entitled to enter the United States, shall be a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by proceedings in the district court of the United States in the district within which the vessel may be found at any time until such fine is paid. The Secretary of Labor shall have the power to remit or mitigate any such fine, or cancel any such bond, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem proper, and his decision shall be final.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall have reason to believe that any alien seaman on board any vessel arriving in the United States may become a public charge, or is afflicted with any contagious disease, he may require such seaman to be detained on board such vessel pending examination by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and such seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except upon certificate by such immigration officer that in his opinion such seaman may be landed without danger to the public health or safety. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States without such certificate shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws. The cost of maintenance while on shore and of deportation of any such seaman shall be borne by the owner of the vessel on which he arrived.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall depart from the United States in violation of the immigration laws, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver a report after reimbursement by the immigration officer in charge of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly report is not made as above provided; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, inspector, or other officer of the vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively applied or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; to make oath to the correctness of such lists, and to the truth of the answers of each person named therein as to the matters about which inquiry is made by the immigrant inspector; and no master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of any such vessel shall refuse to any such immigrant inspector the right to come on board such vessel and to question any person on board thereof touching such matters. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of any such vessel who shall refuse to deliver such lists, or to answer such questions, or who shall make any false answer thereto, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refuse to grant clearance papers to any vessel upon which any person required by this section to be listed has been found who has not been listed as required, or concerning whom any person required by this section to make oath has knowingly sworn falsely, until such time as he may be satisfied that such person may be allowed to land without danger to the public health or safety, and may, in his discretion, require the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of any such vessel to give a bond in such sum as he may determine, conditioned to indemnify any person who may be injured by any such person who may land from such vessel and to pay the cost of maintenance of such person while detained, and to return such person to the country whence he came, and to pay any fine which may be imposed upon such person under the provisions of this section. Any person who knowingly aids or abets any person required by this section to be listed to land in the United States without inspection, or who knowingly aids or abets any such person to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department, and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of members of the crew of alien nationality who are employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively applied or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; to make oath to the correctness of such lists, and to the truth of the answers of each person named therein as to the matters about which inquiry is made by the immigrant inspector; and no master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of any such vessel shall refuse to any such immigrant inspector the right to come on board such vessel and to question any person on board thereof touching such matters. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of any such vessel who shall refuse to deliver such lists, or to answer such questions, or who shall make any false answer thereto, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refuse to grant clearance papers to any vessel upon which any person required by this section to be listed has been found who has not been listed as required, or concerning whom any person required by this section to make oath has knowingly sworn falsely, until such time as he may be satisfied that such person may be allowed to land without danger to the public health or safety, and may, in his discretion, require the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of any such vessel to give a bond in such sum as he may determine, conditioned to indemnify any person who may be injured by any such person who may land from such vessel and to pay the cost of maintenance of such person while detained, and to return such person to the country whence he came, and to pay any fine which may be imposed upon such person under the provisions of this section. Any person who knowingly aids or abets any person required by this section to be listed to land in the United States without inspection, or who knowingly aids or abets any such person to evade any of the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refuse to grant clearance papers to any vessel upon which any person required by this section to be listed has been found who has not been listed as required, or concerning whom any person required by this section to make oath has knowingly sworn falsely, until such time as he may be satisfied that such person may be allowed to land without danger to the public health or safety, and may, in his discretion, require the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of any such vessel to give a bond in such sum as he may determine, conditioned to indemnify any person who may be injured by any such person who may land from such vessel and to pay the cost of maintenance of such person while detained, and to return such person to the country whence he came, and to pay any fine which may be imposed upon such person under the provisions of this section. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 632) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "noncitizen" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 32. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport alien seaman by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman or the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport alien seaman by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman or the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act of May 26, 1924, have been complied with, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

This list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form 528) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold on the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those so to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and no alien employed on such vessel shall be allowed to land in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the said officer to go on board and question such alien members of the crew as to their right to land, and any such alien found not clearly entitled thereto under the provisions of this Act shall be detained on board or at such place in the discretion of the said officer as the Secretary of Labor may direct pending the alien's application for a writ of habeas corpus, and the cost of such detention shall be borne by the master of the vessel on which such alien arrived. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section or with any lawful rule or regulation made thereunder shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the existence of any fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every fine or alien seaman duly reported upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain at such place a lawful landing certificate from the immigration officer of the Secretary of Labor. Any owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to report, or make oath to the facts concerning, any such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 39. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment in a hospital of such exclusions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 40. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any foreign vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment in a hospital of such exclusions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act has been made, and such fine, if any, has been settled, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment in a hospital of such exclusions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, two lists of persons on board thereof, all of whom shall be duly examined by the medical examiners), setting forth the number of stowaways, the ports at which they embarked, and the ports at which they intend to disembark, the nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman (which information in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), so far as the same may be ascertained by the exercise of due diligence, and the name, nationality, and last permanent residence of each alien seaman employed on such vessel who is reported as a deserter or who has been left behind on account of illness or injury, and the name, nationality, and last permanent residence of each alien seaman on board such vessel who is destined to the United States, and such other information in relation to such alien seamen as the Secretary of Labor may by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and no alien employed on such vessel shall be allowed to land in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the said officer to go on board and question such alien members of the crew as to their right to land, and any such alien found not clearly entitled thereto under the provisions of this Act shall be detained on board or at such place in the discretion of the said officer as the Secretary of Labor may direct pending the alien's application for a writ of habeas corpus, and the cost of such detention shall be borne by the master of the vessel on which such alien arrived. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to report, or make oath to the facts concerning, any such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to detain on board the vessel (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), pending examination by the immigrant inspector, any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman or has been informed by the immigrant inspector in charge that such seaman need not be detained for special inquiry, or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense has been paid or refunded, by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, or that the cost of maintenance of such alien seaman pending deportation has been paid by the master of such vessel, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien membership on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively applied to or entered, and description (age, sex, and marital condition) of those to be landed in the port of arrival; or lists containing no much of such information as may be in the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which the alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with the information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of the vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of the place to which each is destined. Penalty for failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists, $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens required by section 38 of the Act of Eighteen 2, 1917, have been extinguished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fund prescribed by said section 01 to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act, having been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the multimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except one into Canada or Mexico by land, or arriving in Canada or Mexico by land and destined to the United States, who shall employ on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspection of such alien seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who shall land or cause or permit to be landed any alien seaman employed on board after such inspection or to whom such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Front such fine an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or is not in the possession of the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain at the port of departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of such other information as may be required by the immigration officer at the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such owner, agent, consignee, or master may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the Immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or other persons to be carried on vessels (Form 598) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternative address is given, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like manifests of all the aliens employed on such vessel, showing the respective ports at which they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged from the vessel at the port of arrival; to deliver to the immigration officer at each port in the United States at which the vessel may touch for additional manifests of aliens employed on board and destined to ports in the United States; to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of departure, or as soon as discovered, all cases in which such aliens have illegally landed from the vessel; strike a description of such alien, forbear, with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and report to the Secretary of Labor all violations of the provisions of this section. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver to any immigration officer a true and correct list of all the crew employed on board of any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, or who refuses to permit any such officer to go on board of such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the crew list, or who refuses to answer truthfully the questions contained in the manifest of all aliens employed on board of such vessel, or who refuses to deliver to such immigration officer a true and correct list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; but in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists required, or makes incorrect statements or omissions therein concerning such crew, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a sum equivalent to the head tax imposed by section 2 of this Act, whichever is greater, and in addition thereto, while it remains unpaid, not shall such alien be admitted to the United States: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1915, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by section 35 of the Act of February 5, 1915, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by section 35 of this Act has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place in the Panama Canal Zone, or any possession of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or interned in the United States as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory of North America to which the provisions of section 2 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917, relate, shall, before such vessel departs from the port at which it arrives, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens (which immigration officer may require to be subscribed by the master) on board such vessel, whether they are destined to the United States or not, and such information in regard to each such alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and such other information in regard to the movements of such aliens while in the United States as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Such lists shall be prepared at such time before the departure of such vessel from such port as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Such immigration officer may require the master to subscribe to the lists before a duly authorized officer.

(b) The Secretary of Labor shall by regulations prescribe the form of such lists, the information required thereon, and the administration of oaths in connection therewith.

(c) Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such lists, or who refuses to permit any immigration officer to go on board of such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the crew list, or who refuses to answer truthfully the questions contained in such lists as to each alien employed on board such vessel, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof shall be taken as often as may be necessary for the purpose of this section before any consul, vice consul, commercial agent, or consular agent of the United States, or before any officer of the United States in charge of any port of entry thereof, or before any officer of the United States designated by the Secretary of Labor for such purpose, and the Secretary of Labor may prescribe the form of such proof and the manner in which the same shall be taken and certified.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien assigned to or employed on any vessel or aircraft arriving at a port of the United States is necessary for the safety of life or property therein, he may, in his discretion, order that such alien be detained on board or at such port until such vessel or aircraft departs from such port, or until such alien is otherwise lawfully permitted to land in the United States, and the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel or aircraft shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 in case such alien is permitted to land in the United States except as provided by law or in pursuance of such order. Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal, amend, or affect existing laws or treaties relative to the immigration, exclusion, or expulsion of aliens.

(f) Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who refuses or fails to comply with any requirement of the Secretary of Labor under the provisions of this section, or any rule or regulation issued thereunder, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such refusal or failure.

(g) The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund any fine collected from any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel under the provisions of this section, or remit any bond or part thereof, or cancel any bail bond, where it appears that such fine was improperly or unjustly imposed or collected, or that such bond was improperly or unjustly required or exacted, or that for any reason the interests of justice do not require the enforcement of the penalty or forfeiture in question.

(h) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel solely plying between ports of the United States, or between ports of the United States and ports of foreign contiguous territory.

(i) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the sole purpose of taking on board or discharging a pilot.

(j) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the sole purpose of replenishing her bunkers, unless such vessel shall have been within the territory adjacent to the United States specified in section 2 of this Act within the twenty-four hours next preceding her touching at such port.

(k) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the sole purpose of receiving or discharging cargo, mail, or passengers, unless such vessel shall have been within the territory adjacent to the United States specified in section 2 of this Act within the twenty-four hours next preceding her touching at such port.

(l) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the sole purpose of obtaining supplies of food, fuel, or water, or for the purpose of undergoing such slight repairs as may be made without discharging passengers or cargo, unless such vessel shall have been within the territory adjacent to the United States specified in section 2 of this Act within the twenty-four hours next preceding her touching at such port.

(m) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the purpose of taking on board or discharging passengers or cargo, unless such vessel shall have been within the territory adjacent to the United States specified in section 2 of this Act within the twenty-four hours next preceding her touching at such port.

(n) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the purpose of undergoing such repairs as may be made without discharging passengers or cargo, unless such vessel shall have been within the territory adjacent to the United States specified in section 2 of this Act within the twenty-four hours next preceding her touching at such port.

(o) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the purpose of undergoing quarantine, unless such vessel shall have been within the territory adjacent to the United States specified in section 2 of this Act within the twenty-four hours next preceding her touching at such port.

(p) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the purpose of undergoing such treatment as may be required by the United States Public Health Service, unless such vessel shall have been within the territory adjacent to the United States specified in section 2 of this Act within the twenty-four hours next preceding her touching at such port.

(q) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the purpose of undergoing such treatment as may be required by the United States Public Health Service, unless such vessel shall have been within the territory adjacent to the United States specified in section 2 of this Act within the twenty-four hours next preceding her touching at such port.

(r) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the purpose of undergoing such treatment as may be required by the United States Public Health Service, unless such vessel shall have been within the territory adjacent to the United States specified in section 2 of this Act within the twenty-four hours next preceding her touching at such port.

(s) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the purpose of undergoing such treatment as may be required by the United States Public Health Service, unless such vessel shall have been within the territory adjacent to the United States specified in section 2 of this Act within the twenty-four hours next preceding her touching at such port.

(t) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the purpose of undergoing such treatment as may be required by the United States Public Health Service, unless such vessel shall have been within the territory adjacent to the United States specified in section 2 of this Act within the twenty-four hours next preceding her touching at such port.

(u) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel touching at a port of the United States for the purpose of undergoing such treatment as may be required by the United States Public Health Service, unless such vessel shall have been within the territory adjacent to the United States specified in section 2 of this Act within the twenty-four hours next preceding her touching at such port.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or for such time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or deport alien seaman as required by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel has sailed from the port of arrival, before the expiration of such time, or if the master of such vessel is unable to produce such alien seaman for deportation, the Secretary of Labor may, in the event such fine is imposed, apply if remains unpaid, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a fine proportionate to the number of such seamen for whom correct lists are delivered, but such fine shall not be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens provided by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been terminated, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 36 to the first prescribed by section 35 of said act, having been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or for such time as the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members prior to the vessel's departure (Form 630) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien claims it a "stowaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessels in the United States from foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board while in port. Such lists shall be prepared in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and the correctness thereof shall be sworn to before the immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered. All cases in which any such alien has been illegally landed from any vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any such alien who secretes himself on board and fails to appear before the proper immigration officer a sufficient time before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master, to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of all alien employees who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel, stating when and wherefrom. Respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, and specifying in which the port of arrival is located the name of the vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension: and failure to report to such immigration officer in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has escaped, or to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel, agent, consignee, or master, as aforesaid, shall be punished by a fine of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been intended, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act of May 26, 1924, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, or engaging in the transportation of such alien from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such legislation as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not appear upon the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall be found by the master of such vessel as a stowaway, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seaman in violation of the immigration laws, unless it shall appear that the master of such vessel has complied with the requirements of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman in the port to which he is destined, the master of such vessel shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover the expenses and need paid to his payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed at the port of arrival; or lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, which lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival; and it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel if any of the aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave the United States at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists herein required, he shall be punished by the Secretary of the Treasury, or any person designated by him for the purpose, by a fine of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fines prescribed by section 32 of said Act, if any, have been waived, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention, or for the sole purpose of obtaining treatment for such illness from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master permitted in the United States to land, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is ready to depart from a place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master permitted in the United States to land, such vessel may depart without the alien seaman, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman so left behind. Clearance may be withheld pending the payment of such penalty.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master permitted in the United States to land, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is ready to depart from a place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master permitted in the United States to land, such vessel may depart without the alien seaman, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman so left behind. Clearance may be withheld pending the payment of such penalty.

(f) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master permitted in the United States to land, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(g) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is ready to depart from a place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master permitted in the United States to land, such vessel may depart without the alien seaman, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman so left behind. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members before the vessel at the port of departure and delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members employed on such vessel, arranged and classified as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and shall be subscribed by the master of such vessel, who shall make oath before some immigration officer to the correctness of the same. Such lists shall show the full name, age, sex, calling, or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman employed on such vessel, and such additional information relative thereto as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall report the departure of any alien seaman employed thereon at the time of departure, and in case of the failure of such master, agent, consignee, or owner so to report such departure and the manner of such departure, he shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such immigration officer is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall depart upon the immigration certificate by the immigrant examiner, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the humane and orderly administration of the immigration laws, unless he shall have been granted by the Secretary of Labor a waiver of such requirement. Any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall, after such inspection or to the extent such inspection is waived, be deemed to be a passenger coming to the United States from such place outside the United States.

SEC. 31. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, the West Indies, Bermuda, the Panama Canal Zone, or the islands of the Pacific adjacent to the Canal Zone, shall be severally liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien not duly certified by an immigration officer at the port of arrival, or specially admitted by the Secretary of Labor, who is brought to the United States on board such vessel, and in addition shall be severally liable to the cost of maintenance and the expenses incident to the return of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not embark upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the immigrant inspector at such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but such evidence may be rebutted by the production of such seaman at any time within one year from the date of such rejection or failure to deport.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expenses shall not be treated as a fine imposed upon the vessel. Such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States at any port of entry thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the immigrant inspector at such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport either by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members employed on such vessel, arranged and classified as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and shall be subscribed by the master of such vessel, who shall make oath before some immigration officer to the correctness of the same. Such lists shall show the full name, age, sex, calling, or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman employed on such vessel, and such additional information relative thereto as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall report the departure of any alien seaman employed thereon at the time of departure, and in case of the failure of such master, agent, consignee, or owner so to report such departure and the manner of such departure, he shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such immigration officer is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expenses shall not be treated as a fine imposed upon the vessel. Such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fines prescribed by section 33 of said Act prevails been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the immigrant inspector at such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport either by the immigration officer at the port of arrival or at any time within one year from the date of such rejection or failure to deport. Proof that an alien seaman has been granted by the Secretary of Labor a waiver of such requirement by the immigration officer at the port of arrival is required by the immigration laws, unless it remains unpaid: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expenses shall not be treated as a fine imposed upon the vessel. Such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of cabins or other accommodations to be assigned to cabin passengers (Form 633) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving steamer is in charge of a pilot, the latter shall effect adequate provision for the immediate delivery of the list to the immigration officer.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien immigrant to deliver to the inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the crew's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are destined to the United States, except temporarily in pursuance of their calling as seamen, and the intended length of their stay; and it shall be the duty of each such alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien seaman deserts, and to render such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor relative to the same. Any master, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the duplicate to the payment of such fine; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall any vessel depart from any port of the United States without a clearance being granted by the collector of customs.

(a) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, to land the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien upon demand of the inspector of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived which could cause undue detention of such alien from the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, to land the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien upon demand of the inspector of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expenses shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 31. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness or injury requiring hospital treatment, or for such reasons as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, to land the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien upon demand of the inspector of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived which could cause undue detention of such alien from the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expenses shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been duly filed, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative has prescribed by rule section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall any vessel depart from any port of the United States without a clearance being granted by the collector of customs.

(a) The master, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, to land from any vessel such alien seaman employed on board such vessel who fails to detain such alien seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, to land the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien upon demand of the inspector of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived which could cause undue detention of such alien from the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expenses shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate deportation of each alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall furnish immigration officer in charge at the port of entry a list containing the name of each alien seaman employed on board the vessel at the time of her arrival at such port, and such additional information relative to such seamen as the Secretary of Labor may by regulations prescribe; and it shall be the duty of the master of every vessel bringing an alien seaman to the United States from any place outside the United States to deliver to each such alien seaman, before he leaves the vessel, a card containing a description of such alien seaman, together with such information likely to lead to his identification as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe; and it shall be the duty of each alien seaman to present such card to the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry at the time of his departure from the United States. Any master who shall fail to deliver any such card as required by this section, or who shall fail to deliver to the immigration officer at the time of her departure from any port of the United States a correct list of the alien seamen employed on board his vessel at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been discharged from such vessel since the last preceding list was delivered, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such port is located a sum not exceeding $10 for each alien concerning whom correct list was not delivered to a true report is not made as above required, to be recovered by the Secretary of Labor, for the use of the United States, by action of debt in the name of the collector of customs of the district in which the port is located. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing an alien seaman to the United States from any place outside thereof shall, in addition to the penalty above provided, be liable to the immediate deportation of such alien seaman to the country from which he came, to be delivered to the master of the vessel upon which he arrived, and the cost of such deportation shall be a lien upon the vessel, to be recovered as a part of the penalty above provided.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the contiguous territory of the United States to any place outside thereof, or shall be refused a landing in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall remain in the United States for a longer period than the period for which he was admitted, shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who become public charges, at the cost of the appropriation for the enforcement of such provisions.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall have reason to believe that any alien seaman has violated any of the provisions of this section, or that he may be found on board any vessel in the United States, he may issue a warrant for the arrest of such alien seaman, which shall be served by any officer of the Department of Labor or by any master or officer of the vessel upon which such alien seaman is found, and such alien seaman shall be detained on board such vessel or in such place as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor pending the completion of such investigation as the Secretary of Labor may deem necessary to determine whether such alien seaman has violated any of the provisions of this section, and pending the final determination of the Secretary of Labor in any such case no bond shall be accepted or any stay of proceedings granted.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the contiguous territory of the United States to any place outside thereof, or shall be refused a landing in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall remain in the United States for a longer period than the period for which he was admitted, shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who become public charges, at the cost of the appropriation for the enforcement of such provisions.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall have reason to believe that any alien seaman has violated any of the provisions of this section, or that he may be found on board any vessel in the United States, he may issue a warrant for the arrest of such alien seaman, which shall be served by any officer of the Department of Labor or by any master or officer of the vessel upon which such alien seaman is found, and such alien seaman shall be detained on board such vessel or in such place as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor pending the completion of such investigation as the Secretary of Labor may deem necessary to determine whether such alien seaman has violated any of the provisions of this section, and pending the final determination of the Secretary of Labor in any such case no bond shall be accepted or any stay of proceedings granted.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1915, have been terminated, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act thereof need thereof, the deposit specified in rule 25 has been made.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if alien be the duly of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer in charge of the port of entry there a complete list, duly sworn to before the consular officer of the United States at the port of departure, or if there be no such officer, then before the consular officer of the United States at the nearest port to the place of departure, of all aliens who are to be brought to the United States on such vessel, stating the nationality, the last residence, the final destination of each such alien, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether the passage is paid by himself or by others, whether he has in his possession money and how much, whether he is coming to join relatives or friends and if so what relatives or friends, their names and complete addresses, whether he has been in prison or almshouse or an institution for the care of the insane or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he has a ticket through to the place of his ultimate destination, whether he has been deported, and if so, how often and the cause therefor, the height, complexion, color of hair and eyes of each alien, and such other facts and particulars respecting each alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master of every such vessel shall at the time of the departure of such vessel from any foreign port or place deliver to the said immigration officer in charge a certificate signed by him and by the surgeon of such vessel, if there be a surgeon employed thereon, stating that the said vessel has been properly inspected by him and by the surgeon, if there be a surgeon employed thereon, immediately before the departure of such vessel, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief no alien on board such vessel has any contagious disease, and that no alien on board such vessel has been rejected by the consular officer at the port of departure, or if there be no such officer, then by the consular officer of the United States at the nearest port to the place of departure, and that no alien on board such vessel has been landed from any vessel during the journey to the United States, except as follows: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

The list described below will be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, but in all instances be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The list of changes of alien members to be given (Form 528) will not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members shall be written in ink or indelible pencil, and the words "NOTHING" and "NONE" shall be used on the manifest.

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or alien members of crew (Form 638) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate "motor vessel" is notified to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any alien at any seaport in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or consignee in charge of the port of arrival just concluded the names in full of all aliens employed on board the vessel as members of the crew or otherwise, their nationality, last residence, and intended future residence whether in the United States or elsewhere, whether they have been lawfully admitted to the United States or not, and such other information relative to such aliens as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which list shall be delivered to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and before the vessel shall be granted clearance or the departure permitted in the case of any alien crewman. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list or deliver a false list, or who shall refuse or neglect to report at the time of the departure of the vessel from the port any such alien crewman, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the proper officer at the time of departure of the vessel from the port a correct list of such alien crewmen as shall have been reported to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse or neglect to report the illness or hospital treatment of any such alien crewman, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer, at the time of departure of the vessel from the port, a correct list of such alien crewmen as shall have been reported to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse or neglect to make any report or furnish any information required by the Commissioner General of Immigration concerning the movements, whereabouts, and status in the United States of such alien crewmen, or who shall knowingly make any false or incorrect statement or report concerning the same, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board the vessel such alien crewman when ordered by the proper immigration officer, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such default occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum or the giving of such bond or undertaking as may be required to secure the payment thereof.

(d) Front and after an alien seaman has been duly admitted to the United States upon the conditions mentioned of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to which he belongs, or upon the vessel on which he departs from the United States, or upon any vessel to which he may be transferred, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman, unless it be proved that the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel has complied with the provisions of this section relative to the report and deportation of such alien seaman.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such seaman, or to the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is about to depart from the United States, he may, in his discretion, extend the time for the departure of such alien seaman for such period as he may deem necessary: Provided, That clearance shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or all payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board the vessel arriving at the United States from a place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land at the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as may render his removal to the vessel inadvisable as determined by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival, or for such time as may be necessary to secure his certificate of discharge or make such other arrangements connected with his departure as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or such officers as they may designate for the purpose, and shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens employed on board the vessel: Provided, That the master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such alien seaman on board the vessel when required so to do, or who lands or permits to be landed any such alien seaman (except in case of medical treatment or temporary illness as above provided), or who fails to report the illness or hospital treatment of any such alien seaman or the disappearance from the vessel of any such alien seaman, or who fails to deport any such alien seaman, or who violates any of the provisions of this section relative to such alien seaman, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman, or imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, and such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided by law. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall be found on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, without having been inspected by the proper immigration officer, or who shall land in the United States at any time or place other than as designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who shall enter the United States by means of any false or fraudulent papers, or by concealment aboard any vessel or conveyance, or in any other manner to evade any of the laws of the United States relative to the immigration of aliens, shall be deported as provided in this section to the country whence he came, or from which he last departed, or of which he is a subject or citizen, or in which he last resided, at any time thereafter, at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be returned to any port on the same or adjacent coast at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, upon the vessel bringing him to the United States or upon any vessel employed by the owners of such vessel or by the United States Government, or upon any vessel which will accept him for transportation at the request of the Secretary of Labor, and the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his deportation shall be borne by the owners of the vessel bringing him to the United States. Any alien seaman who shall be deported as provided in this section shall be deported to the port at which he was originally shipped, or to the country from which he came, or to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, or in which he last resided, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, and shall not again be admitted into the United States except upon such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees levied by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been transmitted and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act remain unpaid, the amount specified in rule 23 has been made.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as may render his removal to the vessel inadvisable as determined by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival, or for such time as may be necessary to secure his certificate of discharge or make such other arrangements connected with his departure as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or such officers as they may designate for the purpose, and shall be deported in the same manner as provided in the case of other aliens employed on board the vessel: Provided, That the master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such alien seaman on board the vessel when required so to do, or who lands or permits to be landed any such alien seaman (except in case of medical treatment or temporary illness as above provided), or who fails to report the illness or hospital treatment of any such alien seaman or the disappearance from the vessel of any such alien seaman, or who fails to deport any such alien seaman, or who violates any of the provisions of this section relative to such alien seaman, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination thereof on such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) From and after an alien seaman has been duly admitted to the United States upon the conditions mentioned of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to which he belongs, or upon the vessel on which he departs from the United States, or upon any vessel to which he may be transferred, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman, unless it be proved that the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel has complied with the provisions of this section relative to the report and deportation of such alien seaman.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such seaman, or to the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is about to depart from the United States, he may, in his discretion, extend the time for the departure of such alien seaman for such period as he may deem necessary: Provided, That clearance shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or all payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

When an alien entitled exempt a alienation to alien shall effect should be made on the manifest."

SEC. 36. That upon arriving to land in the United States from via foreign port to place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, steamship or other vessel in the United States to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists or manifests of all aliens who may be brought as passengers, which lists or manifests shall be made at such time and in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration as to the race, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, literacy, ability to read or write, sex, marital status, age, occupation, personal description, and health of each alien, and as to whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether his passage is paid by himself or by others, whether he has in his possession more than $50 in money, whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, how long he has been absent therefrom, whether he is going to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their addresses, whether he has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates or belongs to any class or organization that believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, and whether he is coming to the United States in pursuance of any offer, express or implied, to perform labor in this country, and such other facts as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration for the proper administration of this Act and the rules and regulations made in pursuance thereof: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each and every such refusal or neglect, and no vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of such penalty or while the same remains unpaid, but clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 2. Clearance shall not be granted vessel from which the master has neglected to deliver lists or manifests of aliens, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, including Canada, or entering at any seaport of the United States, except temporarily for the purpose of shipping from the United States as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 28. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing in the United States from any place outside thereof (including Canada, but not including transportation in connection with through passengers holding tickets for transportation beyond the United States) any alien seaman employed on board such vessel shall furnish to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for each alien seaman employed on board such vessel (which inspection or to the deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer, to the Secretary of Labor, or to any person designated by him, a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or while the alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(d) Every alien seaman shall not depart from the United States in pursuance of this section on any vessel other than that on which he arrived in the United States from a foreign port, or from any place outside thereof, or from any vessel on which he may be employed to any foreign port or place, without the written permission of the Secretary of Labor, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel violating the provisions of this subdivision shall pay to the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to a fine report if not made as provided; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of such penalty or while the same remains unpaid; but clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

Par. 2.
